

Genesee Loses Good Civic Worker With Transfer Of Chuck Manfred

The Genesee community lost one of the best civic workers it ever had known with the transfer of C. D. Manfred, Burlington-Northern Railway agent to Pullman, Washington, "Chuck" to his many friends began his new duties in Pullman on December 1 after 18 years of service in Genesee.

He came to Genesee as clerk of the Northern Pacific Railway in October of 1952 and during the past 18 years has contributed as much, or more, than any other person to make Genesee a better place to live.

During his stay in Genesee Chuck served as City Clerk for 15 years and was also on the City Council prior to becoming clerk. He was active in the Genesee Civic Association and the old Genesee Merchant's Association, serving as president of each. He was also chairman of the first Genesee Community Day celebration and continued in that capacity for several years, helping to create the yearly event into the success that it is today.

He also coached the town baseball and basketball teams for several years and also found time to coach the St. Mary's Catholic grade school ball teams.

While he found time for almost all worthwhile community affairs, it was with the Genesee Community Firemen, Inc., that Chuck devoted most of his spare time. He served as president of the Firemen for many terms and was one of the main organizers of the annual "feeds" the Firemen sponsor each year as fund raising projects. He was also one of the best and most called-upon ambulance drivers in the department and it is well within the mark to say that more than one person in Genesee and the surrounding community owes their lives to the skill and promptness of C. D. Manfred.

Moving from Genesee, Chuck will leave a void that will be hard to fill. His hard work, his skill, his effort and good, common sense are rare commodities in the world today. The Genesee community owes C. D. Manfred a great deal. A mere "thank you" seems so inadequate for so much, but when it comes truly from the heart of a grateful community maybe he will understand. — BR.

KHS Tigers Looked Encouraging Against Deary Last Tuesday

Coach Wayne Dust is still troubled about the lack of size on his 1970 version of the Kendrick High School Tiger basketball team, but following the Tigers convincing 69-55 win over Deary last Tuesday evening, the KHS coach was breathing a little easier.

"The guys were shooting fairly well and showed good speed," said Dust Tuesday afternoon. "But," he added, "we'll know more about it after tonight's game with Orofino." The Tigers are scheduled to travel to Orofino Tuesday night.

Orofino is 1 and 1 on the season with a loss to Kamiah and a win over Prairie.

Kendrick's hopes lie in their use of the fast break to take advantage of their speed. They will also, Dust said, use a zone defense rather than the man-to-man.

The Tigers hope to have a six-foot plus player on the team were shattered with the announcement that Boyd Candler would not be turning out for the team. This leaves Dave Wilken, at about six-foot as the tallest member of the squad.

Do Nut League Play Going Full Tilt

The Do-Nut League season started with a bang last Saturday, with most of the noise coming from some of the coaches. It seems that some change in team personnel or coaches may have to be made.

Two of the games looked as though they might be lop-sided the first half, but the opposing teams rallied behind an offensive spurt and a superb revamped defensive effort the second half to make very close games. There was only one game won decisively and that was due to a hot shooting young team that scored all but one of the total teams score. This young team was led by Tony Snyder, who is in the fourth grade and scored 14 points while he and his young teammates held their opponents scoreless.

The scores are as follows:
Team 1, Golden Globetrotters, 19;
Team 4, Blue Jays, 8. Tony Snyder 14 for the Globetrotters; Lee Deobald 4, for the Blue Jays.

Team 2, Orange Orangutangs, 22;
Team 5, Purple Panthers, 20. Mike Courtwright 8 for the Orangutangs; Robbie Maynard 14 for the Panthers.
Team 3, Red Devils, 14; Team 4, Green Gobblins, 14. Gene Kimbley 6 for the Red Devils; Tom Laws and Doug Sillow, 4 each for the Gobblins.

The League will take a break from Dec. 19 to January 8 and will start up again January 9th. There will be no games played on the 26th of December or the 2nd of January.

Kendrick Frosh Top Genesee 39-27

Kendrick's Freshman basketball team raced out to a 14-4 bulge in the first quarter and were never behind as they defeated the Genesee Freshmen 39-27, on the Genesee court Monday night, in their first game of the season.

Kendrick was paced by the 15-point effort of Dennis Lukeart with Marty Clemmehagen adding 13 more to the winning effort. Laverne Reed collected 8 points and Eddie Anderson had 3 for Kendrick.

Curtis Hermann scored 19 of Genesee's 27 points with Jeff Boyd, Michols, Mader and Devos each getting 2 points.

Kendrick was ahead 23-15 at the half. Genesee rallied in the third quarter to outscore Kendrick 6 to 3, but the KHS Frosh picked up 13 points in the final quarter while holding Genesee to just 6 to clinch the win.

Due to a mixup in scheduling, Kendrick failed to bring up their Junior High team and were forced to send their reserve frosh squad against the Genesee Jr. High team. Genesee won that contest 29-18.

Genesee Tops Lapwai 65-47; Orofino Over KHS

Genesee won its opening league game Tuesday evening with a 65-47 decision over the visiting Lapwai Wildcats. Genesee is now 2-0 on the season. Down in the valley, the KHS Tigers were in Orofino and came home with the short end of a 74-51 score.

Mike Egland racked up 19 points in pacing the Bulldogs to their 65-47 win over Lapwai. Lapwai started strong and were ahead 19-18 in the early part of the game before the Bulldogs spurted out with 8 points to take a lead they never gave up. In the final quarter, the Wildcats put a full court press on the Bulldogs which resulted in the GHS team using a fast break to score on lay-in shots.

Ron Hopkins scored 13 points for Genesee with Bruce Scharnhorst adding 12 and John Hermann 9.

Mrs. Lee Heath Visits In Costa Rica

Mrs. Lee Heath, Stony Point, recently returned from a one month visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Abel Chacon, other relatives and old school friends in Costa Rica.

