Mr. and Mrs. Ervil Woody were Sunday dinner guests in the Walter Benscoter home.

Bill Cox spent Saturday and Sunday in Lewiston.

Mrs. Wayne Davis and Mrs. Ed. Kent were in Moscow Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Havens and son Rayner were in Moscow on Monday.

Mrs. Clara Scott of Santa Cruz, Calif., and Mrs. Hope Slind of Spangle, Wn., were on the ridge visiting old-time friends. Mrs. Scott will be remembered as Clara Bashor and Mrs. Slind as Hope Beekly, both former residents of this ridge. They called on Mrs. Mary Deobald, Mrs. Sam Bigham and at the Geo. Havens homes.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Dougherty are visiting in Boise. They expect to be away about ten days.

Mrs. Harry Benscoter spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lyle, at Peck.

Ernest Brammer returned Tuesday evening from a hunting trip — no luck.

The Troy Junior and Senior classes made older and were dinner guests at the Harry Benscoter home on Tuesday. Mrs. Rowena Chaney was their chaperone.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Parrish of Ithapa, Utah; Mrs. Charley Bean of Salt Lake City and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lyle of Peck were Wednesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Benscoter. Mr. Parrish and Mrs. Bean are uncle and aunt, respectively, of Mrs. Harry Benscoter, and had not been here since 1912.

Mrs. Norla Callison called on Mrs. Harry Benscoter Friday morning. Other callers during the day were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Roberts of Moscow; Mr. and Mrs. Tim Hollingsworth of Lewiston, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter May.

Werner Brammer is building a feed rack on his grazing land for his cattle this winter. He purchased the land from his father this spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter May were Monday evening callers in the Warney May home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Glenn and daughter were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Glenn at Fairview.

Doris Wilson, Troy, spent from Wednesday until Sunday with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cain. Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson, Troy, were Sunday dinner guests.

Your reporter is sorry she was unable to reach all of you, but the high winds of Tuesday and Wednesday put the telephone out of service.

P-T. A. Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick P-T. A. was held Monday evening at the school house with Mrs. Herman Schupfer, president, presiding.

The main discussion of the evening was deciding on a project for the year. It was finally agreed by all that a piano was one of the biggest needs for the grade school.

There followed a discussion of ways and means to raise money with which to purchase one, and a committee consisting of Rev. Coulter, Roy Long and Mrs. Frank Abrams named to bring plans to the next meeting.

A group sing, lead by Mrs. Herman Schupfer, with Mrs. Oscar Slind at the piano, was then enjoyed.

Refreshments were served in the Home Ec. room.

Birthday Observance

Sunday, October 13th, the birthday anniversaries of twelve relatives were observed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Halvor Lien. The honored persons, having birthday anniversaries during September and October were: Mrs. H. Sneve, Hans Lien, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Long, Ed. Lien, Mrs. Halvor Lien, Evan Lien, Tommy Long, E. Bruseth, Oliver Bruseth, Miss Goldie Lien and Miss Margaret Lien.

A beautifully decorated angel-food cake, made by Mrs. Oscar Slind, held 12 candles, representing the 12 birthdays observed.

Twenty-three guests were present for the day.

Parents Of Daughter

Word was received here Monday of the birth of a daughter, Janie Lynn Greene, on October 16, to Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Greene, at the U. S. Naval Hospital at San Diego, Calif., weight eight pounds and two ounces. Mrs. Greene will be remembered here as June Pemberton.

Adds More Floor Space

The Travis Furniture and Electric Supply company has taken over the apartment at the rear of their display room that was formerly the beauty shop, and added it to their display space — greatly improving the ability to show furniture to an advantage.

There are no parking meters on Kendrick's streets. Trade at home!

Work Resumed On Pool

Tuesday morning of this week the local construction crew, under the direction of Jack Kuykendall, began work again on the Area Living War Memorial Swim Pool, enough money have again been assembled to permit the pouring of the concrete retaining wall against the hillside.

It is sincerely to be regretted that finances do not permit a "go ahead" on the job until inclement weather forces a shut-down, but since this work must be on a strictly cash basis, it will be done as finances permit.

Donors this week are:

NEWS FROM LOCAL MEN IN THE ARMED FORCES

T/Sgt. Howard Hoffman, Leland, arrived home Wednesday of last week on a 40-day terminal leave, having arrived in San Francisco from Japan on September 29th, reached Port Lewis October 1st, and Arrived home October 16th.

T/Sgt. Hoffman entered the service on January 16th, 1945, and after receiving his primary and advanced training at various camps in the states, left for overseas duty on July 4th, 1945, his unit, replacements, was assigned to the 43rd Division and promptly went into combat in northern Luzon, remaining on this island until the war ended.

At the conclusion of hostilities, he, with his unit, left Manila September 1st, landing at Yokohama as a unit of the army of occupation. Shortly after the landing here the veteran 43rd division headed for home, and Sgt. Hoffman was transferred to another veteran unit, the Merical Division, and with the transfer was assigned to Tokyo, remaining at that point until November 1, at which time he requested paratrooper service and was assigned to the 11th Airborne division, and transferred with this unit to Sendai, in northern Japan.

Howard reports the Japs in this area somewhat different than those of Yokohama and Tokyo, in that they tried their best to ignore the Yanks, but were so afraid of the paratroopers, who they had seen in action, that they were unable to carry out their "ignoring" campaign very successfully. He said that the reports in magazines and newspapers of the friendliness of the Jap kids was quite true. They apparently felt no fear or hatred of the big Americans, and begged candy, gum or food at every opportunity, trotting along side the soldiers, grinning and laughing.

Sgt. Hoffman said that Sendai, like Tokyo and Yokohama, was pretty badly burned out from bombings and fire raids. Damage did not show so much when one was among the buildings, but a trip to an adjoining hill plainly showed the use of Uncle Sam's "big lawnmower." It got quite cold at Sendai, with two or three feet of snow a common occurrence, although it never remained on the ground very long at any one time.

At Sendai his unit was quartered in a former Jap arsenal, which made quite a comfortable barracks. During the bombing raids the Americans purposely spared these buildings with just that use in mind — and they proved to have good judgement.

Sgt. Hoffman said that when they first arrived at Sendai it was a regular occurrence for an army truck, tank or bulldozer to disappear into a hole in the roadway, fields or grounds — since they were very dug by the Japs for powder and ammunition storage, and when a truck, tank or bulldozer so disappeared, all hands, including any Japs handy, turned-to and worked until the vehicle was again on solid or semi-solid footing.

Sgt. Hoffman said that in retaliation for this labor, American army truck drivers thoroughly enjoyed ditching Jap motor vehicles or carts, and then watching the Japs struggle to right and get their vehicle back onto the road from some rice paddy or collapsed cave.

Sgt. Hoffman left Japan from Yokohama on the 16th of September, landing in "Frisco" on the 29th — and he said the old Golden Gate looked plenty good to him. Personally, he feels that he hadn't lost anything in "midget land."

