SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLHOUSE

Pep Club Meeting
The girls' Pep Club met in the Senior room Thursday afternoon of last week. Pep Club hats have been ordered. These hats will be turned down in front, and have the word Kendrick across the front and back. The students names will be on them, also.

Sadie Hawkins Day Dance
The "Sadie Hawkins Day Dance" which will be held Friday, Nov. 14, is a "hard-times" affair. Skirts and blouses for the girls, while the boys may wear dungarees and sport shirts. Admission for couples is 5c, and for singles 10c. The gym. will be decorated with corn stalks, pumpkins and a scarecrow. Apple cider will be served.

Mrs. Lindquist and Mr. Racicot will be the chaperones.

Shelves In Science Room
Along the back wall of the Science room, Mr. Anderson and the Chemistry class built a number of shelves for the storage of chemicals and the microscopes.

Mr. Anderson said: "It doesn't represent the work of a union carpenter, but it serves the purpose."

Imogene Denny formerly attended Lewiston High school and is now a Sophomore in Kendrick High. She attended the Lewiston school from the sixth grade on, then moved to Juliaetta. She has a sister in the eighth grade and a brother and sister who attend school at Juliaetta. She said she is learning to like school at Kendrick.

Office Telephone
The office now has a new addition. A telephone has been installed on Betty Mustoe's desk. When the phone rings now, it sounds as if there were a Swiss bell ringer at work.

Frosh Return Party
Last Friday the Freshmen held their return party in honor of the Sophomores. The party began at 9:00 and was over about 11:00. Refreshments were served and a good time enjoyed by everyone. Mr. Anderson was the chaperone.

Hunting Vacation
This fall an experiment is being undertaken in an endeavor to maintain better school attendance during the month of November. Owing to the local hunting fever, school attendance that month has been poor. This year there will be no school on November 8 and 4th, which, tied in with the week-end, will give students four good days hunting at the beginning of the local season. After this hunting vacation is over, there will be no excuses granted for hunting purposes this fall. Many of our student hunters have expressed their satisfaction with this plan, and we hope parents and patrons of the school will be equally pleased.

American Education Week
Kendrick Schools have not observed "American Education Week" in the past due to the following reasons: 1. Much extra school time is spent in preparing for the ceremonies of the week; and (2) much regular school time is lost and the education progress that accompanies it, and (3) A true picture of every-day school life is not received here by the parents who visit school during this particular week, as much of the time is spent on "show" and "frills."

True, there are many nice features in American Education week as it is observed in many schools. And if the special effort which is spent thereby will help to attract parents to visit school and who otherwise would not, the effort has not been in vain.

Here in our schools we have always extended an open invitation to parents to visit school at any time. Many parents have responded, and we are pleased with the interest shown.

This year we are urging all parents, who have children in school, to visit school at least once during the year. This applies to men as well as women, and also includes the parents of high school students. We hope at least one parent of each high school student will visit school at least once and get a view of the class work of that age level. Let's make this "American Education Year" at Kendrick, and have parents visiting school every week.

Hot Lunch
Beginning with the present month, October, the hot lunch bills are to be paid by statement only. This is a state requirement and must be carried out to the letter — so beginning now — if you are selling goods or services to any of the lunch programs, please send us an itemized statement each month.

Sports
On Friday, Oct. 24, Kendrick met Ursuline Academy. The starting lineup for K. H. S. was as follows: Don I., captain, Ron C., Ron L., Roger C., Walt, W. and Orville M. Ursuline kicked off and it went out of bounds on the 20-yard line. Jim A., big 6-foot, 160-lb. freshman, ran the ball down to the 35-yard line. Ron C. took the ball and ran over for a touchdown. The Tigers made the extra point and Kendrick took the lead 7-0.

The score by quarters ran in Kendrick's favor all the way. In the first quarter it was 14-0; second quarter 21-0 and in the third quarter 41-13. In the last quarter Ursuline rallied but the final score was 47-20, with Kendrick in the lead.

The school was well represented at the game in both high school and junior high school attendance.

Eighth Grade News
Ellen Denny of Lewiston enrolled last Tuesday. We all welcome her. The eighth grade was well represented at the Kendrick-Ursuline game

Sarah Elizabeth Brewster was born Nov. 12, 1860, at Howard Lake, Minn., a ninth generation descendant of the Brewsters who founded Plymouth colony in New England. She was reared in Minnesota, and married Henry M. Lockwood at Howard Lake on Nov. 9, 1874. They moved to Idaho in 1905, settling at Lookout. Mr. Lockwood died 13 years ago. Paper May Be Late
Next week's issue of the Gazette may be a few hours late — due to the fact that we expect to carry election returns from the local precinct, as well as from the county — and setting that information, which will not be available to us until rather late Wednesday morning, will probably throw us a few hours late.

So bear with us, we'll put out that paper as nearly on time as possible.

Wounded In Action In Korea

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Roberts of American ridge have received the following letter from their son, Cpl. Leonard Roberts, explaining his being wounded in action in Korea on Oct. 14. They have kindly permitted us the use of portions of the letter, as follows:

October 18: . . . I suppose that by the time this note reaches you, you will have received a telegram from Uncle Sam saying that I have been wounded. Don't worry, as I am fine and in a month's time will be as good as new.