On the trip over she flew from Spokane to Chicago, where she visited her son John Schneider and family for five days while having her passport signed, due to an error made by the officials who first issued it to her. From Chicago she flew to Miami, and from there to Costa Rica. On her return home she was accompanied by cousin, Cecelia Soto, who will remain for some time, visiting.

On the return trip they left Costa Rica at 8:30 a. m., arriving in Chicago at 3:00 p. m., Central Time. Leaving Chicago at 5:30 p. m. on Monday. They reached Spokane at 11:00 p. m., having to make a longer stop at Denver, due to extremely windy weather.

Commenting on her home-land of Costa Rica, Mrs. Heath observed it is now springtime there! Another interesting observation was the fact absolutely no "Hippies" are allowed! Any long-haired males are compelled to have their hair cut short, or return to their former land. The residents are forced by law to remain neat and trim!

After a brief, pleasant call at the Ernest Stelgers home Monday morning Mrs. Heath and Cecelia Soto Chacon accompanied Lee to Pullman, where the ladies visited a former friend from Costa Rica, Mrs. Ralph Loomis, wife of a Pullman college professor.

Proposed Management Direction For 173,000-acre Magruder Corridor To Be Circulated For Public View

HAMILTON, MONT.—Bitterroot National Forest Supervisor Orville L. Daniels has announced that a report on the proposed broad management direction for the 173,000-acre Magruder Corridor will be circulated for public review early in 1971.

Following distribution of the proposed management direction report for the Magruder Corridor, public meetings will be conducted to clarify the management direction proposals and to solicit comments, Daniels explained. "The suggested management direction is currently being discussed with elected officials and advisory groups, prior to general public distribution," Daniels said.

"Detailed multiple use management plans will be written after the general management direction has been finalized with the input developed at the public meetings," Daniels said that studies of salmon spawning beds during the past three years have shown relatively high levels of naturally deposited sediment. "Because of this, all development activities should be delayed to allow for a longer study of water quality and sedimentation conditions in the salmon spawning beds. Five years is the minimum time needed to establish a base line of data so that if any change in the environment of the fish occurs, it can be monitored." "In this way," Daniels said, "if any activity started to create adverse impact on the stream, corrective action could be taken immediately."

In general, the management proposal provides for conservative and cautious management and development of the Corridor after the additional data has been collected on the salmon environment, Daniels pointed out. "The Corridor has been found to consist of two distinct and different types of land: an upland area of mostly stable soils and a river-breaks area of mostly erosive soils. Timber harvesting and road building, without damage to the key values of the area, are considered possible only in the uplands."

The Corridor is in the Bitterroot National Forest in northern Idaho, southwest of Hamilton, Montana. The area is bordered on the east by the Montana-Idaho line, on the north by the Selway-Bitterroot Wilderness, on the south by the Salmon River Breaks Primitive Area and on the west by the Nezperce National Forest. The Corridor was a part of the Selway-Bitterroot Primitive Area until 1963, when the primitive area was reclassified as a wilderness and the 173,400-acre Corridor was removed from special classification. In 1967 the Secretary of Agriculture responded to individuals and organizations concerned about plans for management of the area by appointing the Magruder Corridor Review Committee, chaired by the late Dr. George A. Selke. The Secretary's direction to the Forest Service, upon review of the committee's report was to make additional resource inventories and to prepare a more detailed, integrated management plan for the area.

Over the past three years, the personnel of the Bitterroot National Forest, the Idaho Fish and Game Department, the University of Idaho and other resource specialists have made intensive field inventories. The result of this work was published in the "Magruder Corridor Resource Inventory" in May 1970.

Air Pollution Control Is Being Sought

Something is being done about air pollution by industry, according to the Air Pollution Control Commission and the Idaho Department of Health, who work together in this field.

Spokesman point out that when the first regulations were established in 1969, a timetable was set up so industries could meet the new standards. The equipment necessary to control some types of air pollution must be designed individually for different kinds of operations—then manufactured and installed. Industries have paid for the equipment, but the Air Pollution Control staff have worked with them from the beginning to be sure industries were on schedule to meet the deadline, to be sure the equipment would do the job, and provide other technical assistance.

The first deadline is January 1, 1971. This doesn't mean that all smoke will stop. The first deadline is concerned with the most serious problems, Black smoke, Sulphur Dioxide, and Fluoride. Control of these will improve the air pollution situation, but NOT in a way you can always see.

There are other things which other industrial pollutants including industry adds to air pollution. Standards were set in September for (solid particles in smoke) and (opaque or "white" smoke). Again industries will be allowed time to meet a deadline, with regular progress reports. Personnel in Air Pollution Control will monitor plans, give consultation, and check on how well the proposals will meet the problem.

Winter Fishing

Now that the statewide general trout season is over, anglers are reminded that special seasons for some or all fish species in designated places and year-round fishing waters in many parts of the state give opportunities to all wintertime anglers. Check 1970 regulations for details. New regulations for the 1971 calendar year are not effective until January, 1971.

attend, we draw again next week and the winner gets both kittys.

Home Cookin' . .

Genesee business houses are beginning to take on a festive air, and window and interior decorations suggests the approaching holiday season. The Genesee merchants have a very nice line of merchandise suitable for gift giving, so be sure you look at home first, before you buy elsewhere.

So much to be done and planned with in the next two weeks—last minute gifts, wrapping, planning for that extra special family dinner, and something to serve those drop-in-guests—you bet, it all adds up to more hours than we have to spare. Better hurry up and get that candy making and baking out of the way or you'll be burning the midnight oil.

This week's recipes are from Kendrick for home made bread, chocolate cookies and banana nut bread. All three would make delicious last minute gifts. Just wrap them in bright holiday foil and a pretty ribbon.

