RUSSELL BENJAMIN RODGERS, CAMERON PIONEER, PASSES

Russell Benjamin Rodgers, 63, a resident of the Cameron area for 52 years, died Monday afternoon at his home near Cameron, a heart attack being the cause of death.

He was born May 9, 1890, at Beaver City, Neb., coming to the Cameron section when but 11 years old and where he had since made his home.

Mr. Rodgers had apparently been in excellent health and Monday went to Cameron to help August Branner, a life-long friend, butcher a calf. While here the attack struck Mr. Rodgers. Dr. Christensen was called, administered aid, and it was believed the attack had passed, but death came suddenly a short time later.

It may be said of Mr. Rodgers that he was a "friend of everyone." No one ever heard him speak ill of another. He was always willing to lend a helping hand to friend and neighbor, and his passing will leave a gap in the Cameron community that will be hard to fill.

Survivors include his wife, Martha, of Cameron; a son, Raymond, of Orofino; a daughter, Adeline Broeneke of Moscow; a brother, Thomas, of Moscow; and two sisters, Mrs. Millie Harris of Southwick and Mrs. Florence Sheneman of Moscow.

The body is at Short's Funeral Home, Moscow, with arrangements pending.

Further details are lacking at this time.

Charles Snyder Passes Suddenly

Charles Snyder, 80, of Kendrick, a north central Idaho resident since 1878, died here Monday at 10:35 a. m., of a heart attack.

He was born July 25, 1873, and lived at Sacramento, Calif., until 1878, when he moved to Juliaetta — engaging in farming for many years.

In 1952, following the death of a brother with whom he lived, he came to Kendrick, making his home with Mrs. Nellie Bly Biddison in the west part of town.

Mr. Snyder was one of the last real pioneers of the Juliaetta region. The present town of Juliaetta is named after his two sister, Julia and Etta Snyder, who preceded him in death.

He never married. Survivors include two brothers, Will Snyder of Bakersfield, Calif., and Gus Snyder, of Texas, and a sister, Clara Snyder, also of Bakersfield, Calif.

Mr. Snyder was apparently in very good health for a man of his age. On the morning of his death he arose as usual, worked a bit about the grounds at the Biddison home, went into the house for a rest, lying down on his bed, and there passed away.

Mr. Snyder was a friendly man, and a popular one, even though he had never married.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2:30 p. m. at the Brower-Wann Chapel. Burial will be in Normal Hill cemetery.

"Grandmother" Caster Passes

Anna Geneva Sears, daughter of Daniel and Mary Sears, pioneer residents of Decatur County, Iowa, was born Aug. 7, 1866, and departed this life Nov. 3, 1953, being 87 years, two months and 26 days of age. She had been an invalid for six years. She was the last of a family of seven children.

On March 22, 1887 she was married to Laurence Caster, who passed away April 23, 1921. To this union was born three children, Clare, Frank and Wilma, Wilma passing away Nov. 25, 1919.

She united with the Brethren church of Leon, Iowa in 1892, being a charter member. She was a great lover of home, always cheerful, gentle and kind, thinking of others at all times.

In 1930 she came to Idaho, making her home with her daughter, Mrs. Clara Biddison at Kendrick for several years. For the past two years she made her home with her granddaughter, Mrs. Ruth Creasy, Custer, Wash. She leaves to mourn her passing one daughter, Mrs. Clara Biddison, and one son, Frank Caster, both of Kennewick, Wash.; three grandchildren, Mrs. C. S. LaHatt and Mrs. R. C. Creasy, both of Custer, Wash., and A. D. Biddison, Kennewick, Wash. One grandson, Charles Lawrence Biddison, went down with the cruise ship Indianapolis, in July 1945. Twelve great-grandchildren also survive.

Brief funeral services were held at Ferndale, Wash., after which her son and granddaughter, Mrs. C. S. LaHatt, accompanied the remains to her old home in Leon, Iowa, where she was laid to rest beside her husband, Laurence Caster, in the beautiful Leon cemetery.

Kindness will open a door when all other keys fail.