I'm sorry I couldn't tell you what was going on in my last letter, but L company was the leading company in the attack on Triangle Hill.

We started the attack about 6:00 a. m. the 14th. At about 7:00 a. m. a Chink hand grenade got me in the right leg between the ankle and knee. Altogether I have about 15 shrapnel holes but none large and no bones hurt.

They took me back to an evacuating hospital near Seoul and yesterday afternoon I hopped a plane for Japan. I arrived at this hospital last night. It is between Tokyo and Yokohama and a nice restful place. Soft beds and good food.

Today I would have been eight months in Korea, so don't expect to go back. In fact, I'm positive I won't. I expect to be here three weeks to a month.

. . . The medics and nurses are doing a wonderful job and are they swamped with Korean casualties. Everything is fine with me, so don't worry. — Love — Leonard.

Smooth Robbery Pulled
Sunday evening or night, some time after 8:00 o'clock, which was the time Mr. Baile, owner and operator of the Antelope Inn, closed up — that place of business was entered through the back door, and the thieves proceeded to make away with a 50c slot machine, some slot machine money from the changer at the bar, and the cash in the cash register — the entire loss being estimated at around $300.00.

Mr. Baile said the back door was locked as far as he knew — and supposed that some of his customers had set the stage by slipping into the room and unlocking the door returning later to gain entrance by merely walking in.

The machine itself, in a considerably battered state, was found in the Spalding Memorial park, where the thieves evidently hauled it for the purpose of removing its contents.

The glass "jack pot club" in a 25c machine at the club was also broken and the contents of this section taken.

The machine was chained down, but evidently a hack saw or bolt cutters were employed, and then carried out the back door. As the machines are heavy, it is presumed at least two, and possibly three, were involved in the robbery.

Tip to motorists: Say it with brakes and save the flowers.

WHAT JULIAETTA FRIENDS ARE DOING THESE DAYS

To Make Traffic Arrests
This week traffic tickets became a part of the records of our town — and are going to be issued in the future. It seems that local residents have become tired of Main street and some of the side streets being used as "race courses" by "hot rod" and other drivers, stop signs being ignored, turns made in the middle of the block and other violations, which have become so numerous that they can no longer be ignored.

So it behooves every driver to observe the rules of the road about town.

Weather Still Balmly, Dry
For some, perhaps, it may be said that this is the most wonderful fall weather that we have ever seen, the days remaining clear and sunny, with a high temperature of around 68 to 70 degrees, and night temperatures of 30 to 36 degrees, the former, the coldest night of the season, being reached Monday night, when 30 degrees was recorded.

Some trees are almost bare of leaves, others have most of theirs — and some are things of beauty, with golden and yellow tints visible among the bright green. However, since Monday night, they are falling faster and faster, and lawns are almost a solid mass unless they have been raked up by the home owners.

A trip around the countryside will amaze anyone, for the number of fields that have been plowed are astounding, very few remaining to be worked, despite the fact that as one farmer put it, "it's just like plowing up an old road, it's so hard and dry."

A great deal of seeding has also been done, and the wonder of it all is the green growth that shows, with some fields showing an almost solid cover.

It has now been almost 50 days since rain in any measurable amount fell in this section — and Henry Jones, deputy state fire warden, says the woods are still a real fire hazard, although the longer, cooler nights are helping, dew falling in the mountain areas in the form of heavy frost.

KENDRICK, IDAHO

Mr. and Mrs. Warney May, Jr., were Sunday morning callers at the Walter Benscoter home.
A week ago Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Warney May, Jr., were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Walter Taylor in Moscow.
Dr. and Mrs. Dan Guy of Lewiston were week-end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Benscoter.
Mrs. Bob Benscoter and children of Spokane were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Benscoter.
Mrs. Warney May, Jr., was a Saturday guest in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Glenn.
Mrs. George Havens returned Saturday from Pocatello, where she attended the State Home Economics Council meetings. She reports a most interesting and wonderful time.

Roads Are Terrible
Beyond a doubt the grades out of Kendrick are in the worst shape they have been in for many years — being a series of "wash boards" from top to bottom.
However, don't blame the maintenance men. The prolonged dry spell has made it impossible to do much of anything with them. The surface is so hard a blade won't cut it — and if the gravel is pulled in, the first car or truck up or down "kicks" the gravel out — and often over the bank, as well as adding to the danger of a skid, for loose gravel will roll on a hard surface.
After rain falls the roads can be put in shape — but in the meantime, if you wear false teeth, keep your mouth tightly closed when ascending or descending a grade!

Where Are The Birds?
"Where are those Chinese pheasants?" is the question being asked most often these days by local hunters, who, despite knowing the country, and having dogs, have had very poor luck bagging the gaudy big birds.
From all reports and appearance there should have been good hunting locally this fall, for there appeared to be a plentiful supply but as the season advanced, and farmers took advantage of the good weather to plow stubble fields, the pheasants apparently "took off" as their feed was turned under.
The only two local hunters of whom we have heard bagging their limit were Dee Miller and Dick McCall, and that in the Tom Beal section above Lapwai. Mostly, one or two birds is counted a good day!