ENRICHED WHITE BREAD
1 package dry yeast
1/4 cup water
2 cups scalded milk
2 T. sugar
2 tsp. salt
1 T. shortening
6 1/2 to 6 3/4 cups sifted flour
Sorten yeast in water, and combine milk, sugar, salt, shortening. Cool to lukewarm.
Add 2 cups flour, stir well. Add yeast. Add enough flour to make dough stiff. Turn out on lightly floured surface. Knead until smooth and satiny. Cover and let rise 1 1/2 hours.
Punch down, let rise again, about 45 minutes. Shape into loaves. Let rise until double. Bake 400 degrees about 35 minutes or until bread sounds hollow when thumped.

EASY CHOCOLATE NUT DROPS
1 3/4 cups sifted flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon soda
Add: 2/3 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
1/2 cup milk (sweet or sour)
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate
1/4 cup nut meats
Bake 350 degrees over for 15 minutes. Cool and ice with powdered sugar icing. Makes 2 1/2 dozen.

Watch out for patch ice, advises the Idaho State Police. These small areas of extremely slippery ice usually are found on otherwise cleared streets and highways in shaded areas, on bridges or anywhere normal thawing is retarded. Falling leaves, combined with rain and frost make highways slippery, warns the Idaho State Police. Drive with care when traveling on streets or highways covered with leaves.

New Procedures For Veterans Hospitals

Veterans Administration hospitals have simplified procedures for admitting older veterans for treatment of conditions not related to military service, as a result of legislation approved by the President on Oct. 22.

The new law removes, for certain groups of veterans, the requirement to certify that they are unable to pay for hospital care needed for conditions not related to military service.

(There is no such requirement for cases involving treatment of conditions resulting from or aggravated by military service.)

The requirement to sign the statement on inability to pay was removed for all veterans who have reached 65 years of age or older, and for veterans who receive VA pensions.

The new provision applies to all veterans 65 and over seeking hospitalization without regard to whether they served during war or peacetime.

Veterans who receive increased compensation or pension on the basis of being housebound or in need of regular aid and attendance are authorized by the law to receive VA outpatient service as well as necessary medicines and drugs. (Outpatient dental care is not included.)

Prior to the new law, these benefits, with few exceptions, were extended only to veterans with service-connected conditions.

Waterfowl Migrations Up

Some 584,000 mallards were counted on Deer Flat Refuge (Lake Lowell) in southwestern Idaho last week, with another 200,000 counted at various concentration points along the Snake River Plains from the Oregon border to Camas National Wildlife Refuge, including Minidoka and American Falls. Compared with previous statewide mid-winter counts, the current number of migrating ducks in southern Idaho is about 34 percent above the previous 16-year average, and 29 percent above the 1969 level.

What's a wildlife biologist doing on the WWP payroll?

WWP employs a highly qualified, dedicated specialist responsible for the company's activities regarding fish, wildlife conservation and water quality.

WWP recognizes the importance of wise use and preservation of natural resources. For years, WWP has been a leader among the protectors of watersheds, streams, and wildlife. The record includes the building of fish ladders, installation of hatcheries, fire roads, tree farms and cooperative efforts with range and forestry people and universities.

Man, too, deserves a fair share of the benefits of the environment. WWP has provided public camp grounds, fishing waters, boating facilities and other recreational areas along our reservoirs.

As urgent as the protection of the environment is the requirement to meet the area's growing needs for electric power. Together they make a big job but with fair-minded people working together both responsibilities can be met.

ABOVE: Scientific methods are used by a WWP biologist to measure the flow of an Inland Empire stream. This is part of the company's continuing program to improve spawning areas.

Dangers In Reuse of Of Plastic Bottles

Plastic bottles in which household bleach and other products are sold are remarkably handy. Many have handles and convenient pouring spouts.

There is often a temptation to find another use for them when the bleach is gone. The Idaho Medical Association urges, however, that you stop and think a moment before putting some other substance into a bleach bottle.

In the first place, household bleach is a solution of sodium hypochlorite, a poison which is also damaging to eyes and skin.

No matter how carefully it is washed before use, you will be running a risk if you pour tea, coffee, cider or any other drinks from a bleach bottle.

Second, if small children see you pouring drinkable liquids from a

Park Patter

By Mrs. Jody Smith

New Folks

Park's population was increased appreciably with the addition of the Fred Funke family this fall. Mr. and Mrs. Funke and their 6 children, formerly of Lewiston, have rented the Park Ranch, and are a very welcome addition.

Little Game

Hunting season ended on a high note, this year, as more game was harvested the last few days than all the rest of the season. Many, many tags remained unfilled, however, as game evidently hasn't recovered from the bad winter two years ago.

A Holiday "Hi" was sent from Anna and Ellison (Sam) Mitchell at Polson, Montana to all the old friends in this area. Carrying the message were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith and children who spent the weekend visiting them. Mrs. Mitchell is Mrs. Smith's aunt. Apart from slight infirmities due to a long, happy life, the Mitchells are hale and hearty and full of memories by the mile to relate to younger generations.

"Apology" — (If you want more Park Patter, let me know. It's more memory than news, with only 5 families to write about, but I enjoy it if you do. — Jody)

Project Delayed

On the Grangemore-Cow Creek County Secondary project No. S-4782 (7), prime contractor N. A. Degerstrom of Spokane, Wn. has pulled his equipment off of the job for the winter months. Asphalt work will begin some time in the summer of 1971.

Project No. P-4113 (32), White Bird Creek North, is now about ten percent complete, according to Resident Engineer Kay Montgomery of Grangeville. Morrison-Knudsen Co. of Boise, prime contractors, now have a nine inch Robbins drill and two three-inch air track drills working on the rock drilling. Dozers have been excavating material from cuts on the north end of the project and some embankments have been placed. With the aid of pack strings, sub-contractor Cascade Fence Co. of Boise, Idaho is placing fencing materials at various locations along the right of way. The project will be complete some time in 1971, at a cost of $2,219,818.

