THIRD STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL IN DEARY IS BIG SUCCESS

An estimated 2,500 to 3,000 persons were on hand Saturday to enjoy the third annual Strawberry Festival at Deary under clear skies.

Eighty flats of strawberries, topped with more than 17 gallons of whipped cream, were served in advertising Deary as the "Strawberry Capital" of the Inland Empire.

King of the festival was six-year-old Randy Sundstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sundstrom, route 1. His queen, was Melinda Foster, 5, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Foster.

Winning first place in the parade was Deary Garden Club, Clarkia was second. Avon Busy Bees and Park tied for third. Special commendation went to an old fire engine, "Old 97."

In the children's division, first prize went to a group called the Three Bears. "Two Dutch Girls" were second and the Flappers tied for third.

No results were given as to the winner of the trapshoot, which took place behind the grain elevator, about one block from the festival site.

A Little League baseball game also was played during the afternoon.

Although the only livestock visible was horses, everything else to make a person think it might be a county fair was available. Cotton candy, rides, a parade and the King and Queen. It truly was a successful day, with everyone reporting a good time.

A dance climaxed the evening's entertainment. An estimated 1,000 persons in attendance.

MASONS, STARS, PICNIC SUNDAY

The annual Mason and Order of Eastern Star picnic for members and their families was held in the Kendrick park Sunday, June 24, at 12:30 o'clock, with approximately 75 in attendance.

JEANNE CRAIG BECOMES BRIDE OF EDWARD BRIGHTWELL, SAT., JUNE 16

Marriage vows were exchanged on Saturday, June 16, by Jeanne Craig and Edward Brightwell at the Leland Methodist Church. The Rev. F. C. Schmidt officiated at the double-ring, afternoon ceremony, in a floral setting of white snowballs and lavender iris.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Craig of Leland, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brightwell of Benton City, Wash.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a ballerina-length nylon-lace gown with a fingertip veil, a lace crown with seed pearls held the veil. The lace bodice of the gown featured a pearl and sequin trimmed neckline. The skirt was not over satin, with side panels of lace and lace appliques. She wore a cultured pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

Atop a white Bible she carried a bouquet of Lily of the Valley centered with a lavender orchid. For something old she carried a silk handkerchief that had belonged to her maternal great-grandmother; something borrowed was a pair of pearl earrings belonging to the bridegroom's maternal grandmother. Something new was the white Bible presented the bride by her parents. She wore the traditional blue garter, and had a penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Wesley Pike attended her sister as matron of honor. She was attired in a peach colored gown, and carried a bouquet of white roses.

Wayne Morgan, a brother-in-law of the groom served as best man. Ushers were Carol Vincent and Elaine Weyen. Debbie Weyen, a cousin of the bride, and Paula Morgan, a niece of the bridegroom were candlelighters.

Mrs. Burton Souders, Jr., and Mrs. Jack Lohman sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied at the piano by Miss Janice Heimgartner.

The wedding cake was baked by the bride's mother, Mrs. Lloyd Craig, and decorated by an aunt, Mrs. Roy Craig.

After the bride and groom had cut the traditional first piece the cake was cut and served by Mrs. Roy Craig, an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Wayne Morgan, a sister of the bridegroom.

WEATHER REALLY WARMS UP

The question that everyone has been asking for months, "When's it going to warm up?" was answered in no uncertain terms starting last Saturday.

Saturday the thermometer registered a "muggy" 90 degrees.

Sunday, under clear, bright skies the reading was 96 degrees.

Monday, under similar conditions, a reading of 97 degrees was recorded.

Tuesday a reading of 86 degrees was indicated on the "official" thermometer.

Tuesday evening the area was visited with a terrific dust storm. The air was so full of dust it was almost impossible to see across the canyon, and when it ceased, a thick gray blanket lay on porches, patios and parked vehicles — and inside many buildings you "could write your name in the dust!"

The heat dropped the Potlatch river sharply, and it will probably be the little trickle it frequently becomes during the summer months.

Loggers have been able to resume full work, and the big trucks are now rolling steadily through the streets — a sure sign that summer activity is underway.

RAMEYS OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey were honored on Sunday, June 24th, on their Golden Wedding Anniversary. They were married June 27, 1912, at Oakland, California, and resided in Creston, Washington, until 1923, when they moved to Kendrick, and have since resided here.