C. C. Y. To Dedicate Fireplace
On Sunday, November 2, the Community Christian Youth will dedicate the new fireplace in the Community church basement.
The fireplace being a project of the group, all members are urged to attend and bring their parents. The meeting will begin at 7:00 p. m.
At the last meeting of the organization the officers for the coming year were installed.

Local Tomatoes Still Here
Local tomatoes (Juliaetta) are still to be found in good supply at stores in Kendrick and Juliaetta — and Don Gruell, who has one of the largest patches in the area, says his vines are bearing well, and have been touched only in a very few spots by frost!
The quality is excellent, not grainy and woody as might be expected. Let California tie this!

P-T. A. Dads Get Dander Up
Some P-T. A. Dads are a bit indignant over the fact their wives are getting credit for their work. Cause for their ire was in the reporting of the last P-T. A. meeting. Cecil Gruell, Darwin Tarry and Bill White are on the membership committee for the P-T. A. and it's their "gift of gab" that has won so many new members, and not their wives (as we reported in error in the last P-T. A. write up).
Our deepest apologies to these men!

Spruce Beetle Battle On
Private landowners, the lumbering industry, state governments and the federal government have launched a cooperative attack on the spruce bark beetle infestation in the spruce forests of the northern region, P. D. Hanson, regional forester, U. S. Forest Service, said this week.
Damage from the infestation might eventually be greater than the 1910 fires, the New England hurricane of 1938, or the Colorado infestation. A task force is organizing to fight this destructive beetle, red and black in color and somewhat larger than a grain of wheat. Working closely with federal agencies are the private landowners of the region, the Western Pine association, and the states of Idaho and Montana. Headquarters for the task force will be in Missoula.

Salvage operations have already begun on infested timber areas in order to utilize as much as possible of the wood for lumber or pulp on a commercial basis. Logging is expected to materially reduce the beetle population.
Nine billion board feet of spruce on lands of all ownerships in the region are threatened. The survey indicates that the infestation on many areas varies from 3 to 25 percent of the trees. There are areas in which practically all the spruce will be killed. The ability of the insect to increase to tremendous populations in one generation is indicated by the destructiveness of the present large populations. Light infestations are prevalent in some areas but entomologists point out that these areas are potentially dangerous.

Though prevalent in the spruce forests at all times, the spruce bark beetles are ordinarily held in check by woodpeckers and other natural enemies. The 100-mile winds of November, 1949, are no doubt responsible for the present infestation. These winds and subsequent storms felled great numbers of spruce trees in solid areas up to several thousand acres. There were scattered windfalls on more than a million acres. These blowdowns put beetle infested trees under the snow where the woodpeckers could not get to them. While the beetles multiply only in spruce trees, they sometimes attack and kill lodgepole and white pine. Boring in through the bark of the trees, eggs are laid in galleries chewed in the inner bark. There the eggs hatch into grubs. As the grubs develop under the bark they girdle and kill the tree.

Joint Demonstration Meeting
There will be a joint meeting of the Home Demonstration clubs on November 5, at 1:30 p. m., in the Firemen's hall, Kendrick. Helen Hunter will give a demonstration on "Christmas Suggestions."
The Kendrick Canyon Klub, Evergreen Friendship, American Ridge and Big Bear Ridge are urged to be present.
Anyone interested is welcome.

Think What Time It Is
 The next time you look at the clock, think about this:
 In every hour you work, just about 23 minutes goes to pay the excessive costs of Big Government — that's three hours a day — or 15 hours a week — eight days a month — more than three months a year out of your paycheck!
 Or, let's look at it another way: 23 minutes out of every working hour means that everything you earned by working in January, and February, and March, and part of April — went for Federal taxes!
 Yesser, 23 minutes every hour, three hours every day! As the say-in goes, "that ain't hay!"
 Maybe we'd all better start watching this Tax Clock a little more closely. It would be even worse with an $85 billion Federal budget.
 Big government means higher taxes and less freedom! — The Family Tree.

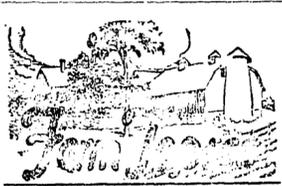

Our Note: Maybe you don't believe the foregoing statements, but stop and figure just a bit. Not only does the "23 minutes per hour" include income taxes, but taxes on light bulbs, phone calls, tires, gasoline, oil, electricity, and myriads of others — most of which are so successfully hidden that few realize they are paying them — and charge them up to the "high cost of living."

When a tightwad has to part with a dollar today, it only costs him about 42¢ worth of anguish.

Aerial Crop-Control Is Booming Industry
 25,000,000 Acres Were Treated in U.S. in '51

A Midwest wheat tract was so overrun with weeds that the farmer was about to plow it under. He decided, however, to try treating it with 2,4-D and hired an aerial crop-control specialist to apply the chemical at a cost of $2 an acre. The result: at yield of 20 bushels of grain per acre.

Other instances: Aerial spraying of weed-killing chemicals enabled a southern cotton planter to cut hoeing costs from $14 to $6.50 an acre while a California citrus grower improved his lemon crop by spraying his orchards from the air.

Agricultural aviation is a booming new industry that is enabling the farmer to substantially increase crop acreage, I. J. Beonel, agricultural research director for the Freeport Sulphur Company, reports. Beonel pointed out that more than 25,000,000 acres of U.S. crop, range and forest land were treated last year with chemicals sprayed or dusted by airplane.

