

KENDRICK HIGH SCHOOL ENTERED, RIFLED, DAMAGE TO SURPASS $200

The new Joint District No. 283 High School was broken into, rifled and burglarized of between $30.00 and $35.00 sometime Tuesday night, Robert Meserve, superintendent of schools, told the Gazette Wednesday morning.

Meserve said that entry was gained through a window on the back side of the building. He said that it is very evident the thieves tried all of the windows, found them locked and then broke a window, reached in and released the lock, and then crawled in.

"The door to the office was broken in, the fire vault door forced and the safe opened," Meserve said. "Between $30 and $35 in cash was taken, but checks and small change

"The majority of the loss was through damage," Meserve added. "I estimate that the replacement of door jams and doors smashed, plus the broken window will cost in the neighborhood of $200.00 to $250.00."

The thieves left finger prints around the building where they had tried the windows in an attempt to gain entrance.

The Latah County Sheriff's office was called about 7:30 a. m. when the entry was discovered, and at 9:15 were still not on the scene or available for comment.

However, two other break-ins, one at Potlatch and one at Moscow, may have accounted for the delay.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

November 15 — So many people, being what they are, I wonder if the game laws should not be changed. Maybe, before anyone is allowed a hunting license, their mentality should be checked to see if their minds are mature enough to learn. Perhaps there should be compulsive schooling in courtesy, how to respect the property rights of individual land owners, so as not to intrude on their privacy.

When these laws are violated their license should be revoked, just as driver licenses.

The state may profit from hunters, but many landowners are on the other side of the ledger. We lose stock, money and our privacy.

My horse was shot before the season opened by poachers. A horse that could not be replaced — one money could not buy. Besides the loss of the horse, this cost me days and days of searching in my pasture for the animal; cost me trips to the sheriff, several dollars for ads in the paper, besides the "No Trespassing" signs which were posted — and ignored! Because of sickness I was unable to patrol my property. Some of the law breakers are known, even if they think they put one over, by a narrow margin, and escaped arrest.

A fine example of the nerve some of them have, even though my land is posted, is that two different hunters, at two different times, came to the house and tried to "bump" tobacco!

If the game laws and others aren't improved maybe the land owners should organize and give these hogdums a sample of what the "old west" did to their kind. — Daisy Stage.

ENROLLMENT UP IN SCIENCE COURSE

U. of I., Moscow — Emphasis placed on science in the past few years is now being reflected in the enrollment in upper division and also graduate courses in chemistry and physics at the University of Idaho, Dr. Malcolm Renfrew, head of the physical sciences department, said this week.

"In the past five years we have seen a steady increase in such enrollments," Dr. Renfrew said.

Present enrollment compared with that of 1955 indicates an increase of 61 percent in upper division chemistry and a 200 percent rise in graduate chemistry students.

Physics courses reflect the same trend. Upper division students have increased by 140 percent and graduate students by 1600 percent.

In the lower division courses often taken by non-science majors, the enrollment is up 14 percent over last year.

"If we assume that freshmen chemistry will show the same proportionate increase as the rest of the university, we will have 792 students in these classes by 1965," Dr. Renfrew concluded.

There are currently 579 freshman chemistry students at the university.

PIONEER PASSES

Word was received here last week end from G. C. Ottosen of Tacoma, Wash., who enclosed a clipping from a Tacoma paper, as follows:

"Guy Harry Phelps, 82, of 4036 Williams Ave., died Monday of bronchial pneumonia.

"Mr. Phelps was born in Bodega, Calif. He came to Garfield, Whitman County, about 75 years ago. A butcher by trade, Mr. Phelps was manager of the Methow Packing Co. at Twisp, Okanogan County, when he retired 19 years ago and moved to Seattle.

"Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. LeRoy Penix, Seattle, and Mrs. Lucille Roy, New York City; a sister, Mrs. Thomas Dempsey, McKenna, Pierce County.

"Services were held at 1:00 p. m. Saturday at the Washington Memorial Funeral Home, and burial in the Washington Memorial Park."

Mr. Ottosen's letter concludes: "I used to live in Juliaetta and I know that there are many living there that remember Guy Phelps and Billy Fields who had a meat market there before World War I."

KENDRICK K. KLUB

The Kendrick Canyon Klub held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Werner Brammer Thursday, with Mrs. Geo. Brocke, Mrs. Phil Johns and Mrs. Harvey Head as co-hostesses.

It was a luncheon meeting with the lesson topic: "Give More Than a Gift."

At the election of officers Mrs. John Wilson and Mrs. Paul Lind were chosen co-presidents; Mrs. Arthur Johns, treasurer, and Mrs. Geo. F. Brocke, Jr., secretary. Mrs. John Darby was elected Delegate to Council.

