If the supply of fish hold out, there is no reason why everybody should not catch a few. The roads are lined with tourists from about every northwestern state and some eastern ones, with their cars equipped with paraphernalia of the piscatorial art and camping outfits. The Potlatch having been opened for fishing above the forks, people are flocking to the grounds that have not been fished out for the past three years. Many good catches are reported, but the best story of a single taking comes from Camp 8 where an angler caught a 27 inch trout—Deary Press.

Preliminary work on the rocking of the streets of the village began this week with the surveying of same by County Surveyor V. E. Pearson. S. W. Jensen has been busy for some time getting rock ready for the crusher, which will be here by the end of the week.

Work on grading the streets and getting them in readiness for the rock will be begun next week. This will necessitate considerable work as Main street will have to be lowered in places to a depth of a foot. This part of the work is carried on by the village. The rocking of the streets will be done by the Highway District for the sum of three thousand dollars, made possible by donations by the business places which will be benefited by the work.

The crushed rock will be placed on Main street from the Draper blacksmith shop to the Norwegian Lutheran church; from Main street to the bridge at Riverside street; from Main to the alley between Bank and Myklebust's store, and Sonny's Club and Myklebust's garage; from Main at Shepherd's real estate office to alley.

The rocking of the streets will be a great improvement to the village and will be appreciated by all.—Troy News.

The Genesee News this week tears another year off the official office calendar in the celebration of its thirty-sixth birthday anniversary. While it is getting pretty well along in years it is still hale and hearty and bids fair to survive even the present dry season.

The present owner has been at the helm for eleven and a half years, and while a few rocks have been encountered and the seas have sometimes run high yet the helm is not yet "busted," although "turbidly bent." However, we hope to ride out the small storms that may hit and hope that the wave of public opinion will land us high and dry, and that the old paper will be here for another 36 years, and then some.—Genesee News.

Thirty Candidates Filed for Primary Election

Ten filings were made the last two hours Saturday when candidates might file for state and county offices in Latah county. A total of 30 candidates have now filed for office and both republican and democratic tickets are well filled.

The only candidate from Kendrick precinct is G. F. Walker for commissioner of the third district. He will have a contest in the primary as Columbus Clark has filed, but has good prospects for a clear field in the general election.

The offices of sheriff and prosecuting attorney appear to be the popular choice as there are many contests on for them.

The two tickets have been filed as follows

Obituary

Ben Petrick was born in Mitchell County, Iowa, September 12, 1879. He died at his home in Kendrick, Wednesday, July 2, after an illness covering a period of 17 years.