The above photograph shows aerial dusting of an orchard. This method of insect control is becoming more popular with farmers throughout the country.

Some 6,000 pilots are engaged in the aerial battle against insect pests, weeds and plant diseases. And they are doing the job faster, more efficiently and in many instances at lower cost than ground distribution of insecticides, fungicides and herbicides.

How to Make Home Piano Appear Less Conspicuous

How to make your piano as decorative as it is musical is often a problem in home decorations, points out Mrs. Kate C. Archer, extension specialist in home furnishings, Kansas State college, Manhattan. With the introduction of the new spinet-type pianos much better arrangements are possible, as well as novel ways of placing the old upright models.

"If your upright piano has a beautiful finish and a nice grace of line it is most pleasing with no decorative articles on it," says Mrs. Archer. "If any articles are placed on top of it, they should be low ones. The horizontal picture is best above a piano."

"However, if your upright is quite undistinguished you might consider painting it the same hue as walls, or picking up the background color of the wallpaper. Pianos can be used as space dividers between living and dining rooms or may be placed in an alcove in a bedroom."

Sometimes it is satisfactory to build in a space that fits the piano with wall space on either side given over to radio or record player or book cases. Such a musical group, with chairs placed for easy listening, is a nice solution.

A piano always appears larger when it is against a narrow wall space, particularly between two doors or two windows; when the end is close to an entrance; when it is against the best-lighted or most prominent wall when it is across, or when it stands alone against a long wall without other furniture near it.

'Big Top' Grows Bigger, Circuses Become Scarcer

Are new dangers looming for the high wire walkers of the circus, the daring bareback riders, and death-defying trapeze artists? Yes, say the "big top's" friends, but not in the form of the ever-present risks to individual performers. The fear is that a slow process of attrition may be menacing the circus itself.

A half dozen circuses have closed during the current season. Only 10 are left of the scores which once flourished in the U.S.

America's spangled show of feats and freaks, of wild animals and wistful clowns, has had many ups and downs since it first took to railway wheels more than three quarters of a century ago. Today the paradox of the "Greatest Show on Earth" is that, while numbers dwindle and costs mount, the remaining outfits grow bigger and more spectacular.

Last year the largest of the rolling shows travelled some 19,000 miles, used 32 railroads, and gave 415 performances before nearly 3,500,000 people. It carried motorized caravans of set-up seats, and spread the world's biggest piece of canvas—30,000 square yards of it—in a tent that can now be raised by mechanical stake drivers and tractor power.

Early Railroads

The earliest railroads in the United States were built of wooden rails capped with thin strips, or "straps," of iron to provide a running surface for the wheels. These were called "straprails." Iron rails 18 feet in length were imported from England as early as 1831. The first iron rails of American design were rolled in the United States in 1844. By 1850 most railroads were being built of iron rails. The first Bessemer steel rails manufactured in the United States were rolled at the North Chicago Rolling Mills on May 25, 1865, and by 1880 about 30 per cent of all tracks in the United States were laid with steel rails. At the end of another ten years, 80 per cent of the country's mileage was equipped with steel rails, and by the late 1890's steel had almost completely replaced iron.

It's in the Finish

Simulated pearls are no longer thought of as imitations, but as fashion accessories, acceptable in themselves. The impression of depth and softness in a pearl is the result of light reflections from a multitude of paints within the pearly film, making it impossible to focus on any single layer. In simulated pearls, this effect is conveyed by layers of crystals incorporated in the finish which is applied to plastic and glass beads. The crystals used are guanine or pearl essence crystals. They are obtained from fish scales and are only 40 millionths of an inch in thickness.

Gregorian Calendar

In 1582, Pope Gregory VIII ordained a simple reform. Astronomers showed him that the sun-year is some 11 minutes less than 365 1/4 days. In the course of a dozen Julian centuries, spring's first day had moved forward from March 21 to March 11.

To correct this, Gregory directed that October 4, 1582, be followed by October 15, and that leap-year days be omitted in the last year of each century except years divisible by 400 (as 1600). His reform reduced the annual error to 26 seconds, which will add up to one day by about 4900 A.D.

Chicago Feeder Sale Nets Over $1 Million
 257 Carloads Feeder Calves Are Exhibited

A record 257 carloads of feeder calves sold for well over a million dollars at the 7th annual Chicago Feeder Cattle Show and Sale, held at the Chicago Stock Yards.

Largest feeder cattle event in the nation, the expanding show and sale entry list exceeded last year's record by over a hundred carloads. It also pointed up the expanding beef industry and the interest in improved breeding.

The grand champion carload of feeder calves in the show were exhibited by veteran cattleman Fred

Mr. and Mrs. Fred DeBerard pose with their blocky Hereford calves that were judged grand champion carload of the Chicago Feeder Cattle Show and Sale.

C. DeBerard of Kremmling, Col. A Wanatah, Indiana, cattle feeder, bought DeBerard's blocky prize-winning Herefords for $85 per cwt. The grand champion calves averaged 428 pounds.

The auction brought an average of $42.11 per cwt. for 257 loads of cattle, $4.69 per cwt. higher than last year's average. The average weight was 485 pounds. Sales totaled $1,050,633.

