However, there are still lots of tickets being offered for sale at the local business firms — and you can be assured that any profits derived from this dance will be put to good use.

The firemen say they need hose and several small items in their equipment — and then they wish to continue the improvement of the Fire hall.

First Real Snow Of Season

The first real snow of the season began falling Sunday afternoon, and before it ceased early Monday morning had left from an inch to six inches on the ground a-top the ridges. Here in the canyon, after whitening the ground, it turned to rain, and none remained, although it might be clearly seen from Kendrick.

Dick Benjamin states that his bus route on Big Bear ridge carries more snow than any other in the district — it varying from none at Kendrick to approximately six inches near the Nelson home, which is the end of his route.

Lloyd Waltz and Fred Stage, who live beyond Southwick, report about four inches at their respective ranches.

LESTER L. WOODY, JULIAETTA, FOUND DEAD AT HIS HOME

The body of 65-year-old Lester L. Woody was discovered at his home in Juliaetta late Saturday afternoon, Dec. 4th. A coroner's examination disclosed that death was due to a heart attack.

The body was discovered by Mr. Woody's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Woody of Juliaetta, shortly before 6:00 p. m. They said they became worried after not seeing him Friday or Saturday.

They called Neal Perce County Coroner Kermit Malcolm, who said Mr. Woody died in his sleep sometime Friday morning. He had suffered from a heart ailment for the past 12 years.

Mr. Woody was born April 1, 1889, at Burnside, N. C., and moved to Pomeroy, Wash., in 1902. He moved to Juliaetta last year. Mr. Woody never married. He was a veteran of World War I.

He is survived only by his brother and his stepmother, Mrs. Cora E. Woody of Tacoma.

Funeral services were held at the Brower-Wann Chapel in Lewiston, Wednesday, Dec. 8, at 10:30 a. m., with Elder Aaron Wagner officiating. Hymns sung were "Under His Wings," "Near to the Heart of God," and "Some Day He'll Make It Plain." Buford Rogers being the soloist, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Aaron Wagner.

Joint District P.-T. A. Meets

The Joint District No. 283 P.-T. A. met at the Juliaetta School Monday evening, Dec. 13, with 86 members present.

The meeting opened with the invocation by Rev. Martin Swinney, and the group singing of "Up On The House-top."

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report was also read and approved. A balance on hand of $32.16 was reported.

The Citizenship Committee had met, but their report was incomplete, as not all members were present at the meeting. They feel that they should meet again with more members present, and with more time for discussion.

Mr. Taylor reported they had agreed they needed discussion on the location first — and then could go on from that point.

The questionnaire on "Alcoholic Beverages" had been passed out, and 102 were returned. They were tabulated, and the replies were read by Mrs. Christina Cuddy.

Asa Calvert read a discussion of the time P.-T. A. meetings should start. It was decided to continue the meetings as in the past, at 8:00 p. m. Christmas programs at the schools throughout our district were announced as follows: Juliaetta — Thursday afternoon, December 23, at 1:00 o'clock; Kendrick — Wednesday evening, Dec. 22, at 8:00 o'clock; and Southwick, Tuesday evening, Dec. 21, at 7:30 o'clock.

The business session was then adjourned, and the White Elephant drawing held, with Bill Cuddy taking "the beast" home.

A beautiful Christmas program entitled "The Other Wise Man" was presented. Those participating were Asa Calvert, Mrs. Dennis Racicot, Jane Racicot, Mrs. Jud Lee, Mrs. Bob Magnuson, Mrs. Burton Souders, Jr., Nolan Weeks, George Poulos, Eugene Taylor and Mrs. Claude Jones. It was truly a fine program, and all those who missed it, missed one of the high spots of the year.

ROY GLENN RETURNS FROM SOIL CONSERVATION TRIP

One hundred outstanding soil conservationists from every section of the United States, returned to their homes in mid-December, after four full days of vacation fun at Wigwam Inn on Goodyear Farms, at Litchfield Park, Arizona, as guests of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., of Akron, Ohio, Roy Glenn, Kendrick, arriving home Monday morning, Dec. 13.