DISEASE REPORT

GOLD PRICE RISE MEAN LITTLE HERE

U. of I., Moscow — "If the price of gold is raised, it will have to more than double the present $35 an ounce before there will be an appreciable increase in Idaho's production."

With this statement this week, Prof. W. W. Staley of the University of Idaho College of Mines knocked down the impression that an increase of a few dollars per ounce on the world gold market would turn the Gem State into a prime producer of the yellow metal and mecca of high employment.

Staley, who has recently seen a new edition of his publication entitled "Gold in Idaho" published by the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology, explained that there are many reasons why Idaho's gold mining is at an all-time low.

"High costs of labor are a major reason why even $70 an ounce might not be enough," he said. "Labor costs are four times higher today than they were in 1934 when the price of gold was set at $35 an ounce.

In addition to the rise in wages, supplies cost twice as much today as they did 25 years ago.

Gold production has steadily dropped throughout the United States, but world production of gold has increased slightly, Staley said.

In 1941, world production was 40,160,000 ounces, increasing to 40,400,000 ounces in 1958. But in the same period, the amount of gold produced in the United States dropped from 4,832,087 ounces to 1,759,000 ounces. Gold produced in Idaho dropped similarly from 150,000 ounces in 1941 to 10,500 ounces in 1959.

"The largest producer of gold in the world is the Union of South Africa," Staley said. "In 1959, 19,630,155 ounces were produced, making it South Africa's largest industry. This compares with 9,800,000 ounces in 1910."

"Because of this vast production, South Africa is primarily interested in raising the market price," he said.

SUPPLIES FOR TWO WEEKS NEEDED

U. of I., Moscow — In Russia, 22 million people have been trained in civil defense and training continues. Every American family must be able to take care of itself for two weeks, says Mrs. Dorothy N. Stephens, assistant home demonstration leader with the University of Idaho.

Home preparedness includes a shelter, basement or the safest place in your home, supplied with a battery radio, two weeks supply of food and water, and a first aid kit, Mrs. Stephens continues.

The government has made plans for protection of citizens. Warehouses are filled with food supplies and medicines. Mass feeding drills are being held in many centers.

In Idaho seven or eight hospitals with 200 beds could be made ready for occupancy within 24 hours, says Mrs. Stephens. Every U. S. mail truck can be converted to an ambulance within 40 minutes.

Home preparedness courses take five two-hour sessions. Any club or group of ten to twenty or more persons may take this training. Kits are supplied by contacting Mrs. Velma Dye, Women's Division, chairman of Idaho Civil Defense Office, Boise, Idaho.

HOW TO SELECT TABLE MEAT

U. of I., Moscow — Fat is a necessary quality of good, tender, juicy meats for the American table. Mrs. Joyce Hofstrand, home economic researcher with the University's Agricultural experiment station says the housewife may be insisting on too large a portion of lean in the meat she buys.

Because fat stimulates the flow of saliva in the mouth, meat that has intramuscular fat is juicier than lean meat. "Marbling" is the term used to describe fat that is well distributed through the lean, muscle meats and is a necessary quality of prime grade meat on government standards.

Some fat is necessary in the diet of normal individuals to satisfy the appetite and help provide calorie needs, the foods scientist says. Home-makers seeking meats without any fat a likely to end up with poor quality beef or lamb for their tables.

Outside fat or "finish" on the beef or lamb carcass is deposited prior to the desired marbling of muscle meats. Growers are working toward animals that will produce well marbled meats without too much of these excess finish fats, Mrs. Hofstrand says.

DO YOU KNOW

In 1930 the U.S. spent one-half billion dollars for research. In 1953, it was nearly 3 billions, and in the last year we passed the $12 billion dollar mark. Three quarters of this is being done in corporation laboratories. The price you pay for goods and services from large companies includes the cost of developing things we enjoy tomorrow.

A PUD is not subject to special levies for new schools, teachers' salaries, or community improvements. The PUD pays not one penny of federal taxes, though it enjoys all federal benefits. Even PUD automobiles are exempt from the usual license fee which business firms must pay. PUDs pay a fee of only $1.60 per year. No wonder they can boast about low rates.

A million Americans with rheumatoid arthritis, who would otherwise be a burden on society, are now doing productive work thanks to new drugs developed in the nation's laboratories. Private enterprise, in which individuals contribute to our economy, seems far more desirable than having a big government do everything for the people.

I am concerned with the PUDs just now, because for the third time PUDs have attempted to wipe out the Washington Water Power company, an investor owned utility, in Asotin County. Most people don't realize that the actions of the commissioners are unregulated by state or federal regulatory bodies. Three men are free to raise rates, go into debt, condemn property, and levy taxes, and the people can appeal to no one for protection. That is the law.

Khrushchev before his visit to the U.S.A. said: "We cannot expect the Americans to jump from capitalism to communism, but we can assist their elected leaders in giving Americans small doses of socialism, until they suddenly wake up to find they have communism."