Sgt. Hoffman extends his sincere thanks to all for the Gazette, received during his term of duty. He said that during the war, it came quite regularly, but after the close of hostilities, it arrived in "bunches," the papers sometimes showing plainly signs of having been soaking wet. But, anyway, he got most of them, and they were greatly appreciated.

He plans on resuming his farming, as he says the seat on a tractor looks better to him than that on a C-54.

We have received word to cancel the paper of Sgt. Neal Craig, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oral Craig — so we suspect that Neal will soon be home.

He has been stationed in the Pacific with a night fighter squadron.

Adding New Display Fixtures

During the past two weeks Floyd Millard of the Kendrick Table Supply has added new vegetable bins across the front of the store, and new display racks and shelving at the rear.

The fixtures, made to fit Floyd's ideas and the space, are not only nice looking, but useful.

Calf "Scramble" And Results

Latah county businessmen and 4-H club members are becoming active partners this week in a project that should be both interesting and profitable. The project is the selection, feeding, showing and marketing of well-bred beef steers.

The calf scramble, as it is called, was held at the county fairgrounds in Moscow Friday of last week at 1:00 o'clock. Here is how it works: Each 4-H livestock club in the county was invited to select one of its members to take part in this project. At the same time active Chambers of Commerce in the county were requested to nominate enough firms to finance feeder calves for all 4-H clubs who applied for a calf from their area. To date eleven 4-H clubs have named a member to receive, feed out and market partnership steers. These club members and their leaders (locally) are: Dorothy Cann, Kendrick, Cedar Ridge Livestock club, leader, Phil Bahr, Southwick; Floyd McGraw, Jr., Kendrick, Big Bear Ridge Farm Boys, leader, Gerald Ingle, Kendrick.

Arrangements for the 4-H calf scramble were handled by Elbert McProud, Latah county agent.

Observe Golden Anniversary

Sunday, October 20th, Zion Lutheran church at Deary observed its 50th Anniversary. The congregation was organized and served by the late Rev. Iver Andreassen in 1895.

Festival services were conducted at 11:00 a. m. with Dr. L. N. Field, president of the Rocky Mountain District, as the guest speaker. A pot-luck dinner was held at noon and enjoyed by all present.

The afternoon program began at 2:30, with a Pantomime Picture Album telling the history of the church, proving of great interest to every one.

Circles Meet Friday

Mrs. Wallace's Circle will meet at 2:00 p. m. Friday with Mrs. George Brocke.

Mrs. Kenneth Brocke's Circle will meet the same day with Mrs. Paul Lind.

New Arrival

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thomas are the proud parents of a baby girl, born October 17, at the home of Mrs. Clifford Davidson.

THREE KENDRICK MEN MEET DEATH IN CAR ACCIDENT

Orofino, Oct. 20 — Three men were drowned and a fourth barely escaped death between midnight Sunday and 1:00 a. m. Monday when their 1946 Chevrolet sedan plunged more than 300 feet off a narrow mountain road into the North Fork of the Clearwater river approximately 100 miles upstream from Ahsanka.

The victims were Patrick Bratton, about 50; Ralph Stolz, 25, and Frank Luman, 24, all of Three Bear.

Marshall Millsap, about 25 years old, managed to swim ashore and found his way to the road to summon help. He was given first aid at the Bungalow Ranger station by Frank Meneely. Millsap was brought to Orofino and hospitalized with what may be a concussion and body cuts and bruises.

The tragedy happened while the man were enroute to the big game country. They left Kendrick Saturday afternoon equipped for several days stay in the forested area.

Mr. Millsap was able to give a fairly coherent story of what happened. He said that when the sedan started on its death plunge he was at the wheel with Stolz riding in the front seat and Bratton and Luman in the rear. Apparently the car was running along the edge of the road before the driver realized the danger. He attempted to right its course but was too late. The sedan toppled down the precipitous embankment, apparently turned over once, and then landed in the North Fork about 20 feet from shore, lodged between two massive boulders. He said he was stunned, but revived by the cold water; that he attempted to extricate the men trapped in the car, but was unsuccessful.

The place where the sedan entered the stream was near what is termed "the big pool," a still body of water with a depth of 40 feet or more. The place where the sedan dropped was comparatively shallow, possibly 10 feet deep.

Coroner Blake expressed belief the men died of injuries and not from drowning, this conclusion being borne out by the fact the three victims were badly crushed when the metal roof of the sedan was caved completely in. This was further borne out by the coroner's investigation.

All afternoon was required to drag the sedan and its three victims from the stream, Kenneth Kouni, Orofino, having charge of the recovery work. The car was completely wrecked.

Coroner Blake said Sunday night that Luman suffered a skull fracture and other injuries. His feet were protruding from the rear window of the sedan when it was reclaimed. Bratton also died from head injuries, the coroner said.

The party of hunters leaving Kendrick occupied two cars. In the other car were Ed Luman and Walter Luman, brothers of Frank Luman, one of the victims, with Earl Millsap as the driver. They preceded the death car and when they became aware that the car driven by Marshall Millsap was missing, Earl Millsap decided to investigate. He and his companions drove back to the ranger station and there learned of the accident.

From his hospital bed Marshall Millsap said the weather was foggy at the time of the accident, and the car was climbing a mild incline at the time it went off the road, negotiating in second gear.

The bodies were brought to Orofino and taken to the Blake funeral home.

During the excitement, which attracted about 40 people to the scene, an army rifle was stolen from the reclaimed sedan.

The Luman brothers, Stolz and Bratton were employed by Millsap in lumbering operations. The Lumans came to Idaho about two months ago from California where their parents live. Stolz has a wife and two small children living on Three Bear. Bratton recently came west from Arkansas. — Lewiston Tribune.

Resigns Creamery Management

Kenneth Powell, for the last four years an employee of the Kendrick Co-operative Creamery, the last year as manager, has resigned his position here, and with his family, will soon move to Troy, Idaho, where he is installing a creamery, machinery for which has already been purchased and will soon be in Troy.

The new business will be known as the "Troy Dairy Products." It will manufacture butter and cottage cheese.

Mr. and Mrs. Powell have made a host of friends in this community and it is with real regret that all see them leave.

As we go to press no information is available as to Mr. Powell's successor as manager.

Homecoming Game Saturday

The University of Idaho is preparing to welcome thousands of alumni to the campus Saturday afternoon for the school's first real post-war homecoming and the Idaho University of Oregon football game. Saturday's contest will be the fifth of the season and the second at home for the Vandals, and one of the largest crowds is expected to jam Neale stadium to see the contest.

This year's game will be the 32nd between the Pacific Coast conference rivals. The first game, a scoreless tie, was played in 1901, and since then the Oregonians have beaten Idaho 25 games to two. Four games have been ties.

Idaho's last victory over the Web-feet was a 6-0 game in 1925. In 1934 the teams fought to a 6-6 tie, and Oregon has won the six games played since then.