The men were winners of Goodyear's seventh annual Soil Conservation Awards program, conducted in 50 competing units, including every state in the nation. Winning Soil Conservation district in each state or competing unit was allowed to send one governing body member and the top cooperating farmer or rancher on the grand award trip. Selection of the top district in each competing unit was made by a board of impartial judges comprised of leading agriculturalists from the state concerned.

On arrival at Phoenix, Ariz., on the morning of December 7, after a colorful and scenic train ride from assembly points at Kansas City and New Orleans, the vacationing conservationists from all parts of the nation were delighted with the beaming sun and lush vegetation found in Arizona's world famous Valley of the Sun.

The group were met by representatives of Goodyear Farms at Phoenix railroad station and boarded special busses for the 18-mile trip to the Wigwam. The route cuts through the heart of Salt River Valley, commonly known as the "vegetable bowl of the nation."

On arrival at the luxurious vacation spot in the heart of the valley, the entire group of conservation-minded farmers and ranchers was outfitted with traditional western regalia, including cowboy shirts, tencel hats and levis, all "compliments of the house."

While absorbing the sun and desert air at the Wigwam, the vacation winners had an opportunity to observe large-scale farming and ranching operations on the 14,000 acre Goodyear Farms, and enjoyed an entertainment program that included desert and mountain tours, an open-air barbecue and a wild-west rodeo.

Evening programs included addresses by Gov. Howard Pyle and other prominent Arizonians.

The group also enjoyed all the features of the Wigwam, which included horses for desert rides, swimming pool, golf course, tennis courts, and other sports and recreational facilities.

In speaking of particular entertainment on the trip Mr. Glenn said that among the things he most enjoyed was a tour of the "White Tank Mountain Area," the Aqua Fria Soil Conservation district flood control dams and the Apprentice Farmer Project, on the morning of Wednesday, Dec. 8, and a tour of the farm of P. W. Litchfield, chairman of the board of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., in the afternoon.

Thursday, Dec. 9th, was to Mr. Glenn, the most enjoyable day. On that morning there was held what they called a "cattle handling and cutting horse demonstration," but he called it a "darned good rodeo." At noon there was held a desert barbecue at Sunset Point, and that afternoon came a bus tour of the Luke Air Force Base, where they saw the latest in jets, and heard their operations explained.

On Friday, December 10, they saw a cotton gin, and visited the maintenance shop and equipment center of the huge farm.

All-in-all, Mr. Glenn says it was one of the most enjoyable weeks he had ever spent — a trip well worth the time and effort required to win it.

Taking On Holiday Air

Our little city has taken on a very festive air, with the appearance of Yule decorations. Garlands of cedar boughs interlaced with colored lights were hung across the streets at the intersections by the industrious Lions, assisted by Bill Bamberry, over the week-end.

Merchants have shown a great deal of individuality in their window and store displays of Christmas goods, and the interior of all the stores presents a very Christmas-like appearance.

The window of Dr. D. A. Christensen's office is a bit unusual — displaying a flock of live White Finch with ruby beaks, in a setting of tinsel and evergreens.

Even though the streets of Kendrick may not be white with snow — everything else points to the Christmas season!

Homecoming Service Sunday

SCHOOL NOTES

Carnival Fairly Successful

The Kendrick High School Carnival, which was held last Friday evening, turned out to be fairly successful, even though it didn't bring in as many greenbacks as it has in the past few years. This was partly due to the fact that we spent more for materials this year than last. The adults were rather conspicuous by their absence, but those who were there seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves.

As usual the food booth and bingo brought in the most money, and why not? Doesn't just about everybody like to eat better than anything else?

The gross income amounted to $410.85, but after the expenses were subtracted there remained but a mere $175.67!

Montez Browning, a sophomore, and Eldon Glenn, a junior, were crowned queen and king.