Steer calves, numbering 132 loads, averaged $46.48 per cwt. while 50 carloads of heifer calves averaged $44.15 per cwt.

Americans May Eat More Meat in Next 12 Months

The average American may eat even more meat and poultry in 1952 than in 1951, if advance production figures are any indication.

According to a forecast of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, meat production this year may be large enough to provide an average of 144 pounds per person as compared with 141 pounds in 1951.

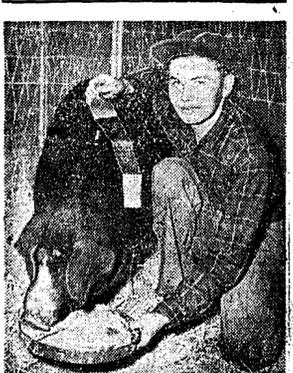

Most of the meat increase will be in beef and veal. Much of the step-up in beef will be in medium and lower grades, although some of it probably will be in the better grades of grain-fed cattle.

The amount of lamb and mutton eaten by the average American is expected to go up slightly. Last year consumption of lamb and mutton was the lowest on record—only slightly over 3 pounds per person.

A little more pork may be on the market in the first seven or eight months of 1952 than in 1951, but production for the last part of the year may be somewhat smaller.

Americans will also probably eat more chicken and turkey. Production of turkeys for 1952 may exceed the record-high 1951 level, but output of chicken is expected to be about the same.

Champion Barrow

Experts Forecast Greater Cattle Slaughter in 1952

In the outlook for meat animals, 1952 may be a pivotal year when new or modified trends in meat production take place, experts report. The present low slaughter rate and large farm inventories are setting the stage for a substantial increase in slaughter in future years. The big question is how soon and what its price effect will be? In all probability cattle slaughter will increase in 1952 for the first time in five years.

Store Unused Tractors Under Shelter in Winter

If you want to ruin your tractor in a hurry, just let it sit outdoors, exposed to the weather, this winter.

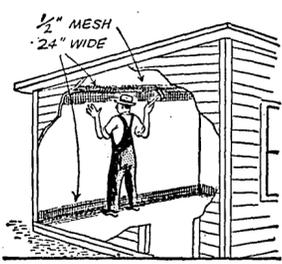

Farm machinery specialists say no amount of tough use will wear out your tractor as fast as leaving it out in the rain and snow.

Tractors are fairly expensive and may be hard to get. So, if you're not going to use your machine this winter, it will pay you well to find storage space for it in some building. Clean the machine thoroughly, especially the motor, and then store it in a dry protected place.

Block up the tractor to take the weight off the tires. Then drain the radiator, block, gas tank, fuel lines and carburetor. Put fresh oil in the crankcase and add a rust inhibitor.

Most important of all, remove the spark plugs and pour one-fourth cut of light oil or kerosene in each cylinder. Then turn the crank a few times to work the oil around the rings and pistons, and replace plugs. Cover the exhaust pipe and crankcase breather pipe with old rags to keep out dirt and moisture.

Rodent Proof

If wire mesh is applied to joining sections of a poultry house, it will help keep the building free of rodents. The mesh is applied at the floor and ceiling line as shown in the above illustration and should be well nailed.

Farmers Are Advised To Store Fertilizer

Farmers are still being advised to buy and store sufficient chemical fertilizer to meet their needs during the next 12 months. The supply is expected to be somewhat limited. Be sure it is stored in a dry place where there is little temperature variation, don't pile it any higher than five or six bags, and never pile it on the ground or even a concrete floor—the ideal storage place is an elevated wooden platform.

Low Cost Essential For Farm Building Concrete Blocks Filling Farm Construction Needs

Concrete blocks are being used more and more in the construction of farm buildings, according to American Builder magazine.

They have been found very serviceable for dairy barn construction, low in first cost and in upkeep.

Attributes that contribute to concrete's value as a building material on the farm are its durability, cleanliness, and weather and insect resistant qualities. Concrete foundations, masonry unit walls, concrete floors, and precast floor joists can be utilized to construct enduring farm structures and to repair old ones.

Dairy barn of concrete blocks and with a roof of fire-resistant asphalt shingles provides an efficient structure low in cost and in upkeep.

If a dairy barn is well-constructed and insulated, body heat of the cows would keep interior temperatures at 45 to 50 degrees in almost any kind of weather.

Lightweight aggregates in monolithic concrete or in masonry units, vermiculite floors and underlayers, hollow core walls, and masonry units with granular loose-filled cores all have qualities that can contribute to the efficiency of rural buildings.

Less Than Half of U.S. Farm Homes Have Baths

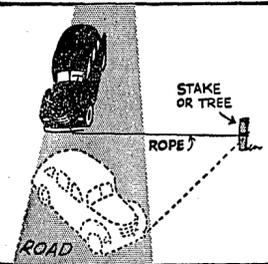

Less than one-half of the nation's more than 4,000,000 farm homes have baths and only half of the rooms are heated, a study of rural housing accommodations revealed.

Excessive standardization to relieve early postwar housing shortages resulted in the building of mediocre farm homes of rectangular, box-like design with too small rooms, too little privacy and absence of adequate plumbing and heating facilities.

However, under impetus of a U.S. department of agriculture program, farm house plans have recently been developed that are expected to fulfill the fundamental requirements. The new plans call for space, equipment and storage facilities in proportion to the number of persons in the family.