The anniversary observance began in the morning with the family attending services at the Emmanuel Lutheran Church in Cameron. Beautiful bouquets of roses and peonies were brought by friends, and a bouquet of yellow mums and emmeras were given by the children.

Mr. Ramey surprised his family with a solo, "Just a Closer Walk With Thee," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Oscar Sling.

After a delicious smorgasbord dinner at a local cafe, a reception was held at the home of the son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koepf, with 36 close friends and relatives attending.

Presiding at the reception table were their grandchildren, Skip and Judy Koepf, Marcia and Marilyn Ramey, and Jolene Brammer. Another granddaughter, Mrs. Lynn Heimgartner of Pocatello, Idaho, was unable to be present.

The beautiful three-tiered wedding cake was baked and decorated by Mrs. Theo Meske.

The traditional "money tree" was a part of the occasion.

Hosts and hostesses for the occasion were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ramey, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Koepf, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brammer.

ANOTHER BOOK BY JOHN A. PLATT

Saturday the Gazette completed and delivered to John A. Platt another, but greatly enlarged edition of his book "Whispers From Old Genesee and Echoes of the Salmon River."

This latest edition carries 170 pages, and eight pages of pictures, all but one of which are from old photos or drawings.

Of this edition 100 books were "soft bound" and 200 were taken to Walla Walla to be "hard bound" in a book binding there.

We believe that for those interested in history of the two areas, and in stories of the early days, there is no better reading — for it's not told in the "dry as dust" way of many such books. The expanded edition contains many items of real interest not previously covered.

Copies may be obtained by contacting Mr. Platt, or leaving an order at the Gazette office.

We might add that this is the fourth edition of Mr. Platt's book.

ROAD WORK IS GOING FORWARD

We understand that Goodfellow Bros. of Wenatchee, contractors on the new road link between Juliaetta and Kendrick, expect to have substantially all the grading, draining and culvert work on the link completed today (Wednesday, June 27) and be ready for the rock crusher and surfacing equipment by the end of this week.

The construction has been under way for some time — due to the strike, which tied up operations completely for some time — and caused quite a few broken tires, punctured gas tanks and torn oil pans on the vehicles traveling the link.

Marvin Vincent was a Sunday and over-night guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Beach at Asotin.

Mrs. Bill Weyen and Debbie are staying with Mrs. Kaye Gertie and family at Kendrick for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Dreps were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hunt at Lewiston.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Draper were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Deobald and family at Moscow.

Roger Deobald returned to his home with them, after spending some time here with his grandparents.

Mrs. Keith Thornton and family of Peck spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thornton.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thornton were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Thornton and family of Peck; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thornton and family of Lewiston.

The Ray Thornton family were also Sunday over-night and Monday guests. Mr. and Mrs. Vern Williams and daughters of Pasco were Monday over-night and Tuesday guests.

Mrs. Wilbur Corkill and Eddie visited in the Jesse Thornton home with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Thornton, on Monday morning.

LIONS HOLD INSTALLATION

Wednesday evening of last week the Kendrick Community Lions Club held a three-fold meeting — it was their final session before summer vacation — it was Ladies' Nite — and installation of officers.

Following a delicious smorgasbord dinner served by the School Foods Service Association a report was given on the Locust Blossom Festival. This showed small profits — but lots of good will — so was completely satisfactory.

Installation of officers was then held with W. L. Rogers, former district governor of District E-3 officiating. Installed were:

Robert Watts President
Luther Parks First Vice President
Tom Cox Second Vice President
Norman Lewis Third Vice President
Tail Twisters
James Muscat and Herb Millard
Lion Tamer Bud Elchner
Secretary-Treasurer

Two-year Director Dick Benjamin
The next meeting of the Lions Club will be held on the fourth Wednesday of September.

NEW POSTAL BOXES IN USE

Installation of the new postal boxes and drawers, counter, facing, etc., was completed last week-end by Bob Magnuson, P. M., Frank Abrams and a postal department supervisor.

The results are most attractive — the box and window trim is a soft gray color, with letter slots, etc., marked in black and bronze. The amount of lobby space is cut down considerably to allow more room for boxes, counter, and other appurtenances.

The new boxes all have three-position combinations, and Bob Magnuson says that each day the number of customers having trouble in opening them is decreasing. He adds that they will work considerably better after being used for a time.