Piano Program Is Enjoyed

On Wednesday afternoon in the Juliaetta Music room an audience of 56 first and second grade children and their teachers, enjoyed a program of piano selections rendered by Dana Magnuson. Dana played "Oh Little Town of Bethlehem," "The Indian War Dance" and "The Busy Mill."

Kendrick Dows To Asotin

Asotin's A squad beat the Kendrick Tigers Tuesday evening on the home floor by a score of 62-48.

Quarter scores follow: First, 14-12, Kendrick; half, 31-21, Asotin; third, 48-35, Asotin; final 62-48, Asotin.

In the B Squad game Kendrick emerged victorious, winning 55 to 43 in an overtime, the score being knotted at 53-43 at the end of the regular playing period.

A full write-up of the A game will be found on the back page.

Farmers, Attention!

First, I want to say this: "Do not compare any former Air-Flo grain saving device with the new double-valve Air-Flo I now build." I may look smart, but it still took me three years to get the "bugs" out so they really work.

The new auger goes on all Deere 55 next year. All others, including the Deere 55, take the Air-Flo. Which one is the best you can judge better than I, by talking to farmers here who use them.

I guaranteed every unit this year to be absolutely satisfactory — and none came back! I have orders from Algeria, South America, Canada, and through the eastern states on hand now — so time is short. I do not build any unless ordered, and will keep my quota to 200 units — no more! These will soon be in — then it's too late, as my shop capacity is limited. Many of you near Kendrick have already said you want an Air-Flo, but at that time I made no arrangements for next year's price. You must give me the serial number, year and make of your machine, and deposit $50.00 with order — this putting everyone in line. If too late, your $50.00 is returned at once.

Remember this: "My price is $100.00 below the foreign prices for like units in Australia and New Zealand, where thousands of these same units are built," — and my units are far better built!

I also build a dust machine which keeps the driver of a tractor in perfect, clean air all the time. This unit can be set on a combine or any other machine, also.

The 1955 price for the Air-Flo is $335.00; auger $290.00, F. O. B. Craigmont. We install for you for $50.00 extra. If several order in your community, I will personally supervise the installation — you doing the work — and I charge you nothing. But do order NOW — not in the spring, as some 90 orders are already on hand — and no advertising done.

Many of my friends from Kendrick probably wonder when I will retire. I have built so many machines useful to farmers during my life — and I love it — so that I will quit building when my head and heart fails me.

Life Insurance Funds Going To Nation's Defense Plants

Life insurance funds are moving to the aid of the defense activities of the country in increasing volume, and loans made by the life insurance companies in support of the defense program may reach $3,500,000,000 for 1951, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

"In keeping with the usual policy of directing new funds into channels where they may be most useful for the national economy, the current trend in life insurance investments is towards meeting the capital needs of the preparedness program," Holgar J. Johnson, Institute president, commented. "This is in line with the voluntary credit restraint program under which defense needs have precedence over all other elements in the economy. Defense financing now accounts for the greater part of the life insurance company placement of policyholder funds in business and industry."

More than $1,000,000,000 has been loaned by the life insurance companies so far this year to defense plants and indications are that a like amount may be loaned in the remaining months of the year.

In addition, some $800,000,000 has this year been invested in loans to utility companies and railroads, which are basically involved in all defense activities. This amount may be nearly doubled by the end of the year. Thus, the total of financing made available during the entire year for defense industries or defense-supporting activities may come to $3,500,000,000.

The loans for defense or defense-supporting purposes represent two-thirds of all loans made in the first six months by the life companies to business and industrial concerns, and the ratio has been increasing since mid-year.

Contrary To Superstition, Oysters Edible Year-Round

Contrary to superstition, oysters are edible in all 12 months. Hot-weather shipping problems helped to build the R-month legend. The taboo remains appropriate even with modern refrigerated transportation, however, since May to August is the natural spawning season. The adult female oyster's feat of discharging as many as a half-billion eggs in this season leaves her a bit too thinned down for prime succulence.