SHORT NEWS ITEMS FROM OUR LOCAL SCHOOLHOUSE

Kendrick Loses To Deary

The Kendrick Tiger football team ended its 1953 season last Friday, losing to the Champion Deary Mustangs, 26-12. The victory for Deary gave the Idaho Second District Eight-Man Football League title to the Mustangs with a won-lost record of six victories, one tie and no defeats. The Deary game was a hard-fought, real game of football, with the tension riding high. Deary scored first after recovering an outside kick on the opening kickoff, with Ron Mael crashing three yards for the score.

The Tigers rolled right back when Ron Craig rounded end for 35 yards to the 30-yard line, and on the next play, Craig threw a 30-yard pass to end Don Ingle in the end zone for the score — score, tied, 6-6.

Starting the second quarter Deary drove 55 yards with Mael again scoring from seven yards out. Fred Warner scored the extra point.

The half-time score stood 13 to 6, Deary. Then late in the third quarter Deary marched to the 6-yard line, where Darrel Steel crashed over on a quarterback sneak. Don Mael scored the extra point.

Deary intercepted a Craig pass and scored on a short pass from Steel to Kellom for the final Deary touchdown.

With the score 26 to 6, Deary, the Tigers marched to the 1-yard line, where quarterback Leonard Gustafson crashed into the end zone for the score. Final tally — 26 to 12, Deary.

The Tigers have enjoyed the best football season since Coach Dennis Raciotti has been in charge at Tiger-view. Kendrick scored 170 points to its opponents 93, in seven games, an average of 24 points per game. Sophomore end Roger Christensen was the leading individual scorer with 51 points, catching six passes and two 80-yard kick off returns for touchdowns, and three point-after-touchdown passes. He is followed by Sophomore halfback Jim Armitage with 43 points, six touchdowns and seven extra points.

Next in line are two Senior co-captains, halfback Ron Craig with 31 points and end Don Ingle with 24 points. Craig scored five touchdowns and one extra point; Ingle grabbed four touchdowns passes. Others getting into the scoring column are Freshman halfback Darrell Brocke with two touchdowns for 12 points; Senior quarterback Leonard Gustafson, one touchdown for six points; Junior guard Dick Lohman caught an opponent behind his own end zone for a 2-point safety; and Sophomore halfback Joe Cuddy scored one extra point.

Jim Armitage was the leading ground gainer, followed very closely by Ron Craig. Ron Craig stole the show with his passing and kicking. Ron threw ten touchdown passes to his stick-fingered end, Roger Christensen and Don Ingle, and two extra point passes to Christensen. His punting was the main difference between several of the rough teams the Tigers played this year.

After such a successful season the Tigers are fortunate in only losing four seniors in graduation — Donald Ingle, Ronald Craig, Leonard Gustafson and Raymond Greene, and are looking forward to a great season next year, with 13 of this year's squad returning. Three Juniors, ten Sophomores and five Freshmen are on the hold-over roster for next fall.

The team was very fortunate this year, because they did not miss a day of practice because of the weather or player injuries. The only injury to any player on the team, which was at all serious, was a sprained ankle, suffered by Ronnie Lohman in the last game with Deary.

Cars Are Appreciated

On behalf of the Kendrick High school faculty, students, yell leaders and majorettes, I would like to take this opportunity of thanking all persons taking cars, furnishing transportation and acting as chaperones to the Deary-Kendrick game last Friday. Your whole-hearted support was also appreciated by the ball club — Pep Club Advisor, Fern Lindquist.

Senior Ball Successful

The annual Senior Ball, presented in the High School gym last Friday evening, Nov. 6, was a thoroughly enjoyable affair — and there was a very good sized crowd present to take advantage of the good food, good music, and a festive fall evening.

The theme "Indian Summer" was carried out to perfection in the decorations, with shocks of corn, soft golden lights and gold and brown crepe paper forming the main decorative scheme. Indian "tepees" with all their "mystic symbols" also were present.

We feel the Senior class is to be highly complimented on their handling of this annual dance from start to finish.

Wonderful Fall Weather

This area has been enjoying the most glorious fall weather imaginable. We have had bright, sunny days, and clear, starlit nights, with a heavy white frost visible each morning — although roses are still blooming in protected areas, and chrysanthemums are to be seen in many local flower gardens.

Loggers have been taking fullest advantage of the fine weather to proceed with woods work, and loaded logging trucks are a regular sight as they pass through town.

Farmers are longing for rain — it being almost too dry to do plowing of any consequence, and seeding is a risk.