Fall Rains Seem To Be Here

Saturday night a warm rain began falling, continuing all night, and most of Sunday, and since that time intermittently.

It appears that this is the beginning of our fall rains, which are welcomed with open arms by the farmers, since the ground has been so hard and dry that plowing was almost an impossibility, and moisture was badly needed.

We have enjoyed wonderful fall weather, with one of the longest "Indian Summers" that anyone can remember. The canyons were beautiful in their multi-colored fall coats, ranging from the brilliant red of the sumachs, through orange and yellow, to the green of the pine trees.

Log hauling on dirt roads have been effectively stopped — but the farmers are all wearing smiles.

SECOND DISTRICT P-T. A. CONFERENCE SATURDAY

The Second District P-T. A. Conference was held at the Kendrick High school auditorium last Saturday, with general attendance reported as "good" and local attendance "poor."

Registration began at 9:00 a. m., with the program of the day opening at 10:00 a. m., with Mrs. Ullie Hardman, Peck, district president, presiding.

Following the Invocation by Rev. J. H. Coulter, Mrs. Coulter favored the assembly with a number of vocal selections.

Mrs. J. C. Jepson, state president, then made a brief talk.

At 11:00 Mrs. Warren Mabrey, Cape Girardeau, Mo., national field worker, told of the aims and duties of the P-T. A., not only from a local but from a national standpoint.

From 12:00 noon until 1:00 was the luncheon hour.

At 1:00 o'clock Howard Hechtner, Nez Perce county representative, addressed the group on the topic: "Our Duty As Citizens."

At 1:30 a symposium under the direction of Mrs. Jack Willows, Lewiston, was begun, and carried on by Miss Inez Stephens, Ina Carlson and Jessie McGhee, all of Lewiston, and Mrs. Joyce Brammer, Kendrick. The subject was, "Co-operation Between P-T. A. and the Idaho Educational Association."

At 2:30 a group song fest was led by Mrs. J. C. Jepson. Among the songs was "Hymn to the United Nations," sung to the tune of "America."

Members of the Resolutions committee were: Mrs. John Fallman, Grangeville; Mrs. Herman Travis, Kendrick, and Mrs. Walter Herth, Lewiston. This committee brought forth a resolution which read: "That all local units read, study and carefully evaluate the findings of the Peabody Institute report and encourage public interest in, and legislative action on the same."

This resolution was enthusiastically adopted, since this report deals with the state's educational system, and indeed needs careful thought and consideration.

Mrs. E. Gussenhoven, Lewiston Orchards, acting secretary of the conference, reminds everyone that the Peabody report will be read at a public meeting at the Lewiston high school tonight (Thursday) and urged everyone who possibly could attend to do so. She believes that it is of vital importance that everyone know of these things.

Local nominees for the day were: Hospitality, Mrs. D. A. Christensen, Mrs. Elmer Calloway, Mrs. Paul Lind, Mrs. F. M. Long and Mrs. Kenneth Brocke; Program, Mrs. H. C. Schupfer; Tables, Mrs. W. B. Deobald.

Visiting P-T. A. members heartily praised the work of the Kendrick committees, ranging from beautiful tables through excellent food and entertainment.

Mrs. Herman Travis, local P-T. A. president, is joined by all members of the organization in regretting the lack of local attendance at this important meeting.

Talk Proves Interesting

Miss Ruby Hobson, head of the Training school and superintendent of nurses at the Methodist hospital at Kolar, Mysore, India, spoke last Sunday at the Kendrick Community church and the Leland Methodist church. India, which is about half the size of the United States, has a population of about 350,000,000 people. In the state of Washington alone there are 12,000 registered nurses, while there are only 7,000 nurses for all of India. Only two per cent of the women of India can read and write, and only a smaller per cent have the high school education required for nurse training. There are over 200 different languages, so all higher education is given in English.

Miss Hobson displayed a number of beautiful costumes, which were modeled by young people present. She also showed some small idols carved of sandalwood and told something of the various gods worshipped.

Miss Hobson's home is at Gifford. She was a guest of Mrs. R. L. Blewett while in Kendrick Sunday.

Senior Ball
The Senior Class will sponsor a Senior Ball on Tuesday, Nov. 5, at 8:00 o'clock, to which the community is cordially invited. Inasmuch as the expense of securing an orchestra is much greater than usual, it was decided to ask that no corsages be worn. The dance will be semi-formal. An advertisement carrying details will be found on another page of this paper.

Thanks
The school very much appreciates the help extended by Mrs. Gus Kruger in canning for the Hot Lunch program. Also our thanks to Mrs. Walter Koepf for furnishing prizes for the Hot Lunch.

Plays
The first all-high school play has been chosen. The one decided upon is "Fish," a comedy whose plot revolves about three old ladies. The play is being cast this week and will be put on Nov. 21.

Assembly Program
The Mississippians (Jubilee singers) singers of American Folk music, will present the second of a series of National Assemblies program at the high school on Nov. 1, at 8:00 p. m.

Pheasant Season October 26
Idaho sportsmen can turn their attention from big game to pheasants on October 26, the fish and game department states.

A fairly good crop of birds is reported in the customary pheasant country. Hatches were more bountiful last spring than in the last two previous years because of moderate weather. Another factor believed to have contributed to the slight increase of birds is the protection given hen pheasants. No hens were legally shot last year. The same regulation is in force this fall.

Wherever pheasants are shot the season begins October 26. In some counties — northern and southwestern, the season lasts until November 11. In eastern counties the season is shorter.

Bag and possession limit is three cock birds. Hunters are reminded of a new regulation this year prohibiting the field dressing of upland birds so as to disguise the sex. This rule was adopted to curtail illegal shooting of hens.

Another new regulation makes it illegal to use any kind of rifle in hunting game birds. Previously it has been permissible to use any sort of firearms on pheasants, although shotguns only have been permitted in hunting ducks and geese for many years.

The waterfowl season, by the way, begins throughout Idaho October 26, same day as the pheasant attack is launched. The duck season of 45 days runs until Dec. 9.

Pheasants may be shot in the following counties, October 26 to November 11: Latah, Lewis, Clearwater, Nez Perce and Idaho (locally).

Hungarian partridge, a bird smaller and less common than the pheasant, may also be shot in Latah, Lewis, Clearwater, Nez Perce and Idaho. Bag and possession limit of these fast game birds is five.

The game department urged again that hunters bringing down banded birds report the numbers to the nearest conservation officer, or to the Lapwai game farm. All pheasants released by the two state bird farms this year have been banded.

Our note: Sounds good, but both these varieties of upland game birds are very scarce in this area — in fact, scarcer than the scanty crop of last season.

Army Recruiting Campaign
With the rapidly changing employment situation in mind, the United States army this week launched an intensive educational drive designed to demonstrate the "Security In Employment and Retirement" aspects of enlistment in the new streamlined army.