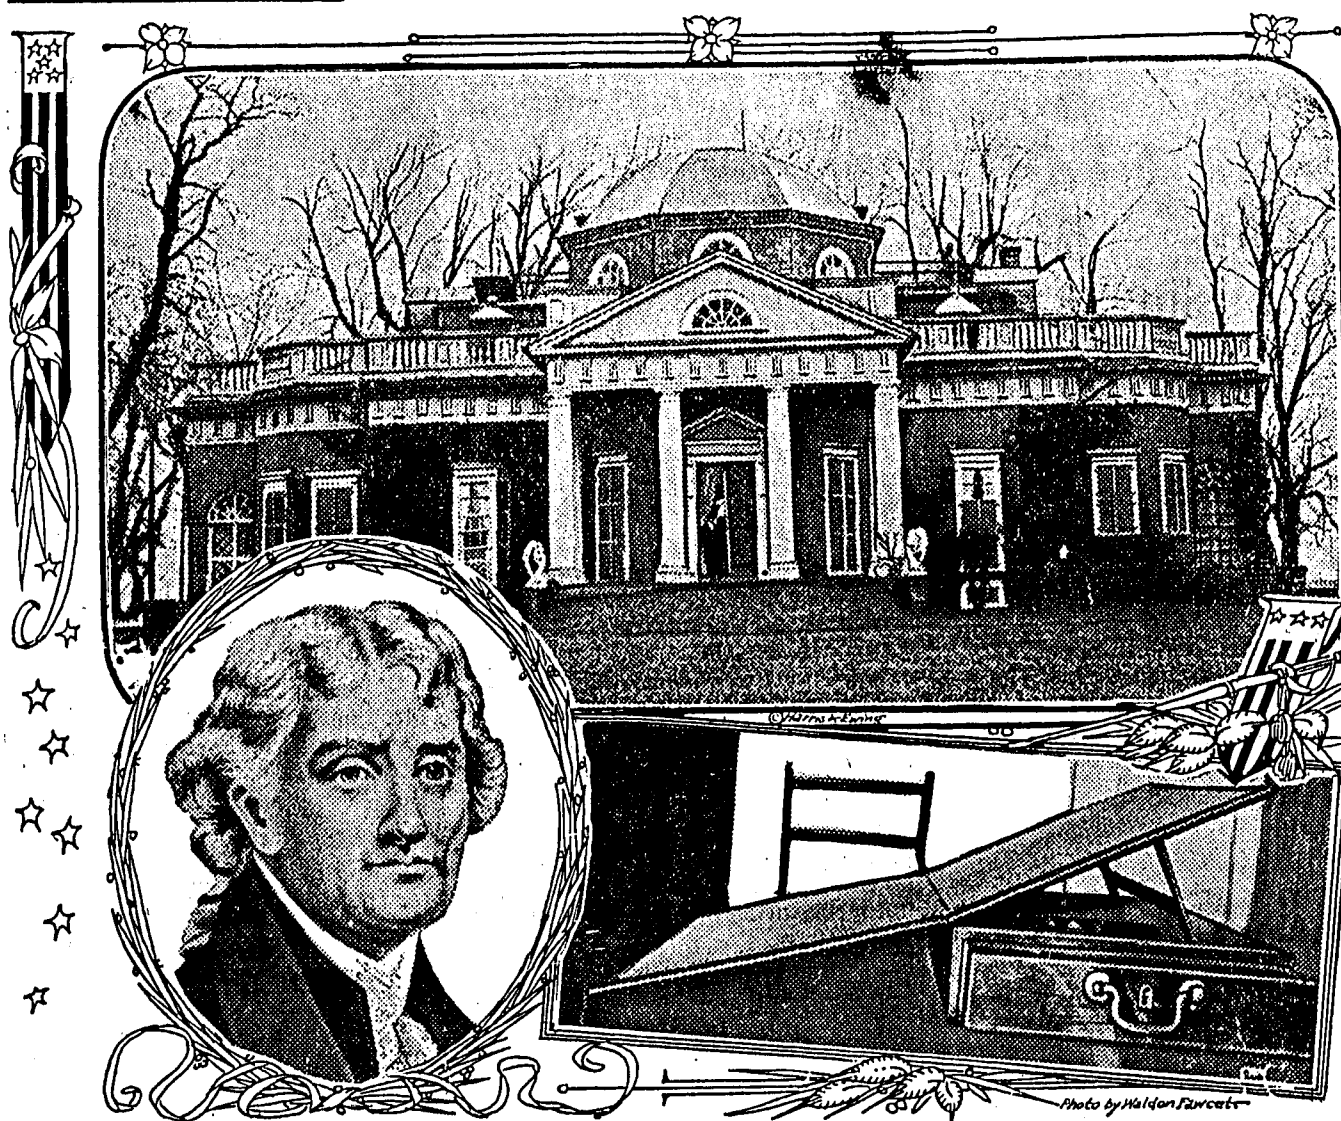

Ben came to Idaho with his parents 19 years ago. Shortly after he took up a homestead on the North Fork of the Clearwater River. While homesteading he carried his supplies on his back from the nearest trading point to his homestead cabin. It is believed that these heavy loads caused an injury to his spine from which he never recovered.

Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church, Saturday morning, July 5, at 10 o'clock. Rev. Kien preached the sermon and paid a beautiful tribute to Ben's life. He said that while Ben had never attained a position of prominence in the eyes of the world, it was impossible to estimate the good that he had done by his example of Christian fortitude during so many years of terrible suffering. He said that many people's lives had been touched by the remarkably cheerful spirit and unwavering faith that was with Ben at all times.