It's the first real modernization of the Kendrick office in many, many years, and is greatly appreciated by the patrons.

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN IDAHO gold was discovered in the fabulously rich Boise Basin. In the great boom that followed, this area produced more gold than all of Alaska. Breweries, traditionally, became one of the first industries to be built in early mining cities of the West. The pioneer miners enjoyed beer just as Idahoans today continue to find pleasure in beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer means more than enjoyment to our state. The Brewing Industry contributes more than $1 1/4 million tax dollars to Idaho each year — money that helps support our hospitals, schools and highways.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

UNITED STATES
BREWERS ASSOCIATION, INC.
IDAHO, MONTANA, NEVADA DIVISION

WHO OWNS THE STATE OF IDAHO?

The following is an article that appeared in the "Idaho Education News", telling how much of the state of Idaho its citizens really own, and why our taxes are so high.

Allen P. Jeffries, Administrator of Research and Statistics, State Department of Education, Boise, reported recently to the School Finance and Administration Committee of the Idaho Education Association that the total area of Idaho is 83,558 square miles. Mr. Jeffries' statistics showed that approximately 8.2 percent, or 6,852 square miles of this area, is the property of the State of Idaho, the counties, cities, and non-profit organizations. He further indicated that there are 22,560 square miles, equal to 27 percent of the area of the state, which is privately owned and which bears the property tax burden for the entire state. The remaining 64.8 percent or 54,146 square miles is federally owned and non-taxable property, Mr. Jeffries explained.

According to Mr. Jeffries, Idaho ranks fourth among the fifty states in the percentage of its land which is federally owned, being exceeded only by Alaska, Nevada and Utah in the percentage of property which is owned by the Federal government. Thus it takes the combined federally owned land in 35 states to equal the total federal property in Idaho.

Startling and nearly unbelievable statistics prepared by Mr. Jeffries showed that in addition to the land itself, there are 4,468 federally owned buildings in this state whose original cost was $216,835,000.

If it were possible to pull all related areas in Idaho together, one would find that the counties of Boundary, Bonner, Kootenai, Benewah and parts of Latah, Clearwater and Shoshone counties approximately equal Idaho's non-taxable property which is owned by the state and related agencies such as churches, counties or schools. The area of these counties is about 8.2 percent, or 6,852 square miles of the state.

Counties which have an area approximately the size of the tax paying sections of the state are Idaho, Lewis, NezPerce and parts of Shoshone, Clearwater, Latah, Adams, Valley and Lemhi. These counties equal about 27 percent of the state's total area, or about 22,560 square miles.

The remaining 36 counties, comprising 64.8 percent of the state or 54,146 square miles, equal the non-taxable federal land in Idaho.

INSECT PESTS NOW ON THE MOVE

Chicago — Home gardeners and commercial growers are being alerted to watch out for harmful insects that could severely damage crops. This is the time of year when billions of pests attack nearly all growing things. Farm animals, poultry and even humans are no exception.

The vast army of insects cause billions of dollars worth of damage annually, despite man's declaration of scientific warfare on the insect world. An no one realizes this better than the budding 4-H entomologists.

Some 63,000 strong, they are active in 4-H Clubs in more than half the counties in the U. S., doing their share to prevent or lessen the destruction.

Once into a project, the 4-H'er is confronted with plenty of situations which can be improved through insect control. Club members find the entomological research helpful with other projects. Career possibilities frequently materialize.

For example, a Montana 4-H'er went looking for bugs in Africa for the National Science Foundation. This job, he said, was offered because of his previous experience in the 4-H entomology project, and as an entomological assistant.

In entomology, club members have access to information on insect identification and control, and are instructed in its use. They learn to identify common local pests, and are shown how to collect species for further study.

The local club leader and the extension service agent give direction and leadership to the work. At the end of the club year, projects are evaluated and considered for county, state and national awards given to 4-H by the Hercules Powder Company.

State winners for 1962 will attend the National 4-H Club Congress and also will be eligible for six $400 Hercules scholarships.

NO VACATION FOR SAFE DRIVERS

Boise — Vacation drivers might be divided into two groups like TV characters — the good guys and the bad guys. Unfortunately, there seems to be no triumph for the good guys during the last three minutes of the thrilling episode.