In observance of their Golden Wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Swenson, 323 Delsol Lane, Lewiston, held open house October 25, with more than 90 relatives and friends calling to wish them many happy returns.

On either side of the four-tiered wedding cake, centering the table, were white spiral candles in crystal holders, tied with gold bows, a gift of an old friend, Mrs. Johanna Nelson.

Big Bear ridge, who cut and served the cake — after the "bride and groom" cut the first piece. The white crocheted table cloth was lined with gold. Mrs. Ed. Swenson, sister-in-law, poured, and Mrs. Clarence Halsey, a cousin of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Virginia Snyder, a granddaughter, had charge of the guest book. Mrs. Montie Helm and Louis Snyder assisted in opening gifts.

State Shovel Crew Busy

The state crew equipped with a shovel and several trucks, not to mention a bulldozer, which has been operating here for the past three weeks, is still busy widening and straightening the road between Kendrick and Juliaetta — a job which should have been done many years ago, for several serious accidents have occurred on the narrow portions in recent years.

Several hundred yards of earth and clay were removed from the hill near the Werner Brammer ranch home, and this used in making a large fill near the Jasper Nutting home — which ultimately will become the roadbed — or so we are told.

On the hill at the foot of the ranch road approach leading to the Arthur Johns and Dallas Groseclose farms, a good many yards of earth were also removed from the bank, widening and straightening that portion of the road, and closer to Juliaetta, below the Leon Branson farm, the narrow sections are also being widened and ditches cleaned.

These new portions cannot, of course, be oiled this fall, but gravel will be distributed and the whole made safe for travel.

It is a big improvement, all-in-all, and area residents appreciate this work of the highway department very much.

Kills Big Lynx Sunday

Bud Gephart, who has hunted big game every year "since he was knee high to a grasshopper," but who, after spending several weeks in the Veterans' hospitals at Spokane and Seattle this past summer, said he didn't feel quite up to a hunt this fall — did alright for himself last Sunday.

Bud was sitting on a "deer stand" on his "homestead" the other side of Southwick, patiently waiting for an unwary deer to put in an appearance, when he heard a slight sound, looked, and rubbed his eyes in astonishment — for there, looking him straight in face, was a big lynx.

Bud slowly raised his "gas pipe special," pulled the trigger, and when the smoke of battle had cleared, found he had killed a really big lynx.

Measurement of the cat showed a height of 2 feet and 2 inches, and a length (not including stub tail) of more than two feet.

Bud says the "tassels" on its ears were unusually long and of a quite dark color.

Bud said, when he returned from the hospital, that he didn't feel up to licking his weight in wildcats — but he seems to have gotten a fair start in that direction, at least.

Kamiah To Have Newspaper

Kamiah has shown steady growth during the past few years, due in a large part to the installation and operation of a lumber mill by the Twin Feathers company, the mill recently being sold to Potlatch Forests, Inc. Kamiah is also expected to flourish when the Lolo Trail highway becomes a reality.

Newest addition to the town's business firms is a newspaper and job printing shop. The equipment passed through Genesee Wednesday of last week, with the origin of shipment reported as Mullan, Idaho, with a connection made at Spirit Lake. The paper at Mullan discontinued publication about a year ago.

Kamiah has been without a newspaper for about 20 years, and business men there have been interested in securing a local publication. — The Genesee News.

Mr. Wilkerson, Spirit Lake, who is to be the owner-operator of the Kamiah paper, was in Kendrick some three weeks ago, enroute to Kamiah. He inspected equipment at the Gazette.

Bridge Work Progressing

Excellent progress is being made on the two new bridges being built in this area — one across the Middle Potlatch at Juliaetta, and the other across Bear Creek at Kendrick, by Kenneston & Huntley, contractors.

At Juliaetta both footings have been poured, and the piers are being readied for concrete, steel being put in the forms.

At Kendrick, one footing has been poured on the Kendrick side, and the excavation for one pier, on bedrock, is almost complete. Two bulldozers have been working at Kendrick, putting in one approach on the east side of the creek, at the rear of Mrs. Dave Gentry's home.

Should the present fine weather hold there is every reason to believe that the concrete and steel pier and footing work on these two structures can be completed this fall.

W. S. C. S. Circle Nov. 19

Mrs. H. C. Schupfer will entertain the Kendrick W. S. C. S. Circle on Thursday, Nov. 19, in her home.