Coupled with the benefits of a 10-year electrification program that has brought electricity to 75 per cent of the farm homes, this new home designing will open an untapped market for manufacturers of automatic equipment and home appliances.

Pull Out the Car

Although most farmers these days live on a hard surfaced road, there may be an occasion when it would be necessary to pull a car or tractor out of a ditch. The above illustration shows how to get out of that ditch with the least amount of effort. A tow rope hitched to the front end of the car and tied to a stake or tree at right angle at the side of the road, will give you the leverage to get out of almost any place without help.

Crested-Wheatgrass Seed Production Reported Up

The 1950 production of crested-wheatgrass seed is estimated at 5,330,000 pounds of clean seed. This is 5 per cent larger than the 1949 production of 5,090,000 pounds. Larger crops than last year reported for North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana, more than offset the smaller crops indicated for Nebraska, Colorado and Washington. The Colorado crop was near failure in 1950.

from General Eisenhower

ONCE before I had the honor and duty of leading a crusade for human freedom and dignity — in Europe during World War II.

That crusade was won not by Generals and Admirals, but by the blood and effort of American G. I.'s and all the other forces fighting for freedom. Now in 1952 a different call to duty has honored me — as Republican nominee for President of the United States.

This time the effort is civilian — not military. But again, the crusade will be won not by me nor by the political leaders, but by everyday Americans who value their National heritage and are willing to go to the polls and vote to protect it!

American Inventions Make For Better Living Standard

During the period prior to World War II, when Adolph Hitler was building up an arsenal of weapons with which he hoped to conquer the world, a nuclear physicist at the University of Berlin had an idea for a death-ray gun.

The only thing wrong with the idea was that the inventor intended to use the death rays to kill micro-organisms that spoil food. Hitler wasn't interested.

America thrives on inventions that promote health and make for better living. It provides a Patent System as an incentive for such inventions. Dr. Arno Brasch, the nuclear physicist with the death-ray idea, and his associate, Dr. Wolfgang Huber, left Berlin for New York 12 years ago.

Food is an important item of trade, here, and financial interests backed the two physicists in developing their electronic gun to the extent of a half-million dollars. They rented an icehouse on Long Island and scrounged the area for hard-to-get parts required for their electrical apparatus. The pilot model, resembling somewhat the steel skeleton of a skyscraper, began to tower toward the third-story ceiling. Near this was a cylindrical structure, tapering in sections to the top.

Out of this combination of transformers, insulators, and giant electronic tubes there protruded something similar to the muzzle of a gun, aimed straight down to hit the target directly underneath. A 220-volt house current was thus stepped up to shoot 3,000,000 volts.

It was five years ago that this amazing gun began its operation of shooting electron bullets into specimens of food.

Poison Deaths of Children
Caused by Careless Parents

Parental carelessness plays a big part in the more than 600 deaths of children each year due to the accidental swallowing of poison, according to Dr. Jay M. Arena of Durham, N. C.

Dr. Arena is associate professor in the department of pediatrics, Duke University School of Medicine and Duke Hospital.

"Children who survive the ingestion of poison may be left with permanent disabilities," he added.

"Poisons contained in household agents are responsible for most of the deaths and disabilities. If all drugs and household agents that contain poison were made inaccessible to children, such poisonings could be almost entirely prevented."

Lye, he explained, is one of the most common causes of poisoning in childhood. During the first 18 years of the Duke Hospital, more than 136 children were treated for stricture of the esophagus caused by swallowing lye. Many of these cases were due to sodium hydroxide in washing powders, drainpipe cleaners or certain paint removers.

Among other causes of childhood poisonings listed by Dr. Arena are the following: strong acid, kerosene, iodine, strychnine, phenolphthalein, barbiturate, salicylate, aniline dye, lead, and mercury.

Farm Land Boom

Farm land prices on an over-all basis may have experienced a record rise over the last decade, but the increases varied widely as between one section of the country and another, according to figures compiled by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The boom was led by eight states, headed by Kentucky, which enjoyed increases of more than 200 per cent between the 1935-39 average of dollar farm land valuations and July of this year. More than half these states are in the South. Thirteen others, mostly in the South and Middle West, showed rises of between 150 and 200 per cent, and fourteen more between 100 and 150 per cent. The remaining thirteen showed gains of less than 100 per cent.

High Hat

The expression "to high hat" or be snobbish toward one of lower rank probably goes back before the days when the top hat became a symbol of wealth and social position. The rank of a Spanish lady in the latter days of the Roman Empire could almost be measured by the height of her head covering. The more important the lady, the higher her turban towered above her head.

Sea Food

The ocean contains enormous quantities of small plants and animals, many of them microscopic in size, which cannot swim but float with the tides and currents. These are called "plankton" and they form the principal food of various whales, as well as sharks and many other kinds of fishes. The animal plankton is said to have a nutritive value equal to the best meat, since they consist largely of protein, while the plant plankton equal rye flour. The main difficulty seems to be in harvesting. A biologist who studied the matter has said that to meet the normal food energy requirements of one person would require the animal plankton each day from a volume of ocean water equal to an area the size of a football field, and about five feet deep.