"Enlistment in the United States army means personal security guaranteed by the strength and wealth of the strongest creditor nation of the world today," an army dispatch points out.

The average worker knows how difficult it is to put forth his best efforts when the fearful spectre of unemployment hangs ominously in the background. He knows how rapidly illness can eat into his meagre savings and how difficult it is for him to make adequate preparation for his old age.

The United States army is cognizant of these problems and pay and money allowances have been adjusted to meet them. While the base pay of a private is $75.00, extra benefits such as food, clothing, lodging, medical and dental care, transportation, laundry and income tax exemption amount to a comparable civilian pay of many times that figure.

Included is the cost of an annuity that the civilian worker would have to pay for out of his salary, if he were to retire after 20 years of employment at the same rate of retired pay as the M/Sgt., who, without expenditure from his take-home pay, reaps this reward as a gift from his government for services rendered.

Initiation November 5th
The regular monthly meeting of the Kendrick Grange will be held on November 5, at 8:00 o'clock. It is initiation night.

Members having the little blue Grange manuals are asked to please bring them.

Basketball Season Now On

Basketball moved into the sports picture at the U. of I. this week as Coach Guy Wicks greeted over 90 candidates for this year's Vandal cage team.

Wicks, returning as head of Idaho's basketball forces after three years in the navy, was forced to split his squad into two units and hold two practices a day in order to accommodate the turnout in the Idaho gymnasium.

Ten lettermen, including five members of last year's Pacific Coast conference, northern division, championship squad were on hand as the hoop season was launched. This group was bolstered by a number of outstanding high school stars and transfers from other schools.

Idaho plays its first pre-season game at Walla Walla on Nov. 23, against Whitman college. A return game is scheduled for Moscow on Nov. 26, and after that the team will entrain for New York to meet City College of New York in Madison Square Garden on Dec. 3.

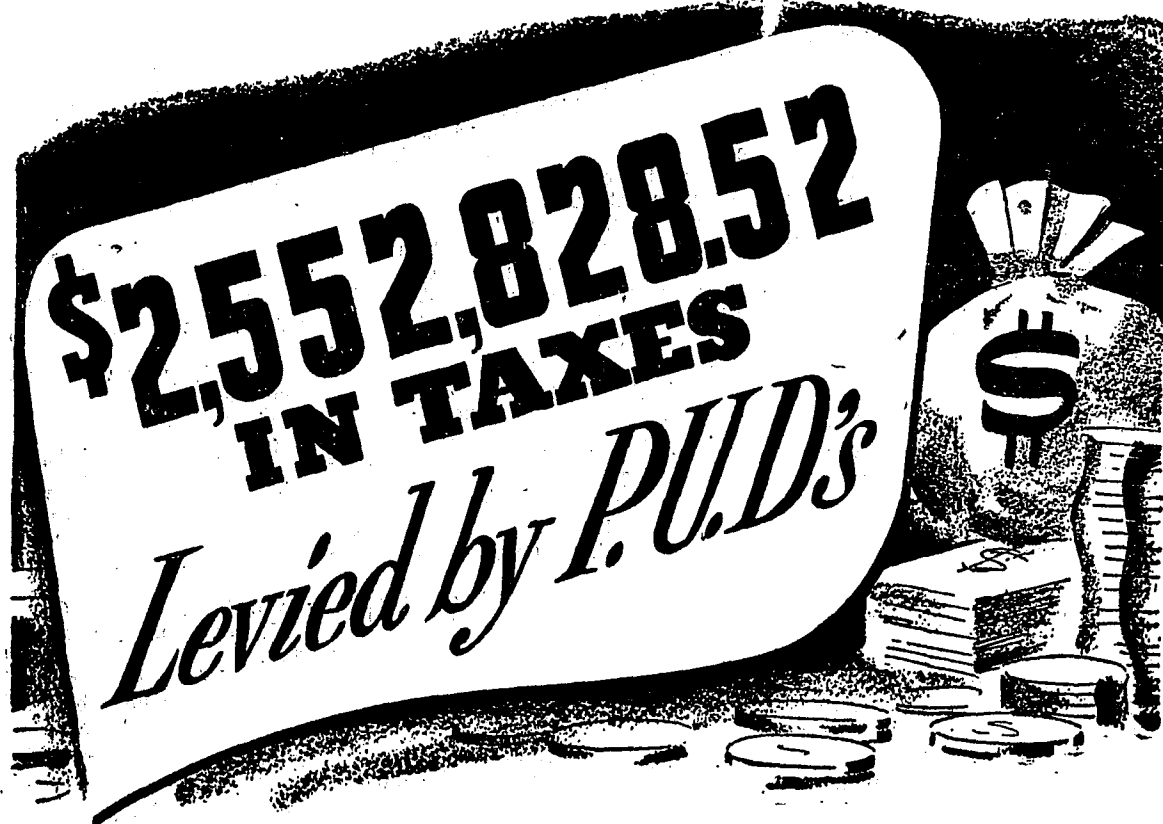

While in the east the Vandals will also meet Georgetown, St. Joseph's, Kentucky, Kansas and Wyoming.

Small Loading Chute Handy

Anyone selling any pigs or livestock, even on a small scale, will save time and money by having a loading chute.

An actual case was reported where one farmer spent three weeks getting 27 head of cattle loaded for market, just because he didn't have a chute. That was a lot of time and money wasted.

Also a few boards nailed into a chute will cut down the risk of injury to the animals, keep them from getting too excited, and start them on their way to market in better condition.

The Taxpayer must subsidize P.U.D.'s

Much of the cost of the P.U.D. experiment in Washington is hidden in the taxes the P.U.D.'s have collected.

The table at the right tells the story—more than two-and-a-half million dollars levied on the taxpayer to subsidize P.U.D.'s! Many of these P.U.D.'s are selling electricity—but collecting taxes, too, in order to make ends meet.

By contrast to the tax-eating P.U.D.'s, The Washington Water Power pays taxes, and thus reduces the amount of your tax bill.

Isn't $2,552,828 a pretty high price to pay for an experiment in socializing business?

Confined Turkeys May Be Profitable

Many Advantages Seen For This System—But!

Excellent turkeys may be raised in confinement. Better control can be secured. The method is well adapted for growers with small-sized flocks, for late-hatched birds that are not ready for range before fall weather begins, where there is danger of soil contamination, on high-priced land or on farms with limited acreage. Also the problem of predators, etc., may make it advisable to grow turkeys confined. Acreage, topography, drainage and texture of the soil are other important factors that H. H. Kauffman of Pennsylvania state college recommends be considered when ranging turkeys.

Labor, expense of equipment, overhead expenses, etc., are often smaller when large flocks are reared on range than in confinement.

In hilly country the turkeys should be moved to the valleys in the fall, as they reach maturity and the season of stormy weather approaches.

Japanese Long-Horned

Weevil Invades U. S.