Big Game Road Kills Amount To Big Waste

Cooperative studies by the Idaho Fish and Game Department and the State Highway Department indicate that hundreds of game birds and animals die in traffic accidents each year.

November, December and May are the months in which deer most often seem to come out second-best to speeding automobiles. In recent years, many thousands of deer met their ends that way in the United States.

Although exact numbers are unobtainable, authorities say that many more are hit and die off the highways or are not reported by people involved in such mishaps. Part of the solution is found in the slogan, "Give wildlife a brake," especially at night in mountainous areas posted with "deer crossing" signs.

The Idaho Fish and Game Department and the State Department of Highways are studying ways to reduce the highway toll of deer, elk, antelope, moose and birds, particularly pheasants. One method places mirrors beside roadways at deer crossings to make animals hesitate before entering when light from a vehicle's headlight is reflected into their eyes.

Public Hearing Will Discuss Water Flow From Hell's Canyon

By Stu Murrell
Regional Conservation Educator

There will be a Corps of Engineers' hearing at 7:00 p. m. on December 15 at the Hotel Lewis-Clark in Lewiston in which conservationists should be vitally concerned. The purpose of the hearing is to discuss present water flows below Hell's Canyon Dam in the Snake River and have people present their views on whether these flows should be increased to protect the environment of the river and provide safe boating.

I should probably explain how these flows are regulated by the Federal Power Commission. When the FPC issues a license for a private power company, in this case Idaho Power Company, they have stipulations in that license on how the project must be operated. The FPC license was issued for all three dams in Hell's Canyon section of the Snake River — Brownlee, Oxbow and Hell's Canyon. In the present license it states that Idaho Power Company can reduce the flows to 5,000 cubic feet per second below Hell's Canyon Dam. There are records available that show Idaho Power Company has even gone below this requirement.

Hell's Canyon Dam is being used for peaking power right now. What this means is that when power needs in a hurry, such as when everyone turns their lights on in the evening, then they open several generators in a hurry and rapid fluctuations occur in the river flow downstream. The 5,000 cfs is below that needed to protect the spawning beds of smallmouth bass, steelhead and salmon utilizing the river margins. It adversely affects all aquatic life, particularly the feed utilized by fish such as crayfish. The daily fluctuation of several feet exposes moss beds that have developed because of added nutrients from return irrigation flows, phosphate, sugar manufacturing, etc., and this daily change kills most of the moss. When the river rises, it washes great gobs of the moss loose, which fouls fishermen's lines and affects the use of the river by all recreationists. Hell's Canyon Dam could be used as a regulating dam to smooth out these flows if Idaho Power Company officials decided to operate it in this manner.

The recreational boater really suffers from these fluctuations with increased danger in navigating the river, damages to his boat, and rising boat insurance costs in the Lewiston area. Corps of Engineer's studies show a minimum flow of 9,500 cubic feet per second is needed for safe boating in the river below Hell's Canyon Dam.

The Chambers of Commerce at Lewiston and Clarkston, and people from Idaho, Washington and Oregon have requested that the Corps of Engineers hold the December 15th hearing to see if a new hearing on the Federal Power Commission license should be held. The combined Chambers have recommended the license be changed to require 10,000 cfs minimum release or the inflow at Brownlee Reservoir, whichever is least. This would provide for safe boating and reduce the effects on the river environment since much less of the margins would be exposed each day, even though there would probably still be some fluctuations.

The irrigation interests of southern Idaho have indicated north Idaho is attempting to take water they could use, but the inflow at Brownlee Reservoir has already passed the irrigated lands at Weiser. In a July 17, 1970 article in the Boise Statesman, Tom Davis, a water engineer in Boise, stated that water records show that in an average year 5 million acre feet of surplus water would be available at Weiser for irrigation development with a minimum flow of 9,500 cfs.

The Idaho Fish and Game Department would like to see minimum flows established that would allow for uses of water other than just irrigation or power. We have examples right now where stream beds are completely dry below dams at certain seasons of the year in Idaho. This occurs on the Snake River below American Falls and Milner Dam and in the Boise River downstream from Lucky Peak Dam. This hearing would provide an opportunity to begin working for adequate minimum flows in Idaho to protect the environment of our rivers.

The Idaho Fish and Game Department encourages people to come and voice their opinions at the hearing, or send a written statement to the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, Building 602, City-County Airport, Walla Walla, Wn. 99382.

One way to succeed without trying. Wait for tomorrow.

Tax the people, tax with care. To help the multi-millionaire. Tax the farmer, tax his fowl. Tax the dog and tax his howl. Tax the hen and tax her egg. And let the bloomin' mudsill beg. A little boy told the local baker that he had sold his mother a loaf of raisin bread and there was a fly in it. The baker said, "Okay, kid, go home and get the fly and I'll give you a raisin for it."

At a party, a young man asked an attractive girl if she'd like a ride home. She smiled and said she would. As they drove off, he man said, "I always enjoy taking a girl home who has experience."

"The girl was shocked and said that she didn't have experience."

"The man said, 'You're not home yet.'"

One cold night, a man took a short cut through a cemetery. He fell into an open grave and could not get himself out.

A few hours later, a drunk wandered by and heard his calls.

"Get me out of here, I'm freezing."

The drunk looked down and said, "No wonder you're cold, you're kicked off all your dirt."

How much a bushel?

You spend a lot of time and money to work the soil, plant and fertilize the wheat, and maintain your equipment. You get a good year with near perfect weather for good growth. In fact, everything is right.