Oklahoma Youth Is U. S. Star Farmer

Other Young Farmers Are Honored by FFA

Harold DeWayne Hodgson, 20-year-old farmer and Hereford cattle breeder of Freedom, Okla., was named Star Farmer of America during the 24th annual national FFA convention at Kansas City. He received an award of $1,000 for being named the outstanding future farmer of the country.

Three other young farmers received awards of $500 each as Star Farmers of their respective regions. They are George Williams, 19, of Nicholasville, Ky.; Joe Harris, 20, of Eagleville, Calif.; and Ralph G. Sanner, 21, of Kutztown, Pa.

Harold DeWayne Hodgson, 20, Star Farmer of America, owns a 320-acre farm and rents an additional 255 acres.

The Star Farmer awards are made annually and are the highest recognition given to FFA members. The winners were chosen from 295 candidates. Outstanding accomplishments in farming, and rural leadership, along with evidence of the youth's successful establishment in farming are the principal considerations used in determining winners of the awards.

Hodgson owns a 320-acre farm and operates an additional 255 acres of rented land.

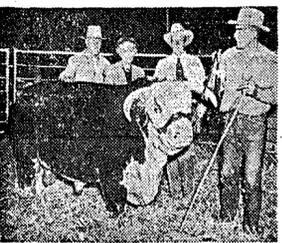

Engineer Suggests Way To Meet Labor Shortage

The nation's farmers next year will be asked to maintain a high standard of production and will again be faced with a severe labor shortage of several hundred thousand workers.

Here are four suggestions by which production can be maintained:

1. More efficient use of management and labor. There were a lot of chuckles when the efficiency experts started working for industry, counting steps and clocking movements. As a result of their work, however, our industries are the most efficient in the world.
 2. Increase mechanization. In normal times, the answer to labor shortages has been increased mechanization. If we get the machinery, it is still a partial answer.
 3. Efficient building arrangement. Time and labor required around buildings has changed little in the last 50 years.
 4. Survey of urban districts and rural towns. You can often find laborers in rural towns.
- The farmer who surveys his needs and acts on these suggestions can solve his labor problems.

Record Price

Next Few Weeks Is Time For Cattle Louse Control

The next few weeks is the ideal time for cutting the life span of cattle lice that are at their peak during winter months. If animals are not treated for this pest and profit-robbing, they will reflect poor signs of progress. Mature cattle on feed will not gain properly and young stock and calves will not grow normally. In addition, the cattle will have a general unthrifty appearance.

Michigan Farmer Named 'Wheat King'

First U.S. Grower To Win in 23 Years

Harold A. Metcalf, 31-year-old Fairgrove, Michigan, farmer brought the world's wheat growing championship back to the United States for the first time in 23 years when his sample of Yorkwin, a soft winter wheat variety, was adjudged the best at the recent International Live Stock Exposition at Chicago.

At the same show Willard C. Kirk, 53, of Jeffersonville, O., won the title of corn king, the first Ohioan in history to win.

The new wheat king reports "good seed, good fertilizer and plenty of elbow grease" were the recipe for his success. His wheat weighed 60.5 pounds to the bushel. This was the first time he had even exhibited at the show.

Another Michigan farmer, Lee D. Ferden of Chesaning, near Saginaw, won the reserve championship.

Metcalf was the first U.S. farmer to be crowned wheat king since 1928. In all the years since, the championship has gone to Canadian wheat growers.

The corn king had been exhibiting at the show since 1922, but this was his first major prize. His prize-winning corn was an Indiana 944-D Hybrid.

Kirk limed his corn land at the rate of three tons per acre and added 300 pounds of 3-12-12 fertilizer per acre to the corn in the row at planting time.

Competing with entries from hundreds of growers in the United States and Canada, Kirk's corn had superior finish and luster.

The champion farms 335 acres, about 90 acres planted to corn. His

Willard C. Kirk

4-year-rotation includes corn, wheat or oats and two years of red clover and alfalfa. He feeds all the corn, wheat, oats and forage to hogs, sheep and beef cattle and returns all the manure to the land.

Champion Wether

Harold Barber, shepherd from the University of Kentucky, holds Kentucky Colonel, grand champion wether at the International Live Stock Exposition. This is the third consecutive wether title captured by the university.

Hardware Can Kill a Cow, Veterinarian Reports

A tiny piece of wire or a broken nail thrown in the wrong place can cost you a cow, Dr. R. D. Hatch, veterinarian at the University of Illinois, warns farmers. "Cattle often swallow nails, screws, pieces of wire, pins or other bits of metal that went into their feed," he says. Often these pieces of hardware cause death. Sometimes the animal can be saved by surgical operation, he reports.

IT'S YOUR HERITAGE AND PRIVILEGE — VOTE NOV. 4

The biggest selling drive in the history of a nation famous for its salesmanship will get rolling this fall. It is aimed directly at you.

The sponsors have no profit motive whatever. For they are trying to sell you only the proposition of using something you already have, though perhaps you haven't used it for years. They are trying to sell you your own heritage, your right to vote as a free man.

The privilege of the ballot is denied to millions in the world today. Here in this country it has been dearly bought and held. It is, as William Hard says in the lead article of the October Reader's Digest, "the right for which multitudes of men in times past have died — in order to bequeath it to you."