In accordance with a wish that Ben had expressed some time ago, interment was made in the Cameron cemetery.

Ben is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Petrick; four sisters, Mrs. Grant Evans of Auburn, Wash.; Mrs. Mayer and Mrs. James Ashton of Seattle; Mrs. Carl Allenbach of St. Paul; three brothers, Ed, Arnold and Paul, all of Seattle.

Van Wert Has Fire

The farm home of Doc W. B. Van Wert, local veterinarian, was totally destroyed by fire about noon, July 4. No one was at the house when the fire started, so it is not definitely known how it originated. Doc Van Wert was in his office, which is located in a corner of his barn, and the first indication he had of the fire was when he saw the roof of the house in a blaze. He had a fire in the kitchen stove and his theory is that a spark fell on the roof and set fire to it. He said he had inspected the flue not long ago and it was in good condition.

The house was a substantial structure and represents quite a loss. It was partially covered by insurance.

Living Off Government

An authority on the subject says there are 2,700,000 employees on payrolls of federal, local government, 700,000 former employees drawing pensions—3,400,000 persons who are being provided by government with their living. There are 41 to 42 million persons in United States "gaintly employed" so that every 12 citizens are supporting one in office. Amount paid for services by government—federal, state and local—represented 6 1/2 per cent of the national income in 1922. This sum was nearly 1/3 that paid out in wages by all manufacturing plants in this country in 1921. This sum represents an average payment of $91 by each person over 10 years old engaged in a gainful occupation.

Death of President's Son

Calvin Coolidge, Jr., son of the president, passed away at Washington, Monday, from blood poisoning. He was 16 years of age and for several days it was thought his youth combined with the expert medical attention that was available for him might win, but his frail constitution was unable to withstand the disease.

Calvin and his older brother, John, were the only children of the president.

Dance Next Friday

Kaufman's Orchestra of Lewiston will give a dance at the Grand Theater, Friday, July 18. This orchestra was formerly Mann Bros. Orchestra No. 2. They are said to be very good musicians.

John W. Davis Nominated

John W. Davis of West Virginia, former United States ambassador to Great Britain, received the unanimous vote of the democratic convention for presidency, Wednesday, by acclamation after the 103rd ballot. Charles W. Bryan, brother of Wm. Jennings Bryan, was nominated as the vice presidential candidate. He was nominated on the first ballot.

Bought Lewiston Bank

The deposits of the Empire National Bank of Lewiston were turned over to the Lewiston National bank the first of the week according to a statement made by Eugene M. Ehrhardt, president of the Empire National. He stated that the change was deemed advisable as the volume of business was not sufficient in Lewiston at this time to warrant the number of banks in operation. E. W. Lutz, formerly cashier of the Kendrick State Bank, is cashier of the Lewiston National.

Winegardner-Beckman

Miss Edith Winegardner, a former resident of the Leland community, became the bride of Vern Beckman, Thursday of last week. The wedding was performed at the Presbyterian parsonage at Lewiston by Rev. Koper. Mrs. Beckman has taught school in Genesee for the past three years. Her husband has a position as manager of the local office of the Washington Water Power Co. at Genesee.

Return From Trip

Frank Crocker and two sons, Lester and Charles, and Robert Dammarell returned home Monday from their fishing trip to the North Fork country in the vicinity of the Bungalow. Fishing in the main river was very poor owing to the fact that a cloudburst had roiled the water. They caught some big trout in tributary streams. They saw an elk and two deer at comparatively close range.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Keene and family and Miss Rilla Davidson are leaving today for Red River Hot Springs, which is beyond Elk City. Mrs. Keene and children and Miss Davidson will remain there probably a month or more.

Held Family Reunion

One of the delightful events of the season took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jessup of Juliaetta, Idaho, Sunday, June 6, when a family reunion of 32 members gathered to entertain Lillian M. Horn of Los Angeles, California, a cousin of Mrs. Jessup and her sisters. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Jessup, Mrs. Sarah Jacobus of Juliaetta, Mrs. Lydia Ameling and family, Mrs. Mary Deobald, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Eichner and family, Mrs. Julia Brocke and family of American ridge, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Watts and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deobald and family of Kendrick, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson and son of Craigmont and Mrs. L. Simpson and daughter of Lewiston, Idaho.