Shad were surpassed only by cod and salmon among U.S. commercial fisheries before the turn of the century. Overfishing, industrial pollution, and high dams barring the way to upstream spawning grounds have forced shad far down on the list now. Although the Chesapeake Bay still accounts for one fish out of three, the total catch is less than one-fifth that of 19th century peak seasons.

Crabs, alewives, rockfish, croakers, sea trout, and menhaden all figure importantly in Chesapeake Bay commerce. Like oysters and shad, they are studied for rehabilitation purposes by such organizations as the Chesapeake Biological Laboratory at Solomons, Maryland, and the Chesapeake Bay Institute, Baltimore.

Pearls and Pipelines

Iranian nationalists have laid verbal claim to Bahrain, oil-rich island across the Persian Gulf where Arabian dhows put in bearing huge milky pearls from the sea floor. Persia has been claiming Bahrain without avail since 1783, however. An independent sheikdom under British protection, Bahrain is the site of an American oil field and refinery. Saudi Arabia's oil wells were joined with the Mediterranean coast in 1950 by the competition of Tapline, a 1,068-mile, 30-inch pipeline across the burning Arabian desert. American and British engineers proposed to build next an even bigger "Middle East Inch" (34-36 inches in diameter) from Abadan to the Mediterranean. Iran's oil would thus be linked by a tunnel of steel with the Western world—if the hot desert wind from Tehran does not blow the project away.

Turbans

In a survey of "fashions down through the ages," made by The Book House For Children the turban was found to be a favorite head covering of many ancient peoples, among them, the Armenians, Babylonians, and Phoenicians. Today's favorites include variations of the cloche, beret, and "beanie," a small disc of felt or straw that is anchored to the head, usually with hatpin or veiling.

Color Blindness

Most common in color blindness is the confusion of red and green, which may affect as many as 80 men and 5 women per thousand population. One person out of several thousand has trouble with yellows and blues. Very rare is complete color-blindness, in which everything is seen as black, gray and white. Not more than a hundred such cases have been reported in the scientific literature. Even a partially color-blind person usually learns to name colors properly a great deal of the time. For example, one with red-green deficiency may learn by experience that what he sees as dull dark yellow is really red, while a light yellowish-gray is what other people call green.

Speed Kills! Take It Easy!
 "You don't need a slide rule to figure out a safe speed. All you need is common sense," says the Idaho Department of Traffic Safety.

It doesn't make sense to drive at a speed of 50 miles per hour when prevailing conditions make such a speed obviously unsafe — even though there may be a sign in the area which states: "Speed Limit 50." Speed limits merely set the maximum speeds under ideal conditions.

Even in areas in which there are stated or posted speed limits, a motorist is liable to arrest whenever he's driving too fast for prevailing conditions, though he may be traveling well under the posted speed limit, and many things govern this latter. Rain, fog, snow, icy roads, etc., fully govern this latter — and maybe 15 is too fast in that "50 mile" zone.

The following check-list is offered by the department to motorists as a guide in determining a speed "safe for conditions":

1. Drive at a speed that will enable you to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.
2. Slow down before you get to curves and intersections.
3. At night, drive at the speed which will let you stop within your headlight range.
4. Drive with traffic. You are probably going too fast if you are passing many cars — too slow if many are passing you — and stay at a safe distance behind the car in front.
5. Where children are playing, be able to stop in a car length or less.
6. When you're tired or inattentive, stop, rest, get a cup of coffee and walk about a little. A few minutes stop may mean the difference between safety and an accident.

Very Fine Jersey Cows
 Columbus, Ohio — The herd of registered Jerseys owned by the University of Idaho, Moscow, was classified by breed type by an official classifier of the American Jersey Cattle Club, Dr. R. N. Erb, of the State College of Washington, last week.

The animals in the herd were given individual ratings based on a comparison with the Jersey breed's official score card, which allots 100 points for the ideal animal. This herd now has an average score of 84.35 percent on 27 animals. The breed's average is 83.15 percent.