Idahoans have been leading the rest of the nation as outdoor lovers for several generations. As leisure time increases, more and more people are taking to the highways and back roads for week-end fishing trips or picnics to avail themselves of the Gem State's picnic and primitive areas.

On these roads there are no warning or directional signs and no center stripes. There are sharp curves and steep grades, and more often than not there are just two tracks, frequently obstructed by rocks, trees and washouts. Travel is, and should be, extremely slow on these mountain roads. An average speed of 15 to 20 miles an hour is not uncommon.

For the experienced driver, these roads are normally safer than a paved highway. There was a time when Idahoans bragged they could "drive such roads blindfolded." However, with the aid of a few daredevil Sunday drivers, mountain roads are contributing to an alarmingly high increase in one-car, off-the-road crashes. They are part of Idaho's country road system, where the death rate is increasing while the actual highway death rate is going down.

The forethought of these slow roads should not contribute to the

DOWNY MILDEW
NOW APPEARING

Moscow — Downy Mildew, a disease occurring in peas, has been noted in a few locations near the town of Nezperce in Lewis County, and also on the breaks of the Clearwater below Genesee.

Homer Futter, Latah county agent, said the disease should be a minor problem for the growers unless the week-end fisherman's eagerness to get to a mountain lake or stream and cause him to forget speed limits and highway curves. The return home on these same well-marked highways should not allow a driver to become so relieved to be off the bad mountain roads that he forgets all normal caution.

The few hours relaxation in the back country should never be practiced enroute to, or from the favorite camping or fishing spot.

The only proven safety equipment for any vehicle is the driver. Make sure it is not defective.

cloudy, moist weather conditions continue.

Downy Mildew is a fungus that attacks the entire pea plant. It thrives best in temperatures from 32 to 72 degrees, the optimum being 60 degrees. The fungus penetrates only when the plant is wet. Temperatures over 72 degrees, sunlight or dry weather will slow the fungus down.

Early symptoms: Leaves wilt during the day but recover at night. This will occur for several days when finally the entire plant will collapse. Late symptoms of downy mildew on the leaves — the upper surface becomes yellow or brown in irregular spots or blotches. On the lower surface of the leaf the spot or blotch first appears gray in color, turning to violet and almost black. If pods become infected, irregular spots appear. Young pods may turn brown over the entire surface and wilt. The older pods often become deformed. If young plants (less than six inches) should become infected, downy mildew can cause the death of the plant. On older plants, stem infection usually occurs in the new growth.

This fungus lives over from year to year on pea straw, as spores mixed with the seed, or on occasion, in the seed.

Harry Fenwick, state extension plant pathologist notes that no control measures are known to be effective. Several chemicals have been tried in other parts of the world, but none have proven economical to the grower.

FOR BETTER FARM LIVING

A sidewalk is rather simple to build and makes a good project for teenagers of the family to help construct.

Here are a few tips:
Dig the sidewalk bed about three inches deep. Check the drainage. If the soil holds moisture and drainage is poor, dig another six inches and fill with gravel or cinders. If earth is well drained, concrete can be poured after earth has been packed solid with a tamper.

A sidewalk is a good project for teenagers.

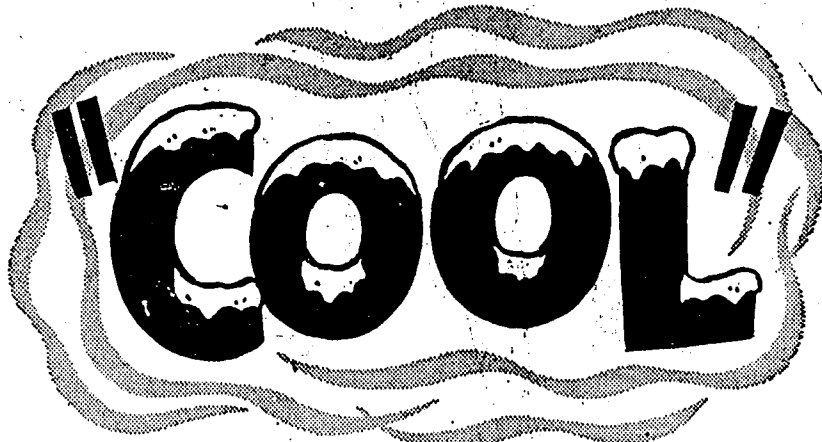

Construct forms of 2 by 4 inch stock. Drive 1 by 2-inch stakes at regular intervals to support the forms. Crosspieces should be located every four or six feet.