Except your herbicide.

So you end up paying through the weeds for smaller yields. Poorer grades. Less profits. When you could be bringing in a higher grade. Because you're using a more effective, more selective, more profitable herbicide.

Like Bronate.

Bronate is more effective because it kills a broader range of broadleaf weeds. Including the six specific weeds that are the biggest problem for wheat farmers here in the Northwest. Which means you kill Tarweed and Gromwell and Henbit and Dogfennel and Crowfoot. What's more, you don't leave Purple Mustard or any of the mustard family around to rob your wheat of moisture and nutrients like one leading herbicide does.

Bronate is more selective because it doesn't get rid of the wheat while it's getting rid of the weeds. It won't damage the crops or carry over in the soil like another leading herbicide.

Which is what makes Bronate more profitable. Because it brings you a higher yield. A better grade. And more money. It's as simple as that.

All you do is apply Bronate post-emergence. The earlier the better after your crop has reached the 3-leaf stage. Then sit back and watch the wheat grow. Nice and healthy. Weed free.

What it adds up to is this: You only pay $3.45 an acre for Bronate. To get rid of all the broadleaf weeds. To be kind to all the wheat. To bring in a better grade. And to get up to 12 to 20 bushels more per acre. Which is a pretty good investment for the right herbicide.

Don't you think so?

TONGUE THRUST SWALLOWING

Tongue thrust swallowing is an atypical swallowing pattern most often seen in children. It is characterized mainly by the tongue coming between the teeth and lips during swallowing. The teeth are usually apart to some degree and there is excessive tension noted in the lip and chin muscles.

In the normal swallow the tongue is contained entirely within the dental arches and pressure is exerted by the tongue tip on the palatal ridge immediately behind the upper front teeth. The muscles of mastication are contracted to maintain jaw closure (this keeps the teeth together); and there is no tension in the lip and chin muscles.

When one considers that we swallow approximately "twice a minute while awake, and once a minute while asleep, or with a frequency of up to 2000 times daily", each time exerting 5 lbs. of pressure with our tongue, it is not difficult to understand how an incorrect swallowing pattern can cause orthodontia problems.

Abnormal tooth positions and dental facial abnormalities can result from incorrect swallowing. Excessive dental caries can also develop because of difficulty in cleaning poorly aligned teeth.

Often times, if an orthodontia problem is a direct result of tongue thrust swallowing, the orthodontic therapy is delayed until the swallowing pattern is corrected through appropriate therapy. Otherwise, when the orthodontic appliances are removed from the teeth the incorrect swallowing will push the teeth out of alignment again.

Many times articulation deficits accompany tongue thrust swallowing patterns. However, there are instances in which children possessing reverse swallowing patterns do not have associated articulation problems.

Therapy to correct reverse swallowing patterns is available from many speech hearing therapists and orthodontists.

There are many theories relative to the etiologies of tongue thrusting. Included among them are improper bottle feeding during infancy; poor muscle tone and reduced tactile and kinesthetic sensitivity; oral facial structures that cannot accommodate the tongue except in a position of forward thrust; delayed neuromuscular maturation; hereditary factors; etc.

Thaw Turkeys In Refrigerators Is Advice

MOSCOW—The safest way to thaw a turkey is in the refrigerator, according to Dr. John Barnhart, acting head of the food science and technology department at the University of Idaho.

"Birds thawed at just above the freezing point are the least likely to become contaminated by bacteria. The much-to-common practice of thawing a turkey at room temperature is just what harmful bacteria like. Bacteria which can cause food poisoning thrive between 40 and 140 degrees Fahrenheit," Barnhart said.

However, if space in the refrigerator is limited, along with time, birds may be thawed under cold running water—1 1/2 to 3 hours depending on size.

"We're not trying to frighten people, but it is a fact that 67 per cent of food poisoning in the U. S. is caused by bacterial infections. More careful attention to food preparation habits and personal sanitation while preparing foods can eliminate much of the danger," Barnhart stated.

Major bacteria culprits are staphylococcus, clostridium perfringens, and salmonella. Staphylococcus is transferred to foods by humans during preparation, while the other two forms can be carried by foods themselves.

Following are additional tips on avoiding bacteria buildup:

Arrange meal schedules so that the turkey goes into the oven almost immediately after thawing—and onto the table immediately after cooking.

Don't use the same utensils or containers for both raw and cooked foods without first washing them thoroughly. Hands, knives and cutting boards can be major transmitters of bacteria between foods.

Don't stuff the turkey the night before. The dressing will stay warm even in the refrigerator and temperatures will be favorable for bacterial growth. Also, don't partially cook the turkey to save time just before the meal. This practice also puts the bird in the 40 to 140 degree range which bacteria like.

Be especially careful of dressings and gravies. These items should go directly from cooking temperatures in excess of 140 degrees to the table.

Naturally foods will cool somewhat during the meal and immediately after the meal is over. However, be sure you don't leave foods at room temperatures for more than two hours. Large amounts of leftover gravy, dressing and other slow-to-cool foods should be spread shallowly in pans and placed in the refrigerator. After they have cooled, they can be put in more convenient containers for storage.

Late Hunting Season

Late season hunting for both elk and deer is available through December 13 in Big Creek (Unit 26), Middle Fork Salmon (Unit 27), Eight Mile (Unit 75), and Bear Lake (Unit 78). These are all two-deer units. In addition, Skyline Ridge (Unit 66) and Swan Valley (Unit 67) have the second part of split seasons running through December 20, with that part of Swan Valley lying south and east of Highway 31—also open for elk. Both of these are two-deer units. Unit 23 (Little Salmon) reopened December 5 for deer only hunting through December 13, but will be closed for elk.

Lead poisoning can lead to serious illness, mental retardation and death. If you suspect a child may have eaten some substance containing lead, contact your physician.