Another native insect pest of Japan may prove a menace to America if not destroyed in time, says Harry B. Weiss, chief of the N. J. bureau of plant industry. The Japanese long-horned weevil which has been introduced into the United States.

Japanese long-horned weevil was first discovered by Weiss in 1916.

The adults are primarily foliage feeders on more than 100 host plants, including annuals, perennials, shrubs, deciduous trees and evergreens. The use of 25 per cent Cryolite dust was found effective at Connecticut in the control of the Japanese long-horned weevil.

Fertilize Your Apple

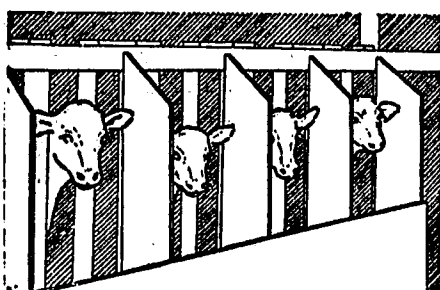

Trees During October

Late September, October and November is the time for making a fall application of fertilizer on bearing apple trees.

The nitrogen which gets into the trees this fall is an insurance that the trees will get off to a good start next spring, believes D. S. Brown of the University of Illinois.

For trees of good vigor, an application of sulfate of ammonia, or its equivalent in another nitrogen carrier, at the rate of from one-fourth to one-half pound per year of tree age may be used. The fall application should be followed by another at or before time of bloom in the spring.

Partition for Calves

When calves are placed in the barn for feeding, complete partitions should be erected in order that each calf secures its proper amount of food. Proper growth cannot be accomplished when calves of various ages and sizes are allowed to compete for their daily ration.

Outbreaks of European

Red Mites in Orchards

Because of the fact that DDT does not kill European red mites but does destroy certain of the insects that prey on this pest, the increase of the mites in orchards is of vital concern.

While the feeding of the insect during September and October will have little effect upon the fruit crop, they do injure the tree permanently. A dinitro spray, D-4, or summer oil spray is effective.

Machinery Revolutionized World's Farming Methods

Up until 1800, farming methods had remained much as they had been in the days of Julius Caesar, and humanity continued to suffer from inadequate food supplies. The change from iron-covered wooden plows to cast iron plows had marked agriculture's chief mechanical progress.

Most of the farm machinery which has done so much to revolutionize the world's agriculture originated in the United States. The reaper was invented in 1831, the mower and threshing machine in 1834, the first combine in 1836. These implements reduced the time required to harvest an acre of wheat from 36 man-hours to less than 12.

Today various labor-saving machines on U. S. farms are estimated to number in excess of 10 million. Further, this same mechanization of farming methods has been extended to practically every land, through the export of American machines. Before the war, U. S. manufacturers exported approximately 125 million dollars worth of farm machines a year, a fourth going to Europe. Farm implement factories in the United States, about 1,200 in number, have made a direct contribution to the war, turning out war machines and parts. Some of the larger factories have been engaged 75 per cent in war work.

Burners Need Frequent Cleaning for Efficiency

Surface burners need regular, thorough cleaning. Take them out, brush away food or dust particles with a stiff brush. Use a brush also to clean the air shutter. If openings in the burners are clogged, use a fine wire to clean them. Beware of toothpicks; they may break and further clog the burner.

Clean cast-iron burners by boiling them for a short time in a solution of washing soda; one tablespoon to three quarts of water. Then wash in soap and water. Use a bottle brush to clean the inside of the tube leading to the burner head. Rinse the burners in clear water, and wipe dry. Put them upside down in the warm oven for a few minutes to dry thoroughly before replacing.

Burners of materials other than cast iron should not be boiled in soda water. A soap and water bath will usually clean them satisfactorily, with the aid of a scratchless scouring powder and fine steel wool.

Mowing Machine

There is probably no piece of farm equipment that suffers more from poor adjustment and lack of care than the mowing machine. Most cutting troubles of the mower can be traced to the cutting bar. This bar is a vital part of a mower and consists of a series of shears whose blades must be kept sharp for best results. The two parts forming the shears are known as knife sections and ledger plates, and they must be properly adjusted along the entire length of the cutter bar. The knife holder must keep the sections down against the ledger plates without binding and without too much clearance. In repairing a mower it is necessary to remove all the broken or badly worn knife sections by shearing them off. This is easily done over the anvil by cutting out the rivets. If the guards have become dulled, they may be sharpened by grinding them to a blunt point. Guards that are too badly worn or have broken ledger plates should be replaced. Badly worn shearing plates or knife holders can also be replaced, and it is very important that all guards fit snugly against the cutter bar.

Calf Care

Calves should be kept in individual pens, where practical, until they are three to four months old. After reaching that age they may be housed in groups of two to four. Their pens should be kept dry, clean, and freshly bedded daily. Small calves should not be exposed directly to hot summer sun for long periods. A constant, fresh supply of water should be kept available to the calves. After the calf is four to six months old, it should have access to all the tender grazing it will take. Spring and early summer calves will need daily feeds of dry hay and sufficient grain to keep them in growing condition through their first year. Late summer and early fall calves should be ready to turn to pasture by late spring. However, they should be watched to make sure that they continue to grow.

Most From Soap

To get full cleaning power of soap, use just enough and dissolve it thoroughly. Mild soap is best for ordinary washing; stronger soap, for very dirty or greasy clothes. Strong soap or chemicals are hard on both fabrics and washer.

Soap flakes, chips, beads and powder save time by dissolving quickly in water, but bar soap, shaved or grated and then made into a soap jelly with a little boiling water, may be cheaper. Whisk the water about as the soap goes in, to dissolve it completely before the clothes go in. This prevents soap spots on clothes. Use just enough soap to make suds about two inches thick. Too much or too little soap does not wash satisfactorily. If the suds thin out in washing, more soap may be added.

Personal Failures Chief

Cause of Auto Mishaps

Statistics reveal that the fault for most auto accidents lies directly or indirectly with the man or woman at the wheel. Neither "super-duper" highways nor motor vehicle mechanical marvels will overcome driver shortcomings. Safety largely begins and ends with the driver.

Even accidents appearing on the records as resulting from mechanical defects, as faulty brakes, in the opinion of many authorities, should be transferred in the safety ledger to driver shortcomings. As the report of the motor vehicle commissioner of New York state points out: "No operator drives his car at excessive speed, runs a motor vehicle with inadequate brakes, or proceeds under dangerous conditions of weather without knowingly doing so."

Similarly, a leading highway engineer of the government discounts the widely held assumption that expenditure of large sums of money for highway construction necessarily may bring greater safety if driver shortcomings are neglected. This road engineer declares that the big job of reconstruction is to be found in the drivers themselves, asserting that "highway engineers cannot design or build fool-proof roads."

Army Develops New

Knife for Servicemen

A new pocketknife that defies rust and corrosion — one that all servicemen have been looking for, and which will interest sportsmen as well — has been developed by the army quartermaster corps. The blades consist of a large cutting blade, spear pattern; a leather punch; a can opener; and a combination cap-lifter and screwdriver with a stud.

