WALTER DENNERS HONORED ON 25TH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denner of Juliaetta were honored on their Silver Wedding Anniversary, Sunday, Feb. 13, with an Open House at their home, from 2:00 to 5:00 p. m., when 155 called to extend greetings and best wishes for the memorable occasion.

The refreshment table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with a beautiful cake. Four heart-shaped cakes formed the base of the four-tier cake, which was accented with pink roses, silver leaves, and sugar bells. It was decorated by Mrs. Adolph Denner. On either side were silver candles in crystal holders.

Lovely arrangements of white stock and pink carnations, a gift from their children, added to the decor. These flowers also were used on the altar at the morning church service.

Cutting and serving the cake were Mrs. Adolph Denner and Mrs. Tom Denner. Punch was served by Mrs. Hans Harder, Moses Lake. Mrs. Herbert Schwarz, Kendrick, poured coffee.

Judy Denner presided over the guest book. The gift table was in charge of Linda Denner, assisted by Jenness Evanson.

Others assisting with the reception were Mrs. George Denner, Mrs. Milkey Hedler, Mrs. Lloyd Evanson, Janice Denner, Bob Denner, Donald Denner and Hans Harder.

Mr. and Mrs. Denner, who have farmed on Fox ridge for 25 years, were married at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Schwarz, Cameron, Feb. 14, 1936.

The Denner have two children, Bob and Judy, both of whom are students at the University of Idaho.

COTTON DRESS WORKSHOP ENDS

The second in a series of "Cotton Dress Sewing Workshops" held at the high school home-making department, was completed Thursday evening. The women enrolled learned the basic "Bishop Method Clothing Construction Techniques."

A shirtwaist style cotton dress was constructed by the following women: Mrs. Gilbert Sproul, Mrs. Gordon Peters, Mrs. Leonard Wolff, Mrs. Irvin Draper, Mrs. John Deobald, Mrs. Wilbur Corkill, Mrs. Parker McCreary, Mrs. Bud Fey, Mrs. Dave Clayton, Mrs. Jay Dee Wilson, Mrs. Robert Hutchinson and Mrs. James Holt.

The adult education classes are endorsed by the State Board of Vocational Education in conjunction with the home-making department of the local high school. The $1.00 entry fee charged each participant is spent on small sewing equipment and supplies used in the workshop.

Mrs. Norman Lewis, instructor, was assisted at various times by Mrs. Alva Craig and Mrs. Fred Clemen-hagen.

Say the pupils: "It was a very interesting and instructive course."

HEART FUND DRIVE OPENS NEXT WEEK

"Give to live — during the Heart Drive this coming week," say Mrs. Harlan Fey, Kendrick drive chairman, and Mrs. Bruce Sherman, Juliaetta drive chairman. "During this time, a volunteer worker will call at each home and give residents of the two villages to give quietly."

The mass, house-to-house collection will be similar to Heart Sunday collections being conducted in nearly every community in Idaho, according to Dr. R. G. Kloss, Heart Sunday chairman.

Notwithstanding that more than 51.5 percent of all the deaths in Idaho in 1958 resulted from some form of heart and circulatory disease, the "Heart Fund" is a crusade of hope. Heart surgery has been opened to Idaho children and adults through $40 million in research during the past ten years. "Heart research has taken a long step toward conquering rheumatic fever, one of the greatest cripples of childhood. In Idaho, more than 1,000 young people are daily being supplied by the Idaho Heart Association through the State Department of Health with drugs to stem the serious complications of permanent heart damage from rheumatic fever," point out the two chairmen.

The Idaho Heart Association, an affiliate of the American Heart Association, is Idaho's only voluntary agency devoting its entire efforts to education, research and community service in the counterattack on heart disease.

Last January (1960) there was a circulation of 884 books, compared to January of 1961, with 2,000 circulation count.

TV Situation Desperate
There has been some misunderstanding as to how many station Juliaetta TV owners will be able to receive by paying their $50.00 dues. Three stations will be available, the same as we are now viewing, if enough people will help — which means that every TV owner will have to pay the same.

So far only $750.00 has been paid in. The deadline is March 15th, so we may know by April 1st whether TV can be continued in Juliaetta. The FCC will accept signatures on the pledge cards, if they are collectable.

The secretary of the Association has been in contact with our Representative in Congress, and recent information received by him indicates we must comply with the FCC rules if we are to continue our type of operation.

Time is short, let's pull together and enjoy TV!

String Orchestra
The Juliaetta Cash Store is featuring a "String Orchestra" in their big display window this week. It is not for sale, but for viewing only. The faces are made of dried apples. It is a project of the second grade of the Juliaetta school, and was made and dressed entirely by them.