Wildlife Viewpoint

At about this time every year hunters start showing up at the Fish and Game Office in Lewiston with antlers that they would like to have measured. They shoot a good-sized animal and naturally are interested in knowing if it's big enough to be considered for trophy classification. We have two official measurers at our Lewiston office that are certified by the Boone and Crockett Club for taking official measurements of big game animals, so we see many of these larger trophy racks.

I rather enjoy measuring these heads because I like to see the real outstanding trophies that are taken each fall. Many of the animals that are brought in, however, are not large enough to qualify for trophy classification. Therefore, I'm going to list a few of the rough measurements that an animal should meet in order to be worthy of more exacting measurements.

The Boone and Crockett Club is the official organization that keeps track of the record heads of animals killed on the North American continent. The idea of the Boone and Crockett organization is to locate animals which are outstanding as far as length of points, number of points, circumference of the main beam, and also the uniformity of each side. A deer that has one large side with the other side only mediocre is severely penalized for the one poor side. Therefore, one of the first things to look for is how uniform each side of the antler is. Are the points about the same length? Are there the same number of points or nearly so, on each side? Are there unusual points sticking out at odd angles that aren't normal in position?

If a hunter has shot a deer that is very unusual in number of points and with points sticking out in unusual locations, this animal may qualify as a non-typical. Deer antlers, therefore, have two categories to qualify in—either as a typical trophy or as a non-typical trophy. The other species of game, including elk, only qualify as a typical animal and a freakish looking one is immediately out of the running.

Let me examine a few of the measurements that an elk should roughly equal in order to be worthy of record classification. An elk should have at least six typical points on each side. You would expect the circumference between the first and second points to measure about 8 or 9 inches. The inside spread of the antlers between the main beams at its greatest point should be upwards of 40 inches and more likely upwards of 45 inches. The length of the main beam on each side should be in excess of 50 inches and perhaps closer to 60 inches. If you have an animal that meets these general standards, it is probably close to record size and might be large enough to qualify for Boone and Crockett listing.

It's hard to say exactly what an animal should measure because an animal with 7 points does not have to have quite as long a main beam or as heavy a beam as a six pointer because you have two additional points to measure. The total score for a seven-point bull elk would be the sum of 23 separate measurements measured down to an eighth of an inch. Thus to thoroughly measure an elk, it requires quite a

Hoarseness Could Mean Serious Trouble

Hoarseness is usually an indication of disease in the larynx, or voice box, according to the Idaho Medical Association.

Frequently the trouble is an infection causing acute or chronic laryngitis.

Laryngitis sometimes accompanies a cold or other upper respiratory infection, and the patient may complain of fever, chills, or generalized aches and pains.

Hoarseness can also be an indication of a more serious disease. Cancer of the larynx may cause hoarseness as one of its first symptoms. Other causes of hoarseness are physical injury to the voice box, allergic reactions, disorders of certain glands, an enlarged thyroid, and various infections.

If hoarseness develops suddenly, bit of time and to do it accurately probably means close to two hours work for the official scorer.

I might also list the rough measurements that a whitetail deer should approximate for inclusion in the record book. A whitetail should have at least five typical points on each beam and more is better. The circumference between the burr and the first point should measure upwards of 4 inches. The inside spread would likely be 20 inches or better and the length of the main beam should probably measure upwards of 25 inches. Again a number of measurements are made on each side and differences in corresponding points are subtracted, and any abnormal points are also subtracted. The sum total of all these measurements is the final score. Very few animals will be taken in any one year which will score high enough to qualify for Boone and Crockett recognition. We are planning to have a measuring day some time after the first of the year and will encourage hunters to bring their antlers in at that time for measurement. Officially the animals must be dead 60 days before they can be measured because there is some shrinkage immediately after death and this 60-day waiting period will make the measurements more uniform. These guidelines might give you some idea though for evaluating your own trophies.

When In Rome?

BOISE—Sometime in the late 1970's, according to the Idaho Department of Highways, Americans will enjoy 42,500 miles of Interstate highways.

The ancient Romans would shrug this off and point out that Rome built 54,000 miles of highways which traversed the then known world from Scotland through Asia and Africa.

Some of the problems, rules, and regulations they encountered are not unfamiliar to the twentieth century motorist. For instance, the average American man believes that women are terrible drivers. And the same was true in the Roman Empire centuries before Christ. Roman chariot drivers had to have a drivers license and, at one time, the officials revoked the licenses of women. As a result, the distaff drivers lobbied fiercely for twenty years against the law. It is on record that Cicero himself was prevailed upon to make a speech in the Senate and as a result the women of Rome got their driver licenses restored.

The Romans also issued licenses for chariots, and those who thought they were important wanted low numbers which apparently won them special attention along the roads.

Cross-Eyes Require Special Treatment

Cross-eyes require treatment, and the sooner a physician is consulted, the better, says the Idaho Medical Association.

Children do not outgrow cross-eyes. The only hope for improvement is through proper and early treatment.

Cross-eyes are commonly caused by eye muscles which are not of equal strength. Instead of turning the eyes toward the direction of vision, the weak muscles let the eyes turn inward or outward.

The disorder usually becomes apparent by the sixth year, and if it is not corrected, it can seriously handicap a child.

Prompt medical attention may correct the situation through fitting of glasses, by training, by surgery, or a combination of treatments.

The cross-eyed person is forced to rely on a single eye for most visual work. Since prompt medical attention may give the victim normal vision to the rest of his life, don't delay treatment.

Street Paving Will Be Topic At Next Meeting of Genesee Civic Association

A proposed project that would allow all streets within the city limits of Genesee to be paved will be the subject of the next Genesee Civic Association meeting set for January 28th.