Has Good Bean Prospects

Addie Alexander of Cedar Creek ridge has one of the finest fields of beans that was ever grown in any country. It was planted early in a perfect seed bed and from the time the beans appeared through the ground Mr. Alexander has been cultivating and hoeing them. The field presents almost a solid mat of green and is in a perfect state of cultivation. With favorable weather conditions, which means a good rain before long, this bean field stands a good chance to break the record this season.

Increasing Water Supply

The work of installing the water pipe from the V. C. Co. spring near the warehouse to the water main in Kendrick is being rushed to completion. When this pipe has been installed there will be a continuous stream hling an inch and a quarter pipe flowing into the reservoir day and night. This water is being piped to the reservoir for a reserve supply so that should the dry weather continue there would still be ample water for all purposes. It is said the spring will furnish water enough to fill the inch and a quarter pipe the year round. It is splendid water and almost ice cold.

Mrs. G. M. Lewis of Coeur d'Alene, Mrs. Ramsey Waker of Wallace, Mrs. Earl Crocker and daughter, Laverne, of Caliere, Montana, and Miss Jean Rowlands of Sandpoint, drove down from Spokane, Tuesday, for a brief visit with friends. It was Mrs. Crocker's first visit for over 14 years.

V. A. Randall of Texas ridge brought in a few wheat specimens this week which are beauties and we invite inspection of the same. There are several varieties, the head of each being full and well developed. The stalks are short but the kernel is strong and healthy. Mr. Randall has the J. T. Moser place (one of the best and largest on the ridge) rented, part of which is summer fallowed and the specimens at this office are from fallowed ground.

F. S. Beckwith, booted and spurred, left Thursday morning with a pack horse trailing, for a trip to Bert Lewis' on the North Fork and also to the Pierce City country.

Mrs. W. M. McCrea and children left the first of the week for a month's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Mellison at Everett. Walter is now as forlorn a bachelor as the rest of us.

The carpenters are rapidly completing the work on the A. W. Gordon residence. A survey of the rooms shows that comfort and convenience are the keynote in the plan, while beauty and taste have not been forgotten. This charming residence in the center of one of the finest gardens in the country makes a home which will attract attention from all, but better than that, will be one in which solid comfort can at all times be enjoyed.

Monday, July 18, the local republicans will elect their delegates to the county convention. It is somewhat early to predict the result but we believe a French delegation is assured, though whether French and Morrison can both be carried through cannot yet be told. Politics are quite warm and very close. It's a case where all are out with guns, but strictly in the tall timber where they can drop behind a tree. Undoubtedly the caucus Monday will be a lively scene.

Some people go to Coeur d'Alene and some to the timber for a vacation but one of the most sensible and pleasant methods was inaugurated this week when a party of our citizens rented one of the numerous fine groves on the ridge above Kendrick, where water, shade and fruit abounds, sent out a camping outfit with all necessary impedimenta, erected their tents, and installed the families in their country residences. The men of the party will attend to their business during the day and be in camp during the evening. The party consists of F. S. Beckwith and wife and Miss Alexander of Lewiston, P. D. Roberts and family, D. S. McCrea and family, A. C. White and family. Ye editor has received an invitation to spend an evening with the party when he can better tell just what is necessary for a good time in a camping trip.

J. R. Hall of Moscow returned to Kendrick the first of the week and is assisting in the Lincoln Hardware Co. during the rush season.

We received an advertisement from London, England, wanting bachelors matrimonially inclined who could not secure a partner, so correspond with the agency, who would furnish them with just what they wanted. As the money for the advertisement was not enclosed we fail to publish, but rather than deprive any deserving bachelor of this chance, we give this notice and will show the letter to any who call.

R. B. Parks of Leland stated yesterday that wheat on his farm, grown on summer fallow ground, will go 25 bushels or more to the acre. Some of it he believes will yield 30 or 35 bushels. He has cut some of his grain and has had enough experience to form a very good estimate.