Good Hens Lay Cheap Eggs
Arithmetic proves that it pays to feed hens so they lay at the rate of at least 70 percent.

The better they lay, the less it costs the farmer to get a dozen eggs. High production is necessary in the poultry business at any time. It is particularly required right now when prices are lower than usual.

Robert Black, poultry economist of the University of Idaho extension service, has just worked out a little problem in feed costs that proves the sense of feeding for high production. Suppose you have 100 birds in a laying flock. The flock lays at the rate of 40 percent. They will eat about 22 pounds a day, according to a reliable figure of poultry experience. This means the birds are eating 6.7 pounds of feed to produce a dozen eggs. At five cents a pound it costs 33.5 cents to produce a dozen eggs.

Let's take the same flock and step them up to 50 percent production. They will eat 25 pounds of feed. They are laying a dozen eggs on six pounds of feed, and the cost of feed is then 30 cents a dozen.

Now let's get those 100 birds up to 70 percent production. They eat 28 pounds of feed. That cuts the amount of feed per dozen eggs down to five pounds. The cost is only 25 cents.

Feeding efficiency for high production, Black says, is the best method of getting a profitable return.

Both Bagged Their Game

Cottonwood — Both Mrs. Elmer Gentry and son Russell decided to go hunting last week, and both bagged their game. Russell was hunting for squirrels with his dogs because he couldn't carry a deer rifle, being just 2½ years old. And Mrs. Gentry was hunting Russell. She found him, and Russell and dogs found a chipmunk.

Those who try to drown their sorrows in liquor invariably find that they are amphibious.

Diabetics Can Live Long, Active and Normal Lives

The control of diabetes so that a person suffering from the disease may lead a long, normal and active life has become a reality.

In a study of 760 diabetic patients suffering from the disease 25 years or more, Dr. Elliott P. Joslin, of Boston, found approximately 80 per cent active and a few in perfect health.

"The patients in perfect condition are those whose treatment was initiated (with hardly an exception) with strenuous control of diabetes in their early years," Dr. Joslin stated, "this control being maintained for 10 years, more or less, to more than the usual extent and even then continued."

"In this series the evidence is overwhelming that strict treatment of diabetes pays and, moreover, that control of the disease is possible."

Of the total group studied, 23 patients had had diabetes for more than 25 years and yet had a sound body with urine free from albumin, eyes without diabetic complications such as hemorrhages and cataracts, and had arteries free from calcification.

Of these 23 patients, all of whom lived in unusually favorable homes and under comfortable social circumstances according to the survey, 13 inherited the disease, the age of onset ranging from 1 4/5 to 32 years. All take insulin. Seventeen married, resulting in 28 living children, all of whom are healthy.

"Corroborative testimony that diabetics are living long and—most of them—useful lives is afforded by 40 of our patients with diabetes of 30 to 35 years' duration whose onset was in childhood," Dr. Joslin stated.

Mosquitoes Eat Dog (Food) In Unique Clinic Studies

Three million radioactive labeled mosquitoes raised on tap water and finely ground dog food containing radiophosphorous or a phosphate derived from it, were recently used in experiments conducted by the Chemical Corps Medical Laboratories of the Army in order to determine insect flight ranges.

With the constantly increasing human activity in northern regions, the study of arctic and subarctic species of biting insects has assumed great importance. Control of the enormous numbers of mosquitoes that occur in most arctic and subarctic areas is difficult even with large scale spraying. Even after such spraying, it has been established that reinfestation from the surrounding territory may occur rapidly. Accurate knowledge of the flight range and dispersal patterns of the important types of biting flies is needed in order to increase the effectiveness of control measures.

In this particular research project the region near Churchill, Manitoba, was selected. This region is on the timberline, and has enormous mosquito populations which include both tundra and conifer forest species. Radioisotopes were used as tracers. Adult mosquitoes were also made radioactive by feeding them on radioactivated rats and rabbits, raisins, flowers, and sugar solutions.