A wall stand with built-in parts and accessories tray provides an ideal shelf for a portable electric bench grinder, especially if you have a compact workshop. The shelf can easily be made from plywood with the aid of a portable power saw and drill.

The shelf is a 16 x 24-inch section of 3/4-inch fir plywood locked by steel shelf brackets to a larger (24x32) piece of 3/4-inch plywood, which can be nailed to wall studs, or fastened to masonry with 2-inch machine screws and common expansion shields.

From the mailbox:

Q. What's the easiest way to eliminate the squeaks from kitchen cabinet drawers?

A. Apply soap or paraffin over the offensive area. This not only will get rid of the noise, but the drawers will move quickly and smoothly in and out.

Q. Is it possible to plane the edge of a plywood board?

A. Planing plywood is not recommended, though some experts are able to do so with little or no splintering. If it is absolutely necessary, be sure the plane blade is very sharp and in a shallow position. To minimize splintering, first plane a bevel on outside plies to required depth.

I. E. A. TO TELL EDUCATIONAL AIMS

In order to give the patrons of our school a clearer concept of our educational program, its organization and aims, each member of the faculty will, at some time during the year, present in the Kendrick Gazette an article clarifying these aspects as they pertain to that person's department or grade. It is hoped that these reports, which are beginning in this issue with that of Josephine Stitzlein of the Home Economics Department, will not only sustain the fine relationship so far enjoyed between school and community, but also the pride which each finds in the other. —Local Chapter of the Idaho Educational Association.

The Idaho Home Economics Education Curriculum encompasses the following three needs of youth: Personal competence, social competence and a working philosophy of life.

Since this is the first class in Home Economics in several years at Kendrick, our Home Ec. I and Home Ec. II classes are studying similar things. Eventually, we hope to have Home Ec. I as a prerequisite for Home Ec. II, which will eliminate the problem of having to teach basic skills of sewing and use of equipment to part of the class. At the present time, the department has two unit kitchens fully equipped, and the plans are for four kitchens to be equipped in the future. There are two new sewing machines, two irons and two ironing boards. One of the nicest features of the room is a lovely full-length triple mirror. There are also many excellent reference books and magazines.

The Home Economics curriculum is divided into the following areas: Clothing Education, Foods and Nutrition, Human Relationships, Housing and Home Furnishings, Child Care and Guidance, Management and Consumer Education, Health, Home Safety, and Care of the Sick. Many of these areas overlap, and, of course, such things as art principles and family relationships play an important part in the entire curriculum.

This quarter the classes have studied color, basic sewing skills, how to care for and use the sewing equipment, and how to choose a pattern and suitable cotton fabric. The Home Ec. II class studied canning, and planned and prepared a tea for their mothers and the wives of the new teachers. The Home Ec. I class prepared refreshments for a surprise Halloween party for the sophomore class.

The girls have given to the class oral reports on a variety of subjects from etiquette to decorating. This quarter written reports will be required.

The girls will also be working on a "home experience." The home experience takes learning into its natural setting and give the student the opportunity to carry out a project she is particularly interested in with the cooperation of her family. Some of the girls plan to wallpaper their living room; others plan to keep detailed accounts of what they eat in a concentrated effort to eat better from a nutritional standpoint, and to lose or gain weight. The main point is to plan in detail what they hope to accomplish, and to keep records of what they do.

Through the home economics classes, it is hoped that the students will not only learn the basic homemaking skills, but also that they will develop an understanding and appreciation of themselves, their friends, and their families, as well as realizing their privileges and responsibilities as members of a democratic society. — Josephine Stitzlein.

Idaho specialists in weed control recommend a fall spraying with 2,4-D on infestations of Whitetop. Another spray is advocated in spring when weeds are in the bud stage.

W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

How about the tires on your car, pickup or truck? Are you wearing mud and snow treads? If not, why not? Come in and find out how cheaply you can drive out in safety on new ones!

"What can I do for you?" asked the income tax inspector. "Nothing," said the harassed-looking taxpayer. "I just wanted to meet the people I'm working for!"

How easy does the old bus start these chilly mornings? For the easiest, quickest starts you've ever had come in and let us drain the crankcase and refill it with Royal Triton Motor Oil, and fill the tank with Royal 76 gasoline. Then you will be set for quick starts, sure starts.

Young Man: "Since I bought my new car I don't have to walk to the bank to make my deposits."
Girl Friend: "Oh, fine. You drive over now?"
Young Man: "No. I just don't make any!"

Got good tires, but no winter treads? Then come in and let us tractionize them for you. Cost is low — results big!

The little boy approached his father, who was standing by the edge of a cliff admiring the beautiful scenery. He piped: "Mama said either to come away or else give me the picnic basket."

He walked her to the front door. She whispered with a sigh: "I'll be home tomorrow night."
He answered: "So will I!"