The afternoon will be spent in tearing and rolling bandages for missionary work. All are asked to bring old sheets for this purpose. The hostesses will be Mrs. Hiram Galloway and Mrs. D. A. Christensen.

Watch And Listen For Jets

Many towns in northern Idaho will be treated to a high speed "flyby" aerial show by four F-86D jet interceptors from Geiger Air Force base on Saturday.

The flight will be made in recognition of the Ground Observer Corps and the fact that Potlatch Forests, Inc., is officially joining the GOC on Sunday. The company will utilize its radio network to maintain observation posts throughout its operating area.

The jets are scheduled to fly over Coeur d'Alene, Moscow and Lewiston, as well as nearby communities, at approximately 1:00 p. m. on Saturday, showing their speed and maneuverability.

Air Force officials who have been training PFI woods personnel in GOC procedure, arranged the flight in recognition not only of the company's contribution to Civil Defense but to salute as well the many volunteers who are manning GOC posts throughout northern Idaho, it was announced from Spokane.

Conducting Clothing Drive

A used clothing drive is being conducted by the Nazarene Church of Juliaetta, and the Assembly of God church of Kendrick.

Its purpose is to obtain desperately needed clothing for refugees in South Korea. All types of clothing and shoes, with the exception of high-heeled shoes, are very acceptable. Infants and childrens wear is urgently needed. Clothing may be left in Juliaetta at the Cash Store, or arrangements for pickup made by phoning Dial-2462. It may be taken to Long's Store in Kendrick, or phone 741 for pickup.

The Ladies Missionary groups of the two churches will have a joint meeting the last of next week to prepare the clothing for shipment to Tacoma, from where it will be sent immediately to South Korea. Your help will be appreciated.

Will Wear Length They Please

Western women are not likely to adopt the shorter skirts this year, in the opinion of Esther Nystrom, clothing specialist of the University of Idaho extension service, but she believes the trend will be popular within 18 months.

She agrees with merchants, who feel that the change in styles will not have any pronounced effect on sales this year. A definite change in fashion, she says, seldom makes itself felt throughout the country until a season or two after the style leaders adopt it.

"The common forecast," she says, "is to get ready to shorten skirts one inch next year. I believe it is merely a question of time until the public accepts the shorter skirts. I think short skirts will be an integral part of fashion within a year. It may be as much as a year and a half."

"There appears to be some resistance now, but it usually turns out that what becomes fashion women will buy. The new Paris line is said to be 14 1/2 inches off the ground. The president of a large American firm has advised women to shorten their skirts one inch. So far skirts have remained about the same as they were in the spring. The dictation of style has not had time, though to reach out and cover the country.

"The American woman will wear what suits her taste. That taste is governed to a large extent by style leaders, but she will continue to wear what best suits her figure."

Certain types of skirts, however, will not be seen so frequently when and if the shorter fashion becomes a reality, in the opinion of Miss Nystrom.

"Slim skirts do not lend themselves to shorter lengths," she said. "I do not believe that women will want the Sadie Thompson look that brings their skirts above their knees when they sit down. Full skirts are another matter. They do lend themselves to various lengths."

BENNIE COOK WRITES OF ARMY LIFE IN KOREA

There is absolutely no crowding in Japan compared with the way these people are forced to live. In Pusan (I'll use that city for an example) people live with anything and everything imaginable. The homes, if you would call them that, are made of everything from mud and tin cans, to holes dug in the hill sides. Hundreds of little shacks line the railroad tracks and city streets, each one being a one-room affair which, in many cases, probably houses a very large family. All of us have seen the typical little shacks many of our American "hobos" have erected along the tracks and in the "jungles" at the outskirts of our cities. Compare those little shacks with thousands of the homes these people live in and you will find our American "bum" lives in a castle. Everything here is so packed together and all live in each others' lap. They are so crowded it's hard to see how they exist. Even the facilities that Japanese housekeepers have are very modern if you notice the hardships pressed on a Korean mother. She cooks the family meals over an open fire which the "old man" built outside the house. In millions of cases the people are so poor they resort to stealing any kind of material that will burn so that they can have a fire.