The new knife's four blades are made of a recently developed high-carbon cutlery steel. The knife is three and three-quarter inches long when closed, has stainless steel springs and handles, brass bolsters and nickel-silver rivets and clevis.

The can opener is of an improved design that makes a safe edge on the can after the top is cut out, protects the hands from injury, and makes the empty can usable for a drinking cup. It may be used on any metal container from a five gallon gasoline can to a box of sardines. The combination blade is designed as a tool for first echelon maintenance work.

Corn Discovery

A piece of Peruvian pottery taken from Incan ruins in 1919 and rushed to the United States was proclaimed after due study to be a true fossil of an ear of corn. Agricultural historians were crossed up by the announcement by the archeologists, because there had been a general agreement that corn probably originated within the last 1,500 years. But here was petrification offering undeniable proof that good maize existed 100,000 years ago. All corn research progress had to be undone, it seemed, until Dr. Roland Brown of the United States geological survey discovered that the pottery was a perfect double for corn, all right, but that it was hollow and a clever clay copy. Perhaps it had been a Peruvian child's plaything.

Safe Chimneys

Chimneys located on a side roof should extend at least 2½ feet above the roof peak; located at the peak they should extend 2 feet above it; on a flat roof at least 3 feet above the roof. Every masonry chimney should have fire-clay flue lining. House roof, floors and walls should be built so no combustible material is within 2 inches of the chimney, and this space filled with fireproof insulating material. Masonry chimneys must be free-standing—giving no support to and receiving none from the house. A spread footing below frost line should support the chimney. A stone or concrete chimney cap sheds water and preserves the masonry.

Speed Control

In a detailed study of 892 accidents reported by the U. S. bureau of public roads, speed excessive for conditions was given as one of the accident causes in 636 cases — three out of four. According to this report, speed outranked by far any one of the other accident factors. One expert of a large casualty company after years of study of highway accident causes and prevention, asserts that the record shows clearly "That the control of speed is the greatest single need in the field of highway safety," adding that in the last year of unrationed driving, 1941, "exceeding the speed limit caused 11,310 deaths."

Faulty Eyesight

In a group of 44,591 applicants for driver licenses in Connecticut only 24,272, or little more than half of the applicants, were found to have normal vision. Of the 20,319 found to have visual shortcomings, 72 were denied licenses and 13,042 were granted unconditional licenses because their shortcomings, at the time of examination, were not great. Of the 7,215 who, without glasses, had visual errors sufficiently great as to render them unsafe drivers, only 4,436 were voluntarily wearing glasses. The balance had apparently never discovered their shortcomings and had taken no steps to overcome their handicap.

Hey, You! Don't Monkey With My Headgate

More Bean Regulations
Because of a short bean crop this year and the resultant increasing demand for this food commodity, statements received by John J. Gerber, district director of OPA, from different producing sections, indicate practices in contradiction to price ceiling regulations. "This year, all transactions involving the sale of beans from producers to consumers are in effect," the dispatch points out. "Ceilings are presented for the specifically defined 'sound bean' so that any transactions above ceiling, either by direction or indirection, are in violation of RMPR No. 270. Carlot consignments which disclose the buyer was compelled to purchase another commodity, such as peas, in order to obtain an allotment of beans, is a tie-in sale and a contradiction of the regulation.

In addition to the requirement that a certificate of inspection accompany each sale, a recent amendment adds that truckers must now display a manifest, giving information as to the persons concerned with the transaction, ownership, price, points of production and destination.

OUTWEARS
PREWAR TIRES

There's no getting away from it! When you have a good thing—word gets around—and FAST! And from our view, it seems everyone is demanding the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES.

FOR EXTRA SAFETY AND EXTRA MILEAGE THE NEW
B. F. Goodrich Silvertown IS WORTH THE WAIT!

The new Silvertown tires have been setting records for long mileage, safety and economy not only on taxi fleets, police cars and special test cars but in regular car owner use. These new tires are built with a broader, flatter tread that puts more rubber in contact with the road, spreading the wear over a larger area. To hold this heavier tread, B. F. Goodrich engineers developed a 35% stronger cord body with stronger cords and more of them... This meant better bruise resistance, greater safety. If you want the tire that OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES, place your order today. A little wait will be rewarded with today's biggest money's worth in tires.

Many Game Law Violations

Seventy-nine arrests were reported during September by the Idaho fish and game department, according to a summary received this week.

Ada county topped the list with 19; Boise was second with eight and Bannock third with six. Other arrests by counties included: Elmore and Canyon, five each; Bear Lake, Fremont and Blaine, three each; Power, Shoshone, Valley, Washington, Cassia, Idaho, Kootenai and Latah, two each; Bonner, Gem, Benewah, Bonneville, Bingham, Twin Falls, Butte, Clearwater, Payette, Minidoka and Jefferson, one each.

Most frequent violation was fishing without a license or improper license. Fourteen fines were paid on that charge. Nine people were arrested for fishing in closed waters. Other cases included: Three for dynamiting trout; five for catching more than the limit of trout; two for killing deer in closed season; two for killing grouse in closed season; and five for improper hunting of elk.

Gallohi Invites New Members

The Gallohi, dramatics club of the Lewiston Normal school, held its try-out for the year for prospective members on Monday afternoon, September 15, in room 16 of the Ad. building. Miss Silverthorne, the advisor of the group, gave a short talk describing to the new students the ideals and activities which the group hoped to perform during the coming school term. Several students tried out before the old members and later were sent invitations inviting them to become members of the club.

Among the new members thus invited was Wilma Cuddy, Southwick.

The Jumping Frenchman

General DeGaulle, former head of the French government, has been heard from again. In a recent speech he urged an alliance between Britain and France in order to protect those countries from "future relations of America and Russia." DeGaulle appears to forget that the United States, with the help of Great Britain, has defeated Germany twice in his lifetime — the last time when France lay supine under the German iron heel.

Too many "statesmen" like DeGaulle are trying to turn the world backward — into chaos.

Watch Out!

—or Prohibition Will Bring Back the Al Capones!

Make no mistake about it! The "Local Option Prohibition Act" and the "Idaho Sobriety Act," are meant to bring prohibition to Idaho.

The "Local Option Act" would permit a minority group to bring prohibition to any county by petition; it eliminates the secret ballot.

If Prohibition Comes

1. Local Option Prohibition Will NOT Stop Liquor Traffic People who want to procure liquor will still do so. Any community which "goes dry" simply substitutes BOOTLEGGING and untaxed selling for supervised, taxed, legal sale of alcoholic beverages.	2. Your Taxes Will Go Up Taxes on liquor are very high. Thus, those who spend money for alcoholic beverages pay a bigger share of the tax load. If the liquor traffic is driven under cover, it will become untaxed and the state, county and federal governments will have to raise other taxes to take the place of the revenue so lost.	3. Respect for Law Goes Down Experience has shown that prohibition brings bootleggers. Bootleggers create graft and lack of respect for all laws. Thus, prohibition won't stop evil. It will only create MORE evils!