The Genesee City Council has, with the help of W. E. Thompson, Spokane, drawn up a preliminary proposal for such street paving through an L. I. D. (Local Improvement District).

Mr. Thompson will be present at the meeting to answer questions pertaining to the paving of the streets. It is the wishes of the council to have everyone attend this meeting, whether in favor or opposed to having the streets paved.

Gary Turner New Civic President

Gary Turner, Asgrow Seed Company employee, was elected president of the Genesee Civic Association at the annual election of officers held Wednesday evening, December 9. Turner will succeed Leonard Singhouse.

Others officers chosen for the coming year were: Glenda Becker, vice president; Jane Gullison, secretary, and David G. Kuehl, treasurer.

Glenn Shearer, area sales representative for the Burlington Northern, Inc., gave a short talk on the new organization and what effect it will have on future development and service to the area. This talk was followed by a film on the railroad merger. Questions were asked by the Civic group concerning the boxcar shortages on the Genesee line, trends in grain shipping, freight rates, rail service and ICC rulings. Shearer stated that the lack of boxcars this year was caused by a heavy demand for rail equipment that time of year and recent ICC rulings which limit cars to remain idle for any longer than 48 hours.

Street Paving
The association voted to be charged with the responsibility of presenting the proposed street paving project to the residents of Genesee. This would probably involve a LID for handling the cost of repaving, filling, grading and paving all streets now in use in Genesee.

Christmas street decorating in Genesee is scheduled for 9:00 a. m. Saturday, December 12, it was announced. Everyone was urged to assist with this project for the Christmas season. Leon Edwards is project chairman.

It was announced that the consolidated Fund Drive is nearly complete, with the attainment of the $2,500 goal.

Always a Problem

Maintenance of adequate surfacing on city streets has been a problem in Genesee (or any other small town) for many years. Much of the problem stems from the fact that tax money allocated for street paving and repair is just barely enough to keep the streets operable with little thought of improving them. By the time just routine maintenance is carried out on a year-to-year basis plus possibly adding a dust coat during the summer months, the money is used up. Several years ago the city experimented and budgeted enough money to properly surface just one street (this was Laurel Street) a fine rolled surface was applied and the street has been very good with only a minimum of attention needed since then.

The problem with that was that it took almost the entire street allotment to complete the project. The City Council is not entirely responsible for the proposed project. The past years several persons have appeared before the council suggesting the creation of an LID as one possible solution to the street problem. But the council is in a position to examine this proposal, find out costs, and bring it before the taxpayers. This is what the city has done. Whether it is accepted or rejected will rest with the majority of property owners in the city.

Year-Round Leash Law Passed By Kendrick Council

At its last session the Kendrick City Council approved an ordinance which sets forth the year-round leash law for dogs within the city limits. The ordinance replaces the former law which only established a leash law between March 15 and October 15. Effective with its publication in this week's issue of the Gazette, dogs will not be permitted to roam at large in Kendrick at any time.

While the ordinance sets up a year-round leash law, it also provides for a permanent licensing of dogs. Beginning January 1 of 1971, it will only be necessary for residents to purchase one license for the lifetime of the animal. Previously the licenses were due each year.

All licenses will be due January 1, 1971 on all dogs within the city. Fees will be $3.00 for males and spayed females. Unspayed females will be $5.00. The licenses purchased will be good and continue in force and effect for the life of the animal.

The ordinance also provides fines and penalties for violation of the ordinance.

The council passed this new ordinance because of the many complaints from local residents regarding dogs roaming at large.

Tigers Lose, Win In Weekend Play

Kendrick's Tiger basketball team came out of last week-end's hoop competition with a 1-1 record. Friday night they lost a hotly disputed contest to the Lapwai Wildcats in a 94-80 game and returned home to defeat the visiting Timberline Spartans 74-50 Saturday night.

In the Lapwai game, Kendrick fell victim to an almost unbelievable number of fouls, both personal and technical, as the Wildcats scored 56 points in the final half to defeat the Tigers 94-80.

The two teams had battled to a 38-38 deadlock in the first half and then Lapwai came out with a 29 point effort in the third quarter to give them their margin as they capitalized on the many fouls called against the Tigers. Lapwai had a 67-54 advantage going into the final period of play.

Don Parks lead all scorers that evening with 30 points. Dave Hutcherson added 18 more and Kim Trout had 15.

Lapwai won the B game by a 57-26 score.

Top Timberline 74-50
Paced by the 22 point effort of Kim Trout, the Tigers came back home Saturday night and used their speed and hustle to down the Timberline Spartans 74-50. Don Parks and Doug Pratt each added 15 points to boost the Tiger score.

Snow, Ice Make Travel Difficult This Week

A combination of snow and ice made travel difficult across much of the region this week, and also caused a flurry of minor traffic accidents as the area endured the first really hazardous driving weather of the young winter season.

Snow began falling in the higher elevations Thursday night, and continued intermittently throughout the day on Friday. Winds picked up speed Friday and by evening had drifted across the highways enough to make driving on some of the country roads difficult.

The skies cleared Saturday and Sunday and the temperatures climbed into the high 30's and low 40's during the daytime. Temperatures began dropping Sunday afternoon and reached down below the 20's during the night.

Snow started to fall Monday afternoon and continued until after midnight, dumping three inches in Genesee and the higher places and over two inches in Juliaetta and Kendrick. Travel was extremely hazardous Tuesday morning until the temperatures rose enough to turn the snow and ice into a huge pool of slush.

Educational TV Service Soon Available For Juliaetta Elementary School

Business transacted at the regular Trustee meeting of Joint School District No. 283 Wednesday night, Dec. 9th, was reported as follows:

Lloyd Craig appeared before the Board and discussed road hazards on bus routes within the district, which the trustees urged him to correct for the safety of the children.