In Pusan, while riding in a jeep to the railroad station one early morning, we drove past many little piles of wood where people were waiting in line to get their ration. As you drive down the main "jaunt" of Pusan, along both sides of the street are hundreds of little shacks, and in front of each is a little fire, burning and smoking like the one we build back home when out camping (only smaller). That early morning, everyone was just coming out of their little homes and the women were preparing the morning meal. Just like all of us, they wash their hands and face when they arise from a night's sleep — but most of the Korean townspeople wash in the nearby gutter!

Drive down that same street in the afternoon and you see the women washing their laundry in that same gutter. That water seems to be used for a great many purposes—too numerous to mention.

Most of the people wear nothing but rags, few having a complete set of garments. Their clothes are dirty, but nothing can be done about it because they haven't the facilities to keep them clean. I saw babies without clothing, their entire bodies exposed to the weather and filth, crawling and playing on the ground even in the bitter cold mornings. Many small tots that morning were hugging the fire trying to keep warm and others were snugly tied to their mother's backs. Some were playing with sticks and stones on the ground while others sat propped against the wall of their home, crying bloody murder because they had nothing to play with or because they weren't being given enough attention.

There were a lot of other things I saw that morning and several times since that have really made me think. During an average day people just "mill around" on the streets and railroad tracks looking for something to salvage or something to steal. We can hardly blame them for stealing because they have suffered the harmful effects of war and are at the point of living or dying. You see lines and more lines of people waiting for a ration of food or waiting at the door of an employment office, looking for a job to give them enough money to live on. I've talked to several Koreans here at the camp and some have told of the poverty — a sickening story.

When our train stopped at a village along the line to refuel the engine, children would run to the train and hold out their hands in the hopes some GI would throw them something. It doesn't make much difference what you throw them, because anything just adds a little to their chances of survival. There are four times too many kids to satisfy, soon you run out of little things you don't need, so you just have to sit back and listen to their begging. It's hard to do, but just another of those things.

Like Japan, the railroads in Korea are used extensively for travel "to and from the office." It is comical to see the many people scampering in and out of railroad stations. The trains are so crowded that they climb through the windows and every available passage in order to get in. It is still a mystery to me how the conductor ever manages to collect his tickets.

The general terrain of the land is a lot like that in Idaho. Not too many trees but plenty of mountains. There are several huge valleys, like the Yakima Valley in Washington. Here the terrain reminds me of Kendrick.

All in all, Bill, a glimpse of the life these Korean people lead is a "picture" of suffering and poverty. I only wish I could explain better. As a civilian a few months ago, I never dreamed conditions could be so shocking. Never again would anyone say "No" when asked to contribute to a Korean relief fund if they could but see life here. I've used some imagination and tried to picture our United States being in the same condition.

I realize that I never knew what the word "suffer" actually means, and I hope never to find out. I haven't received any copies of the Gazette as yet, but Mom tells me they are on the way. Please say "Hello" to everyone at home. — Cordially, Bennie.

It's Blewett's, Kendrick, for fresh and cured meats of all kinds. 1-adv

A HEALTHY FOREST INDUSTRY keeps Idaho prosperous

Potlatch forester inspects beetle damage on inner side of pine bark.

FIGHTING A FOREST KILLER

Potlatch Forests, Inc. today is fighting a forest killer many times as damaging as fire — the Bark Beetle. It is the beetle which drills through bark to lay eggs that feed upon the life-giving cambium layer of a healthy tree. New beetles grow in the tree, the tree is killed and the invasion spreads.

Trained professional Potlatch foresters watch for beetles. When attacks are spotted, salvage logging operations are scheduled to remove the timber. Infested trees, if logged in time, produce top quality lumber. This salvage removes millions of beetles from the forest areas, checking the invasion.

This year Potlatch will log 45 million board feet of infested timber; in 1954, the salvage will increase. Company operations are geared to this type of conservation to protect a resource important to the payrolls and economy of Idaho.

America's First Sports Car Reaches Market

One of the most widely discussed automobiles—the Chevrolet Corvette—has been placed in distribution. A two-passenger open model (with removable top), the car is the American auto industry's first sports car and the first to carry a plastic body built by mass production methods. The Corvette measures only 33 inches high at the door. Wheelbase is 102 inches. Traditional Chevrolet features include a special 150-horsepower "Blue-Flame" engine and a Powerglide automatic transmission. Production followed special showings of an experimental model in many cities.