Insomnia

Insomnia is a demon that has plagued people all through the centuries. Now there are so many individual remedies that if a person tried them all, he'd never have time to sleep. There are many ex-insomniacs, though, who swear by their own particular remedy, and if sleep really is elusive every night, then the person suffering from insomnia has nothing to lose by trying one or two which appeal most to him.

A word of warning, though! Don't be too upset or disappointed if a "guaranteed-to-stop-insomnia" cure doesn't work. Before he settles down to the long list of suggestions that friends are more than willing to thrust on him, the insomniac should make a thorough check of his bed.

First, he should see that his mattress is level, resilient and in good conditions—that is, no sags, lumps, humps or bumps. Then he should check his bedspring—if it is in good condition, it will have no broken coils or sags. Next comes his pillow. To provide adequate support it should be fluffy, buoyant, resilient and fill the gap between his shoulders and neck. If his bedding passes this test, then he is free to try some of the 1001 sleep inducers—and with the best wishes of all ex-insomniacs.

Another suggestion, perhaps more to the liking of the teetotalers, is to drink a glass of warm milk every night.

Lighting Bugs

The full details of how a lighting bug produces its light are not fully understood, although it is known to utilize a chemical reaction involving water, oxygen, a rather simple compound called "luciferin" and a more complex one, belonging to the class known as enzymes, called "luciferase." Probably the luciferin, after it has become properly activated, actually produces the light. The insect may exercise some sort of nervous control over the organs that produce light, perhaps in the same way that a nervous impulse controls the contraction of a muscle, and several scientists are engaged in research to find how this happens.

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick

HELLO, FOLKS:

You know, that white stuff you see sticking around the rim of the canyon isn't milkweed seed or cotton from cottonwoods — it's snow! And judging from the temperature, it's pretty apt to stay with us for some time. And that means, of course, that it's time to come in and let us put on a set of those wonderful U. S. Royal Mud and Snow tires for you. The tires that hold when others fall. The cost is low, the service high. You just can't lose with them!

on the first day of school the teacher explained that if anyone had to go to the washroom he should hold up two fingers. One puzzled little boy plaintively asked: "How's that going to help?"

Have you tried that famous

Royal Triton 10-30 Oil in your car or truck yet? If not, why not? We'd love to talk your lubrication problems over with you!

Doll: "They say he married her because her uncle left her a million dollars."

Friend: "Oh, I don't think Jack's that kind of a fellow. I think he'd have married her no matter who left it to her."

Let us fill the crankcase of your car, pickup or truck with Royal Triton 10-30. The answer to winter starting and lubrication problems.

"How is it that you are late this morning," the clerk was asked by his boss.

"I overslept," was the reply.
Boss: "What? Do you sleep at home, too?"

Tigers Bow To Asotin

Asotin's A squad beat the Kendrick Tigers Tuesday evening, Dec. 14, on the Kendrick floor by a score of 62 to 48.

Kendrick took control of the ball on the tip-off at the start of the game. Whenever either team got the ball there was a fast break down the floor to score a couple of points. The Tigers led all the way through the first quarter, and the score at quarter-time was 14-12 for Kendrick.

Triplet of Asotin started hitting as did the rest of the Asotin squad during the second period. They would cast-off from way out, and the net would just pop. Kendrick's shots just simply would not go through. Some of them were heartbreakers, because they went in, and then rolled back out. Asotin led at the half with a score of 31-21.

Kendrick worked hard to catch up, but it seemed that when the Tigers made a basket, Asotin would match it, and Asotin still was hitting the hoop from way out — and Triplet made good on most of his jump shots.

The score at the end of the third quarter was 48-35, Asotin.

During the fourth quarter Asotin missed several shots, but they got it on back-board play and kept control until it rolled in. Kendrick made several baskets and began gaining on Asotin — but Triplet again began hitting, canning nearly every shot.

Asotin had the ball stolen from them several times, but Kendrick just could not put it through the hoop. The Tigers fought hard and right up to the finish, but Asotin emerged victorious 62-48.