Thousands of thoughtful, sober, temperate people will vote against the Initiatives entitled "The Local Option Prohibition Act" and "The Idaho Sobriety Act" simply on the basis that they are unworkable and impractical. Think before you vote! Prohibition does NOT stamp out evil!

Let That Beef Age
A timely question is: "How long should a home-slaughtered beef hang and at what temperature?" Bill Laher, assistant animal husbandman and meat specialist at the University of Idaho says: "Chill all slaughtered beef at a temperature of 30 to 38 degrees for 36 to 48 hours. Split the carcass at the time of dressing. Take care the sides don't touch when chilling.
"Beef will become more tender if allowed to age in the chill room for five to 10 days after slaughter. During this aging period the tissues are broken down by bacterial and chemical action and the meat is tenderized. The length of aging will depend upon the degree of finish of the carcass. The more finish the longer the carcass can age before excessive mold develops."

Watch Your Cows At Night
It's a good idea to keep in mind what a cow does with her time at night. She does lots more than just sleep, according to observations made at Louisiana State university and reported in the last Hoard's Dairyman. In warm weather bossy spends most of the night grazing, if she has a chance. This is to make up for time spent lying in the shade during the heat of the day. In cooler weather daytime grazing more than doubled, but even so, the milk cows under observation grazed more at night than during the day.
So, if pasturing bossy, get her out on the pasture as soon as possible after the morning milking.

Registration closes Nov. 2. Anyone wishing to register call at the G. F. Brocke home. 43-2

TEAKEAN GOSSIP

Mr. and Mrs. Ethon Egelston of Glendora, Calif., and Martha Hayes of Kamiah have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brown for several days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Choate and family, Mrs. Orval Choate and daughters, Gordon Choate, Donald Wright, Al. Heimark and Mr. and Mrs. Gifford Brown were Lewiston visitors Saturday.

Everyone had a good time at the Grange hall Saturday night. After visiting and playing games, ice cream and cake were served. This Saturday night is Grange night.

Mr. and Mrs. Al. Heimark went to Odessa Sunday to bring home their tractor.

Miss Clara Chladek of Lapwai visited a few days with her sister, Mrs. R. E. Brock and family. She returned home Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chladek, who visited at the Brock home Sunday.

Ray Lougee took a load of cattle to Lewiston for Marion Groseclose Saturday. Dal. Groseclose also took a load down the same day.

Guests at the Clifford Brown home Sunday were Martha Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Ethon Egelston, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Brown, Bill Marsh and Myrtle Powell.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton Preussler and family have moved to the school cottage to be more convenient for the children to attend school.

Don't forget the Halloween program and pie social being given by the Teakean school children this Friday night — October 25.

MAKE YOUR PLANS FOR TOMORROW TODAY!

The spectre of want, privation or poverty need never haunt you if you take just one important step. No depression will worry you... no seasonal or industrial "layoffs"... no fear of unemployment... no housing problems to beset you... no worries over medical, dental or hospital bills... excellent food and clothing all provided.

A good starting salary with almost certain regular increases. A fat monthly retirement income for life after 20 years' service (much greater after 30 years). All these advantages and many more are yours. If you can qualify for enlistment in the NEW regular United States Army! You'd better hurry, as qualifications for enlistment are being steadily raised!

That's right! Enlistment in the finest army in the world is your guaranteed insurance of "freedom from want" now, or at any time as long as you live. Here is one example of monthly Army pay — and just as a private:

Base Pay	$75.00

WHEAT FUTURES AND CASH GRAIN SHOW ADVANCES

Domestic grain markets generally were strong with the futures showing a sharp advance in prices during the past week, according to reports to the Production and Marketing Administration by the United States Department of Agriculture. Trading slowed down somewhat early in the week, and the active demand which had developed in the mid-western markets the previous week for Pacific Northwest white wheat suddenly subsided after an amount estimated by the trade to be around a million bushels had been purchased. Offerings from the producing areas which had been rather liberal slackened materially and trading was virtually at a standstill except for high grade milling red winter, hard red spring and hard white, which were in good demand by the milling interests. The crop report of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, as of October 1, states that the biggest wheat crop in the nation's history is now assured. Production of all wheat is indicated at 1,169,422,000 bushels. This is 46,000,000 bushels larger than the previous all-time record achieved last year. The winter wheat crop of 880,000,000 bushels, all of which is harvested, set a new high. Idaho, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Washington broke all previous records for all wheat production. Spring wheat production is estimated at 289,528,000 bushels, or 2,000,000 bushels more than a month ago.

The cash wheat prices in the Portland market, while not reflecting the full advance in the Chicago wheat futures were a half cent per bushel higher on the ordinary grades of wheat at the end of the week. Trading had been quiet during most of the week. The milling interests were largely confining their purchases to high grade milling wheat, especially hard white and the feed trade appears to have taken care of their immediate requirements for feed wheat. Box cars are difficult to secure and shipments are being delayed. Receipts of wheat at the Columbia river terminals during the week consisted of 394 cars and at the Puget Sound terminals of 417 cars, compared with 376 and 379 cars, respectively, for the previous week.

Bid prices on the Portland Grain Exchange at the end of the week were as follows: Soft white and hard red winter (ordinary) $1.84; soft white (no Rex) white club, and western red, $1.84½, all per bushel basis, No. 1 grade, for 15-day shipment, coast delivery.

The San Francisco wheat market showed little change during the week with prices holding practically the same as in other recent weeks. Local offerings were light, and this, together with the strength in other markets, made for steadiness in the local situation, although current demand continued quite moderate. Bay region flour mills were reported as securing most of their wheat requirements in other areas, while demand for wheat for feeding purposes was well below other recent seasons. Stocks in growers' hands were reported as reduced to rather low levels, and were being firmly held for somewhat higher prices than the current bids of around $3.25 per 100, country warehouse receipt basis, for No. 1 hard and soft white wheats sacked. Offerings from Pacific Northwestern and Intermountain shippers were smaller than earlier in the season, and at prices largely unchanged from a week ago.

The San Francisco market quotations at the close of the week showed California grown No. 1 hard white and soft white wheats at $3.50 to $3.52½ per 100, sacked basis. Washington-Oregon No. 2 soft white and No. 2 hard winter were $3.35 to $3.37½; Idaho-Utah No. 2 hard winter at $3.37½ per 100, bulk.

Grain markets at Kansas City were generally firm and steadily tended higher during the week just past. Mills continued to struggle between advancing costs of wheat and bakery flour ceilings, and wheat for this class of trade frequently went to other classes of trade. Stocks on hand increased in importance because of inability to replenish them. Smaller receipts of wheat at Kansas City, amounting to only 839 cars, met with a steadily good demand. While merchandisers were not active there was constant demand for the lower grades of wheat for feed, largely because of the shortage of corn.