Low Cost Essential For Farm Building

Concrete Blocks Filling Farm Construction Needs

Concrete blocks are being used more and more in the construction of farm buildings, according to American Builder magazine.

They have been found very serviceable for dairy barn construction, low in first cost and in upkeep.

Attributes that contribute to concrete's value as a building material on the farm are its durability, cleanliness, and weather and insect resistant qualities. Concrete foundations, masonry unit walls, concrete floors, and precast floor joists can be utilized to construct enduring farm structures and to repair old ones.

Dairy barn of concrete blocks and with a roof of fire-resistant asphalt shingles provides an efficient structure low in cost and in upkeep.

If a dairy barn is well-constructed and insulated, body heat of the cows would keep interior temperatures at 45 to 50 degrees in almost any kind of weather.

Lightweight aggregates in monolithic concrete or in masonry units, vermiculite floors and underlayers, hollow core walls, and masonry units with granular loose-filled pores all have qualities that can contribute to the efficiency of rural buildings.

Less Than Half of U.S. Farm Homes Have Baths

Less than one-half of the nation's more than 4,000,000 farm homes have baths and only half of the rooms are heated, a study of rural housing accommodations revealed.

Excessive standardization to relieve early postwar housing shortages resulted in the building of mediocre farm homes of rectangular, box-like design with too small rooms, too little privacy and absence of adequate plumbing and heating facilities.

However, under impetus of a U.S. department of agriculture program, farm house plans have recently been developed that are expected to fulfill the fundamental requirements. The new plans call for space, equipment and storage facilities in proportion to the number of persons in the family.

Coupled with the benefits of a 10-year electrification program that has brought electricity to 75 per cent of the farm homes, this new home designing will open an untapped market for manufacturers of automatic equipment and home appliances.

Federal Funds Allotted
Missoula, Mont. — Federal funds in the amount of $198,163 have been allocated to assist in the prevention and control of forest fires on state and private forest lands in Idaho and Montana during the fiscal year 1954. These funds constitute an annual allotment under the fire control provisions of the Clarke-McNary Law of 1954. The funds allocated Idaho and Montana are part of a total of $9,449,500 made available to all co-operating states.

The objective of this cooperation is to assist the states in providing an adequate system of forest fire protection for state and private lands, according to P. D. Hanson, regional forester. Funds appropriated annually by congress are administered through the United States Forest Service and paid to the state forestry departments where supervision and control of the expenditure of such funds is centered.

Cooperation under the provisions of the Clarke-McNary Law has been one of the primary factors in developing effective fire prevention and control programs in 43 states and the territory of Hawaii.

Tornado Velocity High

The winds inside the spiral of a tornado, after reaching 500 miles an hour, produce some seemingly supernatural results, says Robert Strother in the current Reader's Digest. Blades of grass are blown into fence posts; straws are driven into tree trunks to the depth of an inch; the suction of the tornado strips the feathers from chickens and drains the water from wells.

Pull Out the Car

Although most farmers these days live on a hard surfaced road, there may be an occasion when it would be necessary to pull a car or tractor out of a ditch. The above illustration shows how to get out of that ditch with the least amount of effort. A tow rope hitched to the front end of the car and tied to a stake or tree at right angle at the side of the road, will give you the leverage to get out of almost any place without help.

Crested-Wheatgrass Seed Production Reported Up

The 1950 production of crested-wheatgrass seed is estimated at 5,330,000 pounds of clean seed. This is 5 per cent larger than the 1949 production of 5,090,000 pounds. Larger crops than last year reported for North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana, more than offset the smaller crops indicated for Nebraska, Colorado and Washington. The Colorado crop was near failure in 1950.

Hopes For Cold Winter

"I hope Moscow has an extremely cold winter." This grim desire was expressed in a report received this week by President J. E. Buchanan of the University of Idaho, from Prof.
Walter Friberg of agricultural engineering.

Friberg is the university scientist who has done extensive research work in developing sawdust-shavings concrete with the use of diatomaceous earth. He wants a cold winter in Moscow so some of his concrete test structures will be given a rugged test.

P. S. — Prof. Friberg will not spend the winter in Moscow. He is on sabbatical leave in Sweden, where he is doing advanced studies on farm construction at the Rayol Institute of Technology.