Last week our Woolly Bear caterpillar cucon became a soft white butterfly. We have one more cocoon and are hoping to see the moth emerge. Last year it was almost a month later than this, so we were not expecting it so soon.

Thanks to those who sent us the plastic detergent bottles for our girls!

THIEVES WRECK TV RECEPTION ON CABLE SYSTEM

Television reception for Kendrick families ended suddenly early Saturday morning when thieves made off with three pre-amplifiers and other relay equipment from the G. F. Brocke & Sons, Inc., TV cable system on the south side of Potlatch canyon.

The signals on channels 6, 4 and 2 went out at 1:00 a. m. An investigation revealed that equipment at the base of the big antennas valued at between $325 and $375 had been stolen. Sheriff's Deputy Walter Heitman of Lewiston, who investigated the case Saturday morning, said he doubts it was an act of vandalism.

"The wires on the pre-amplifiers had been cut, in an apparent effort to preserve the working mechanism of the equipment," Heitman said.

Repairmen for the cable service worked during the day and had one channel, channel 4 (KXLY) hooked up by 3:00 p. m. But the workers, Gene Brocke and Claude Gephart, said there was only marginal reception, and the other channels would not be working until Monday. They said they were unable over the week-end to obtain the necessary new equipment, and that old items on hand were "patched up" to permit the temporary reception. It will be later this week before new equipment can be obtained and installed.

Heitman said the pre-amplifiers are located about two miles from Kendrick on the Sperry Grade. He said rain had washed out all tire and foot prints and no clues were obtained.

Missing, besides the pre-amplifiers is a "mixing box," about four-inches square, that clears the signals of interference. All the looted equipment was housed in a large wooden box one of the towers.

E. M. White, village marshal, aided Heitman in the investigation. Over the past several weeks there have been a series of petty thefts involving "spinner" hub caps, spare tires and wheels, tools, etc., but this is the first major theft this year, in fact, since the robbery of the Medalen store late last fall.

WEATHER, RAIN AND MORE RAIN

The weather report for this past week could be filed with just one word, "rain." Yet we think we should add "rain and more rain," for that is definitely the case.

Daytime temperatures have been reaching into the high 40's and low 50's, with readings at night ranging from 34 to 44 above!

Only a time or two has there been any sunshine, and then only for very brief periods. The Potlatch river is the highest in several years, with Big Bear creek proving the greatest flow of water and the most mud and silt. Despite the murky color of the Potlatch, the merging lines of Big Bear creek and it can be clearly seen for some distance.

Saturday evening

Saturday afternoon, shortly after 5:00 o'clock, this area was visited by a phenomena for the month of February — a thunder and lightning storm — and a real one. The heavens were lit from end to end by the flashes, and the rolling thunder was loud and clear. It was followed in a few minutes by a deluge of rain which lasted about 15 minutes.

Country roads are extremely soft, and even the state highways have their soft spots.

Farmers say that fields are literally soggy with moisture, and erosion is beginning to become serious.

He commented that "There is no place like Idaho, and it sure is good to be home."

LIONS TO SERVE 100-YEAR OLD SOURDOUGH CAKES

There are those who seem to doubt that statement that the Kendrick Community Lions Club will serve real sourdough hotcakes at their annual "Hotcake Feed," Saturday, Feb. 18, at the New K. H. S. Cafeteria — but we hasten to assure them that the statement is true — and Alaska style at that.

The starter for the hotcakes was given to the club by the Rev. Bruce Groseclose, Lewiston, who is well-known to most in this area, he being a former resident, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Groseclose of Juliaetta. He formerly served in Alaska, and gave the club this brief history:

"History of this Starter"

The Alaska "Sourdough" derived his name from the fact that the old-time trappers and gold miners carried a starter of sourdough wherever he went, or kept it in his cabin to use as a base for all his bread or flapjacks.

"This starter was brought from Alaska in 1954 by the Grosecloses. It was given to them by a trapper and guide, Mike Ardaw, who lives at Nancy, Alaska — a whistle stop on the Alaska railroad in the interior of the country. Mike got it from another trapper, who got it from a gold rush miner. It is over 100 years old. Mike has used it every day for over 35 years.

"Handling the Starter — About 12 hours before using add water, flour, and a little sugar to produce enough starter to insure amount needed, plus at least a cupful to keep for the future. Allow for expansion in container — do not cover tightly."

SAUCE FOR GOOSE SHOULD BE SAUCE FOR GANDER

We are sure that all have read, and generally with a great deal of interest, the accounts of the troubles of quite a number of the nation's largest producers of electrical goods.

The accompanying indictments, with pleas of "guilty," and the handing out of fines and prison sentences have almost universally met with the approval of the average American. And now these same companies face suits for millions of dollars on overcharges, business losses, etc.