The top of the walk should be at least an inch above the ground surface and should be angled from one-fourth to one-half inch for proper drainage. Now you're ready to pour the concrete. Be certain to use the same concrete mixture for the full depth of the sidewalk.

If you've used crosspieces, pour concrete into alternate forms — leaving every other form empty until the filled sections are solid enough to hold their shape. Then take out the crosspieces and fill the empty sections.

Contractors use power-driven trowels to speed completion of their cement work. They are as easy to operate as a power lawn mower. You can probably rent one in your vicinity.

4-H's Tally
Year's Work On Dairy Projects

Raising dairy cattle and demonstrating the use of dairy products in meals are popular 4-H Club projects. Hundreds of girls and boys throughout the state, in checking project results, are probably asking themselves the question a prize-winning dairy-club member asked herself.

"Where would I be today if I had not had the opportunity to join 4-H?" According to the youths' own stories, they learn good health habits, accept responsibility and work with others. And they usually profit from their efforts.

The dairy project is open to boys and girls who have one dairy animal or an established herd. Many young dairy members started with a single heifer, and in 10 years or less built a valuable herd.

Of the 134,000 club members in 50 states enrolled in a dairy animal project today, about a third are girls. This ratio held among the six national dairy scholarship winners last year.

Cows Cooperate

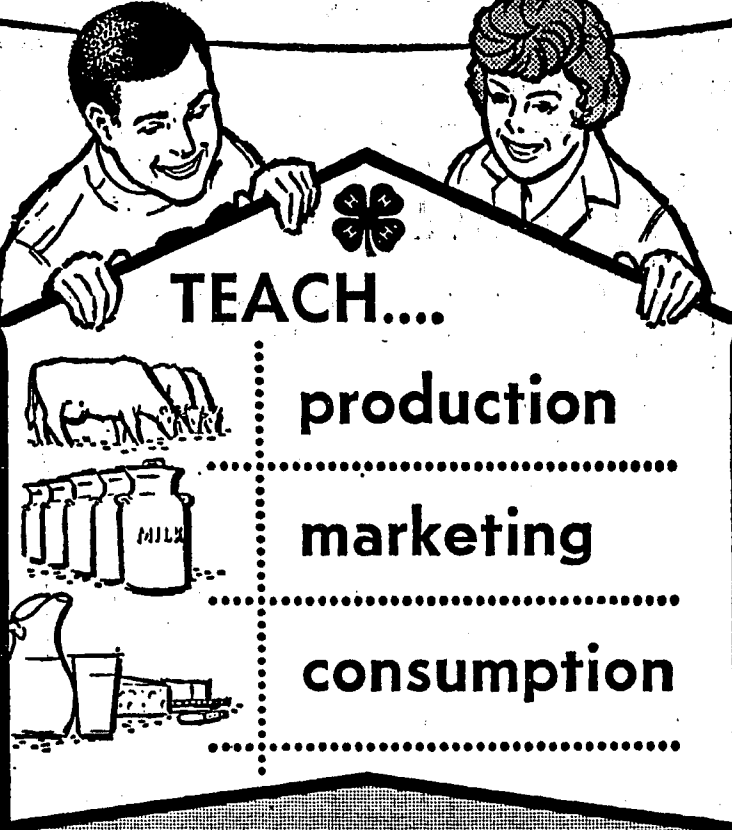

The 4-H's not only learn how to care for dairy animals, but also adopt proven scientific methods of feeding, milking, marketing and breeding.

Showing and judging cattle are exciting aspects of the dairy program, according to the members. Extension dairy specialists, dairy industry personnel and volunteer club leaders help the young people acquire know-how and skills that will enable them to continue a modern dairy operation.

Seeing Leads to Eating

This year an estimated 200,000 club members from Maine to California are participating in the dairy foods demonstration program.

4-H CLUB DAIRY PROJECTS

The "know-how, show-how" project is a favorite of the younger teenagers. Sometimes the girls pair off and work up a team demonstration. Others develop a solo demonstration. Audiences range from a few club members, groups of adults, to television viewers.