The cash wheat tone at Minneapolis was mixed at the end of the week. Grain in the better milling grades bracket was 2c higher. The change in cash price structure took place when mill interest in high protein wheat diminished because of prohibitive flour ceilings, while mill demand for ordinary wheat was supplemented by C. C. buying. At the close ordinary grade No. 1 dark northern spring was quoted at $2.08 to $2.09.

Wheat stocks on farms October 1 are indicated at 559,696,000 bushels compared with 628,218,000 bushels a year ago. Current farm stocks represent nearly 48 per cent of the record 1946 crop. They are greater than this date of any other year except the 640 million bushels on farms in October of 1942. Disappearance of over 652,000,000 bushels of wheat from farms in the first quarter of this marketing year is the second highest on record, surpassed only in 1945. Prospects for a record breaking corn crop improved somewhat in September.

Stocks of oats on farms October 1 are estimated at 1,171,622,000 bushels. This is about 9 per cent above the 1935-44 average for this date. Stocks remaining on farms are equivalent to about 77 per cent of the 1946 production. Disappearance of oats from the 1946 supply on farms (July 1 farm stocks plus the 1946 production) totaled 633,467,000 bushels. This is about 167,000,000 bushels more than disappeared during the corresponding quarter of 1945, and 270,000,000 bushels more than average for the quarter.

Wheat purchases by the Commodity Credit Corporation from October 5 to 9, inclusive, totaled 1,050,418 bushels, bringing the total since September 9, to 19,366,910 bushels.

Game License Sales Soar
Fish and game license sales zoomed to a new high in September and brought the year's total to an unprecedented total, says a report received this week.

In a tabulation for the fish and game department the report said that 128,895 resident licenses had been sold this season. The report covered the five months from May through September. This total or nearly 129,000 compares with 96,000 resident licenses at the same time in 1945.

Non-resident fishermen have nearly doubled. In 1946 the report showed 9,791 non-resident season licenses, compared with 5,218 a year ago. In 10-day tourist fishing licenses the increase is about 100 per cent. This year the figure is 21,331 — a year ago it was 10,956.

Number of hunters has also increased greatly, the report said. Facts on the boom probably will not be completely tabulated before the end of the year, but all sections of Idaho have reported exceptionally large numbers of deer and elk hunters.

New Recruiter At Lewiston
Chief Harold Hilbert announced this week the arrival of Chief M. E. Beddow for duty at the Lewiston recruiting office. Chief Beddow is a veteran of 18 years service and has had duty in all three war theaters. He was in Manila Bay when the war started. After getting back to the United States he was transferred to the Atlantic on convoy and anti-submarine patrol.

Chief Beddow was one of six chiefs selected from the navy to attend and work at the United Nations Conference at San Francisco in 1945, and looks on that as his most interesting duty since joining the navy.

Potlatch Chief Sez

PUBLISHED BY THE KENDRICK CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY

HI, THERE, FOLKS:

ABOUT MILK:

Faced with rapidly rising costs on every hand, we find ourselves forced to raise the price of milk to 18¢ per quart. If you receive milk via the delivery, please drop a couple of pennies in the bottle along with the ticket.

About Cottage Cheese:

Have you had any "Potlatch Chief" cottage cheese lately? How about a cottage cheese and pear salad tonight — or better still, a cottage cheese and pineapple salad (providing you can find the pineapple). Regardless of what fruit you serve with cottage cheese, as long as it's "Potlatch Chief" cheese, it's a treat for everyone in the family.

And — Speaking of treats, if you want a good treat for dessert, try peanut butter sundaes. To make a peanut-butter topping, just take a butterscotch topping recipe and add peanut butter to suit your own taste. It's all the more delicious if served while still hot. If you haven't the time or sugar to make a butterscotch base for the topping, try plain peanut butter on your ice cream — it's real tasty. However, one thing to remember in making sundaes, a good sundae depends on a good ice cream, and when it comes to good ice cream — "Potlatch Chief" can fill the bill. Take home a quart or more today!

A man came home drunk one evening and tried to explain how it had happened. His wife heard him out, but when he had finished she said reprovingly: "John, when you have drunk all the whiskey you want, you ought to ask for sarsaparilla."

"It jus' won't work, dear," he replied. "When I sh drunk all the whiskey I want, I jus' can't shay 'sashparilla'."

unemployment compensation in Idaho during this week than were paid during the preceding week. This is the sixth consecutive week payments have dropped.

Approximately 66 per cent of the claimants during the week were women. Prominent among claimants during the last six weeks, women workers, normally engaged in seasonal work, cause the unusual percentage at this time of year in Idaho.

Official Board Meeting
The official board of the Kendrick Community church met on Tuesday evening at the Paul Lind home. Dr. Coulter spoke on "Stewardship," which is to be the main emphasis of the church this year. He also announced a church rally in Lewiston next Tuesday evening and a men's dinner at which Bishop Baxter will speak in Clarkston, on Nov. 17, at 5:00 o'clock.

THESE ARE

THE FACTS

AS WE FACE THEM TODAY!

ANTI-FREEZE . . .

Get it anywhere you can find it. There will be very little of the "permanent type" available anywhere. However, we have lots of radiator alcohol.

TIRES . . .

Buy what you can find, where you can find it, if you wish to keep on rolling. However, we get a few now and then — and that Goodyear is worth waiting for.

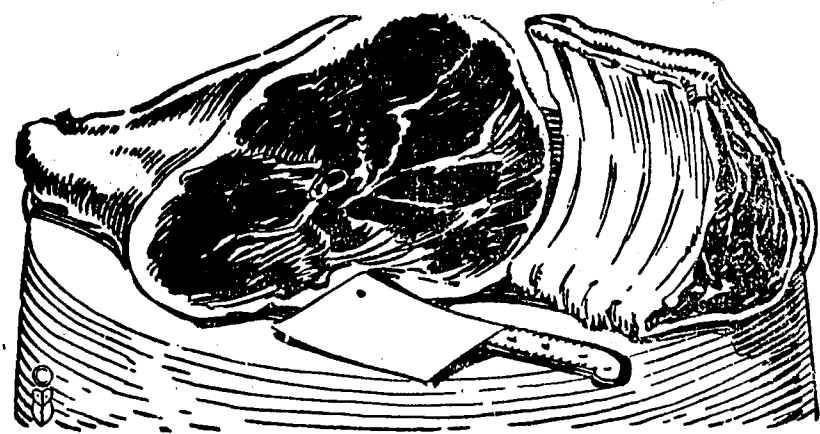

HYDRAULIC BUMPER JACKS . . .

Please be patient. Production limited, due to the war, which is not officially ended.

STORAGE BATTERIES . . .

Conditions are steadily worsening. However, we do get a few now and then. Please don't buy one unless you absolutely need it. They won't keep, you know.