Behind the drive to sell the voting idea is the American Heritage Foundation, a non-profit, non-partisan, public service organization. Its vote getting endeavor is endorsed by the National Committees of both the Democratic and Republican parties. Working with it are some 50 participating groups, ranging from the Investment Banks Association to the Girl Scouts.

The single goal of these people, who number four and a half million, is to get you to vote — your way. Between now and November they will remind you often of your duty to yourself and to the free way of life which still is yours. They may ring your doorbell or hang a reminder on your doorknob. Their advertisements in your newspaper will carry the plea to go to the polls on November 4th. Their store-window signs will urge you to vote, and many of their packaged products will display the same message.

No one in this campaign will talk politics to you. It's a non-party effort, or, better than that, a both-party effort.

In a world now half enslaved, the remaining free people have a particular obligation to use the supreme instrument of their freedom. But more and more Americans have been letting the rare privilege of the ballot go by default on Election Day. Back in 1880, the percentage of eligible Americans voting was 73.4. In 1900 it fell to 73.5. By 1940 it was down to 53.4 and in 1948, with only 51 percent casting their ballots, barely half the eligible voters of the nation exercised that fundamental right!

Election day is a handy holiday for many — a day to take your gun and dog and go afield — to rake your leaves or plant your tulip bulbs or put away your screens. But this year, before you do any of those things — VOTE!!

It Would Surprise You Too
It was her birthday and the young couple had planned a festive day — they were also celebrating their engagement.

At noontime a florist's truck drove up to the home of the prospective bride and the deliveryman stepped out with a beautiful bouquet of roses.

But the card accompanying the flowers was addressed to the mother. Thinking there must be some mistake, she opened the envelope and read: "I'm so glad it was a girl. Don." — Readers Digest.

An admiral, when asked why they called a ship a "she," replied, "Plunging declines amidst the swells."

Potlatch Chief Sez

Published by the Kendrick Creamery

HELLO, THERE, FOLKS —

Well, here it is the last week before election, and the political are busily engaged in a last-minute scramble for votes. It's the good old American system of holding free elections — and we hope that you don't forget to vote next Tuesday, November 4!

But when it comes to voting you can always vote for "Potlatch Chief" Dairy products with the assurance that they are tops in quality and purity.

Two motorists met on a mountain road too narrow for two cars to pass. "I never back up for an idiot," shouted the city driver.

"That's all right," replied the country driver quistly, as he shifted into reverse, "I always do!"

Hunting season in Latah county opens November 1, and beyond a doubt quite a few big game animals will be killed by local hunters — so if you are planning on being one of them, better come in and pick out that locker box right now. We have one to fit every purse and need.

As a San Francisco taxi dodged daringly through congested traffic, the driver startled his pretty young passenger by remarking: "I've been watching you in the mirror ever since you got in."

"Yes?" she responded uncertainly. "Yep. And what I want to say, Miss," he continued gallantly, "you certainly ride a taxi well!"

Lack of fresh vegetables creates a need for milk, so remember that the minimum requirement for a growing child is a quart a day — be sure it's pure, pasteurized "Potlatch Chief" milk. Your assurance of quality and goodness.

U. of I. Has New Tank
A new tank holding enough water to quench the thirst of every resident of the state for days, began serving the University of Idaho this week.

The 500,000-gallon tank, one of the largest constructed in the west, has more than a drinking-water mission, however. It has long been needed on the campus for fire protection and is especially needed now with the new buildings added in recent years.

Never before, too, has the university been able to display its colors of silver and gold on such a massive scale. Both tank and framework are painted in silver color, and on the tank itself are four golden "I's". Each "I" is 20 feet high and 13 feet wide at top and bottom. To set off the "I's" it took a foot-wide border trim of black.

Workmen are now taking down the old 60,000-gallon tank, which served the university for 38 years from Arboretum hill, for relocating on the college of agriculture farm. There it will provide auxiliary service and added protection from fire farm buildings.

The old tank is known to thousands of alumni as the "I" tank, but when first constructed it had another name. The Argonaut, student newspaper, reported on April 26, 1916:

"The tank, commonly known as 'Dean Little's Water Barrel' is a steel tank of 60,000-gallon capacity, and is mounted on a steel tower 79 feet high. When completed, the tank will furnish sufficient pressure to throw a fine stream to the top of the Administration building."

Ability to "throw a fine stream" to the top of the Administration building has long been important. The original Administration building burned to the ground in 1906.

Trying To Get Out The Vote

The Latah County Automobile Dealers Association is furnishing transportation to and from the polls for those needing rides. Mrs. Dobler and Mrs. M. Guervitch are manning a telephone in Moscow at 25-713 for 24 hours per day to make certain anyone calling will get an answer. This, of course, is just for the Moscow area.

The Chief of Police and staff, Fire Chief, Civic Club officers, lawyers, professors, housewives, high school students and many more have joined in a community interest program of one hour each week at 8:00 p. m. over radio station KRPL. The show is called "Palouse Party," starring our friends and neighbors and telling what they are doing. This was initiated as one more means of reminding us of getting registered and voting in the election. The Non Partisan Ballot Battalion started this program early last summer. Bob Tracy is the master of ceremonies and the program will be continued as a community service.

In this issue of the Gazette will be found a large ad, sponsored by this group, reminding you to "Get Out and Vote!"