The part which "amuses us no end" is the fact that these companies, when the pressure of public opinion and the law was upon them, immediately began flooding newspapers with so-called "press releases," explaining their side of the matter, or matters, as the case may be.

These companies are the very ones who advertise their products over TV and radio, in everything from the "spectacular" to the "spot" announcement. But when the "chips are down" to whom do they come to present their side? — The newspaper! They know that it is the newspaper that enters the home — the newspaper that waits to be read at a convenient time — the newspaper that carries the full account and can be read and re-read!

These same companies realize that to send such "news releases" to the TV and radio stations would be a waste of time and money — for they would almost surely wind up in the wastebasket, and at best comment would be of the very briefest and at the "poorest possible time."

In slighting the newspapers as an advertising media they have forfeited the right to present in the news columns "their side" of the matter — for advertising is the lifeblood of the newspaper.

They admit, by their very actions that they realize newspaper advertising is the best means of reaching the American public and the world in which they sell their goods!

Yes, "sauce for the goose should be sauce for the gander!"

A TEACHER SPEAKS ON EDUCATION

This is a third in a series of articles, which the teachers of this school district present from time to time.

Mr. Darrel Manfull, Principal of the Juliaetta Grade School has the following to say concerning education, its purposes and their attainments.

My major aim and goal as both a teacher and administrator is to do the best job possible. This takes into consideration many minor goals such as:

- (1) having strict but fair discipline;
- (2) obtaining the respect of parents, students and co-workers;
- (3) developing and carrying out a program of learning which enriches the students not only mentally but physically, spiritually, and emotionally as well;
- (4) getting across to both students and parents that grades are not the all important factor in education. It is also what the student learns, not only in the classroom but in social experiences which forms habits and character;
- (5) helping parents to understand the necessity of teacher-parent cooperation, understanding and conferences.

It is impossible to achieve any of these without a lot of help from parents, students and co-workers.

However, let me emphasize that the main goal, which is to do the best job possible, should ever follow new horizons.

Otherwise, we regress because no longer having anything to strive for. May this never happen to education.

LUMBER ENOUGH FOR 100 HOMES IN INAUGURAL STANDS

Washington, D. C. — More than 100 American homes could have been built with lumber which was used in the construction of the temporary stands for the inauguration of John F. Kennedy as president of the United States on January 20. And post-inaugural sales plans may result in thousands of homes including some of this historical material.

There were more than one million board feet of lumber in the structures at the Capitol, the White House and the Treasury building. It takes about 10,000 board feet to build an average home, according to the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

For three months — since mid-October — workmen were busy erecting the stands which provided vantage points for not only the dignitaries involved in the ceremony, but for television, newsreel and still cameras, their operators and crews, and, of course, thousands of spectators — those who had the luck to hold tickets of admission.

The new lumber was concentrated at three principal sites. At the Capitol, where the President took the oath of office, two massive stands were set up — one directly before the Capitol's East Front, where the ceremony was held, and another elevated stand facing it, where the inauguration was recorded for posterity by the news cameras.

About half the million board feet of new lumber was on the Capitol Hill site. Spread out on the Capitol Plaza, on three sides of the Inaugural platform were the spectator seats — erected on a raised wood platform — to hold more than 20,000 people.

The second principal site was the famous Treasury Corner, where another wood stand was erected for the cameras. From this point the photographers aimed their lenses at a scene familiar to millions of television viewers and others — the broad sweep of Pennsylvania Avenue with the Capitol Dome in the background. Here, too, lumber was used liberally to provide both viewing point and an enclosed shelter for the crews.

Across Pennsylvania Avenue from the Executive Mansion a block-long stand of spanking new boards was built over the sidewalk at Lafayette Park, to seat the best-situated spectators in town. Directly over their heads was another, gigantic wood structure — a third enclosed newsreel and television stand where the cameras were trained on the President and passing marchers.

The entire million board feet was sold to a salvage firm, which offered the boards, sheathing, shelving, timbers, bridging and other items at public sale beginning the Monday following the Inaugural week-end.

NEW ENROLLMENT RECORD SET AT U. I.

A new all-time record high for second semester enrollment at the University of Idaho has been set this week and late registrations are expected to swell the total even higher.

At the end of formal registration in Memorial Gymnasium on Tuesday, 3,712 students had signed up for classes. Late registrants are expected to carry the new record to about 3,838 students.

The previous record set at the second day of registration last year at second semester was 3,533. A total of 130 late enrollees boosted the 1959 total to 3,663.

"We are about 175 students ahead of where we were at this time last year," said Registrar D.D. DuSault, who reported that enrollment records can be expected to be set each successive year at the University of Idaho.