Wheat Harvest Help Is Serious Problem

Study Made of Conditions Affecting Labor Demand.

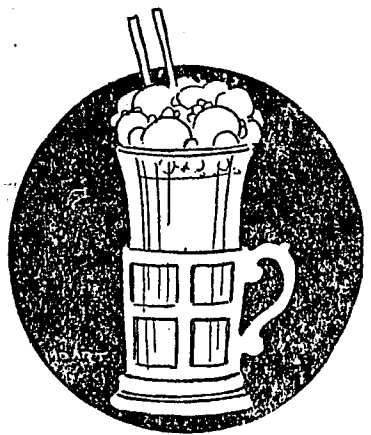

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Conditions affecting the demand for wheat harvest labor have been intensively studied by specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture in a survey of nearly 1,300 wheat farms from Oklahoma to the Canadian border. Factors affecting the labor demand in given districts were found to include the number of farm family workers and month hands on farms at the beginning of harvest; the average size of the farms; the extent of small grain farming compared to other types; the kind of harvesting machinery used; the time at which other districts of the wheat belt are harvesting; weather conditions both before and during harvest; conditions of the crop; harvest wages, and working hours. These factors were found to vary from one district to another and from year to year.

In making forecasts of labor needs the department urges careful consideration of the numerous factors mentioned. The result should aid in effecting a more intelligent distribution of the thousands of harvest hands who go to the wheat belt every season. This will mean to farmers greater certainty of getting needed harvest help, and be a guide to harvest hands in indicating the places where work is quickly obtainable, thus shortening the periods of employment, the department points out.

A comprehensive discussion of the various labor requirement factors is contained in Department Bulletin No. 1230, entitled "Conditions Affecting the Demand for Harvest Labor in the Wheat Belt," copies of which may be obtained free on request to the Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C. The bulletin also contains a modification of the formula worked out by the Kansas Agricultural college to forecast the harvest labor demand in header territory to make the formula applicable to other wheat areas. Labor officials and agricultural authorities dealing with the distribution of harvest labor in the wheat belt of the Middle West will find the bulletin of especial interest, the department says.

Reduce Heavy Apple Loss by Wrapping

Early Picked Fruit Very Susceptible to Scald.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Heavy losses to the apple industry from apple scald can be reduced very materially, according to the United States Department of Agriculture, if certain practices in preparing the fruit for storage and market are followed. Apple scald is one of the most serious storage and market diseases of the apple and has an important bearing on all market operations during the latter half of the storage season. Susceptibility to scald varies with the season and with orchard conditions and management. Early-picked and poorly-colored fruit is extremely susceptible to scald, while well-colored, well-matured apples are more resistant to the disease.

A summary of the practical results obtained on scald control in a series

We remember of seeing the thermometer register 90 degrees in the hotel lobby at midnight one summer and it was in South Idaho not more than 20 miles from the town of Gooding.

Sweet Clover of Great Value as Pasture Crop

The advantages of sweet clover are: It is easily grown, does well on poor, low, washed land; improves soil; withstands drought; yields big first year; starts up early second year; provides pasture throughout the season; is high in protein; does not bloat; and does not winterkill readily.

The disadvantages of sweet clover are that it encroaches on and reduces yield of the grain nurse crop, and that it produces rather coarse hay in second year.

Where a finer quality of hay is desired, one should cut the sweet clover with the grain the first year. It is comparable to first cutting of alfalfa with respect to quality at that stage. However, we have found sweet clover of greatest value to us as pasture because of its earliness and because of the fact that it remains sweet and green when blue grass falls, says a writer in an exchange. In contrast to other years we have practically not touched our hay supply during summer or fall, as twenty-five acres of splendid sweet clover were available to the cows at the close of the grain harvest.

Alfalfa Needs Lime

Alfalfa will not do well unless there is lime in the soil within reach of the young alfalfa roots, and if the soil is sour on the surface foot or so, it may be impossible to get a good stand and growth. This crop will grow to some extent on the food it gets from the decaying humus of a soil, but during the summer it may become so hot and dry that the humus stops its processes of decay and then the alfalfa is without food and will die out.