Rewards Vary

Among favorite recipes are frosty milk drinks, cottage cheese salads, cakes, sandwich spreads, snacks and party fare. The recipes are double-barreled, youthful meal planners point out, because they are packed with nutrition and good eating.

Each of the 4-H dairy programs has a sponsor that provides incentive awards in the form of medals, wrist watches, educational trips and college scholarships.

This year marks the 15th anniversary of the dairy foods demonstration program sponsorship by the Carnation Company of Los Angeles.

The Oliver Corporation of Chicago, for the sixth straight year, provides the dairy animal program awards.

County, state and national winners are selected by the Cooperative Extension Service, and awards are distributed through the National 4-H Service Committee.

COLUMNS TO BE OPEN TO READERS

During the many years the Gazette has been operated by the McCreary family we have stuck carefully by our "masthead," "Independent in Politics." We have supported local candidates of both parties whom we knew personally, and knew to be good men, and qualified for the positions sought.

However, this year, we are going to digress a bit from this position — we are opposed, frankly and openly to "Gambling Smith," and will support Gov. Robert E. Smylie for the governorship. Frankly, we don't believe in gambling!

However, in order not to be accused of bias, or unwillingness to present "the other fellow's side," the columns of the Gazette will be open to our subscribers for their comment on Smith — pro or con! There are some rules, however. All letters sent in must be signed and dated. No personalities of any kind will be permitted (name calling, etc., or any comment on the opposition's family).

TROY FIBER-LAM

BEGINS PUSH FOR RECOGNITION

Fiber glass laminations, Pick-up Canopies, Boats, and a multitude of other products is the goal of Troy Fiber-Lam, a new firm recently in production at Troy, Idaho.

Plans are rapidly taking shape in a small building once known as the Troy Creamery, for high scale production of fiber glass pickup tops and small boats, plus all kinds of fiber glass laminations.

Within a week or 10 days, the new firm will have a brochure available to the public to tell some of the advantages of their product. The pickup tops and boats will be under the name "Trojan," the name used by the local high school. Their slogan is "Better than the Best — Stronger than the Rest."

As the fulfillment of a four-year plan, the firm was started by a group of businessmen of Troy and surrounding area, who had a desire to stimulate new industry in the area extending throughout the Palouse Empire.

Now in process of incorporation, the firm designs and makes its own molds. At the present time, four sizes of canopies and a one-size row boat are being manufactured. A variety of row boat sizes may be manufactured in the future, but the main objective now is to make a small durable and sturdy fishing boat, designed for people who like to have something to get on the water with, without a large investment, yet have something dependable and reliable.

Although there is only one row boat size, two types may be obtained, a simple row boat, and a row boat supplied with buoyancy tanks and a motor block.

Since anything resins will adhere to can be made, the main interest is the new field of building materials for the future. A clay process, as well as a boat combination — Sail, Motor, or row — is now being worked on.

Among the possibilities for future are: Tractor cabs, shower stalls, paneling, imbedments, film finishing for doors, table tops, trays, patio tops, ski boats and foam plastics for light, fire proof insulations.

VERY TRUE

A floorwalker, tired of his job, gave it up and joined the police force. Several months later a friend asked him how he liked being a policeman.

"Well," he replied, "the pay and hours are good, but what I like most is the fact that the customer is always wrong."

4-H'ERS HAVE MANY PROJECTS

Chicago — The national 4-H Agricultural program with nearly a million 4-H Club members enrolled seeks to encourage boys and girls to take advantage of training offered by extension personnel, local resource people and volunteer 4-H Club leaders.

About a dozen categories relating to farming and the multi-billion dollar agricultural industry are involved in project work supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Sponsorship of the program, including incentive awards, comes from machinery manufacturers, long-time backers of the 4-H movement.

Among the areas covered by the boys and girls participating are forestry, livestock, poultry, crops, entomology, garden, conservation, electric and care of farm machinery.

Again this year $400 scholarships will be awarded to the six highest ranking 4-H'ers from all 50 states. One member in the state will be chosen to attend the 1962 National 4-H Club Congress held in Chicago.

Recognition at the county level includes the presentation of a specially designed 4-H Agricultural medal to as many as four outstanding club members.

For 4-H'ers who go on to college, there are plenty of jobs awaiting them in agriculture and related industries.

According to the Association of Land-Grant Colleges and Universities there were about 7,000 agricultural students graduated last year to fill some 15,000 available jobs.