The second semester record is a bit lower than the first semester enrollment of 4,031 — an all-time high. Universities and colleges usually experience a normal drop in enrollment from the first semester

1950-1960 WAS BOOM DECADE FOR LUMBER INDUSTRIES IN U. S.

U. S. sawmills produced a record breaking volume of lumber in the decade just ended and wood products helped to build nearly 12 million new non-farm homes started during that period, according to the national Lumber manufacturers association.

Lumber also served a vital need in many other types of construction activity which, all told, added an unprecedented 416 millions of dollars worth of new buildings and other projects to our national economy from 1950 to 1960.

Greatest home building year on record for the number of units constructed was 1950, followed closely by the years 1959 and 1955. In terms of total floor area, 1959 probably ranks first.

With publication of the results of the "Timber Resource Review" during the 1950's the federal government confirmed the fact that this nation's forests are growing more wood each year than is being used. Thus the lumber industry and the consuming public received assurance that there is no danger of this country depleting its only renewable resources—a welcome change from earlier gloomy forecasts.

As the value of all new construction activity in the United States, plus maintenance and repairs, climbing to more than $70-billion annually, the 1950 decade experienced less violent swings in annual lumber volume. From the peak output of 38.9 billion board feet recorded in 1950 to the low of 34-billion reached in 1958 was a drop of only 13 percent. By way of contrast, in the depression-torn decade of the 1930's when production fluctuated as much as 60 percent from the peak to the valley, a century low of only 200-billion board feet was produced.

Accelerated growth of many wood products occurred during the 1950 decade. Softwood plywood was a spectacular performer, with production tripling from 2.6 billion square feet in 1950 to an estimated 7.7 billion in 1959. Fir plywood is now rated as the nation's fastest growing non-defense industry. Exhibiting less spectacular but steady growth were the comparatively new board industries producing particle boards, hardboards and insulation boards.

Lumber manufacturers during the years 1950 through 1959 achieved the most productive decade of the twentieth century. National production of lumber totaled 368 billion board feet over the ten-year period or an average of 36.8 billion board feet annually. This was accomplished despite the fact that no single years output equaled the record annual volume of 44.5 billion board feet recorded in 1909.

While chalking up these records, lumber has been able to register smaller increases in its wholesale price index since 1947 than shown in the index for nearly any other major construction material. Lumber is the only construction material that experienced six annual decreases in its average price index during this period. During the 1950 decade, corporations in lumber and wood products had a net profit rate averaging 8.2 per cent of invested capital, compared with an average of 8.8 percent for all manufacturing corporations.

At the same time, average weekly earnings by employees in the lumber industry have consistently outpaced raises in the cost of living during the past decade. Earnings have risen to a rate one-fifth greater than the consumer price index.

THE Bull itin

Published Weekly by the Union Oil Service at Kendrick
W. L. "Bill" Rogers, Editor

HELLO, FOLKS:

Did you read the latest weather report: "Humidity 96 percent!" That means almost as much fuel as if it were bitter cold. So pick up your phone and call us at 4251 — for Union Fuel Oil. We'll be there on the double!

A teacher in school gave her pupils this problem:

"If there are seven flies on your desk, and you kill one, how many will remain?"

"One," promptly answered her most down-to-earth pupil, "the dead one."

Come in and let us drain the winter thin oil out of the crankcase of your car, truck or pickup — and refill it with Royal Triton. You'll be amazed at how smoothly that engine can run!

A young man applying for a police job, was asked what he'd do to break up a hostile crowd. "Take up a collection," he replied. "He got the job!"

Now that mud is deep everywhere, how about tires for your pickup or truck to match the occasion? Come in. We have them, and the price is low!

"Hey, I don't see any street lamps," said a visitor to an old timer. "You told me this village was lighted by electricity."

"It is," replied the old timer, "whenever we have a thunder storm."

Let us grease your car, pickup or truck. We use the proper Union Lubricant for every point — not just one for all!

EXTRA VIGOR, TASTE PUT IN NEW SEEDS

The extra vigor and fine varieties of garden vegetables offered in seed catalogs make them most attractive to the home gardener.

George Woolbury, horticulturist at the University of Idaho, points out that many new hybrids in sweet corn, tomatoes, cucumbers, squash, carrots and other good things of the garden do better and have taste appeal surpassing the varieties of yesterday.

"Hybrids are the productions of painstaking plant breeders who have worked for years to improve our vegetable lines, the horticulturist declares. "Many of them come from experimentation at the Land Grant colleges; others come from commercial seed companies who hire trained plant breeders to find the best crosses and put this hybrid seed on the market. The task of producing seed of this kind in some vegetables is not an easy one."

Most of the best hybrids are well suited to Idaho growing areas.