Bills totaling $4,746.95 were approved for payment. Some of the larger bills were: Mrs. Ted Groseclose, for substitute work $201.00; Northwest Oxygen for shop supplies $245.22; Mobil Oil Corp. for bulk gasoline $504.00; Washington Water Power $826.00; City of Juliaetta $150.00 for water and garbage hauling; Abrams Hardware $823.39 for maintenance.

Delinquent School Lunch charges came under discussion and the Superintendent was given orders to try and collect said bills before taking legal action in the immediate future.

Trustees Newman, Parks and Renfrow reported on progress of construction of an 8 ft by 8 ft building to house a TV translator at Juliaetta, so educational TV programs can be made available for all Elementary students. These men have been donating their time and equipment for this very worthwhile project and programs will soon be beamed to students from the University of Idaho — Station KVID.

Supt. Don Blakeley informed the Trustees that all District 2 Administrators will meet at Kendrick in February for their annual crab feed dinner and business session.

The Trustees approved the application of Delores Polunsky to serve as "Cook's Helper" in the Juliaetta School Lunch program. She replaces Mrs. Hilliard, who recently resigned because of family illness.

Supt. Don A. Blakeley read the State Dept. of Education evaluation of the Home Ec. department, headed by Sharon Hoogland, which was made possible by a recent visit of Helen Wilson from Boise. She rated the department, facilities, equipment and teacher very good.

Trustees Newman, Renfrow and Parks told of professional negotiation talks with Latah county trustees and superintendents at meetings held recently at Moscow and Genesee. These meetings were attended by Representative George Brooke, Sr., and State Board of Education member Elvon Hampton.

Supt. Blakeley reviewed the District policy on drinking and asked for clarification on some points. The Board and Superintendent were unanimous in favoring enforcement of the no drinking policy henceforth.

Lloyd Craig, district highway supervisor and the Superintendent reviewed school dismissal procedures in event of blizzards, which is covered by another release in the last week's issue of the Gazette.

Federal programs were discussed by the Superintendent and the Trustees approved a $1000 grant for libraries. Estimated $428.00. An amount of $211.00 will be spent for library materials in the High School and $217.80 at the Juliaetta Elementary. This is not a matching program on the district's part.

Title III N. D. E. A. was approved also and provided $1,200.00 for the purchase of educational equipment and materials. This amount will be divided equally between the Elementary and Jr.-Sr. High School. The federal government puts up $600.00 which the school district has to match in order to participate. This expenditure was approved in the 1970-71 budget.

The next Trustee meeting will be held January 13, 1971.

Cross-Eyes Require Special Treatment

Cross-eyes require treatment, and the sooner a physician is consulted, the better, says the Idaho Medical Association.

Children do not outgrow cross-eyes. The only hope for improvement is through proper and early treatment.

Cross-eyes are commonly caused by eye muscles which are not of equal strength. Instead of turning the eyes toward the direction of vision, the weak muscles let the eyes turn inward or outward.

The disorder usually becomes apparent by the sixth year, and if it is not corrected, it can seriously handicap a child.

Prompt medical attention may correct the situation through fitting of glasses, by training, by surgery, or a combination of treatments.

The cross-eyed person is forced to rely on a single eye for most visual work. Since prompt medical attention may give the victim normal vision for the rest of his life, don't delay treatment.

Street Paving Will Be Topic At Next Meeting of Genesee Civic Association

A proposed project that would allow all streets within the city limits of Genesee to be paved will be the subject of the next Genesee Civic Association meeting set for January 28th.

The Genesee City Council has, with the help of W. E. Thompson, Spokane, drawn up a preliminary proposal for such street paving through an L. I. D. (Local Improvement District).

Mr. Thompson will be present at the meeting to answer questions pertaining to the paving of the streets. It is the wishes of the council to have everyone attend this meeting, whether in favor or opposed to having the streets paved.

Gary Turner New Civic President

Gary Turner, Asgrow Seed Company employee, was elected president of the Genesee Civic Association at the annual election of officers held Wednesday evening, December 9. Turner will succeed Leonard Singh.

Others officers chosen for the coming year were: Glenda Becker, vice president; Jane Gullison, secretary, and David G. Kuehl, treasurer.

Glenn Shearer, area sales representative for the Burlington Northern, Inc., gave a short talk on the new organization and what effect it will have on future development and service to the area. This talk was followed by a film on the railroad merger. Questions were asked by the Civic group concerning the boxcar shortages on the Genesee line, trends in grain shipping, freight rates, rail service and ICC rulings. Shearer stated that the lack of boxcars for moving grain out of Genesee this year was caused by a heavy demand for rail equipment that time of year and recent ICC rulings which limits cars to remain idle for any longer than 48 hours.

The association voted to be charged with the responsibility of presenting the proposed street paving project to the residents of Genesee. This would probably involve a LID for handling the cost of repairing, filling, grading and paving all streets now in use in Genesee.

Christmas street decorating in Genesee is scheduled for 9:00 a. m. Saturday, December 12. It was announced. Everyone was urged to assist with this project for the Christmas season. Leon Edwards is project chairman.

It was announced that the consolidated Fund Drive is nearly complete, with the attainment of the $2,500 goal.

Year-Round Leash Law Passed By Kendrick Council

At its last session the Kendrick City Council approved an ordinance which sets forth the year-round leash law for dogs within the city limits. The ordinance replaces the former law which only established a leash law between March 15 and October 15. Effective with its publication in this week's issue of the Gazette, dogs will not be permitted to roam at large in Kendrick at any time.

While the ordinance sets up a year-round leash law, it also provides for a permanent licensing of dogs. Beginning January 1 of 1971, it will only be necessary for residents to purchase one license for the lifetime of the animal. Previously the licenses were due each year.

All licenses will be due January 1, 1971 on all dogs within the city. Fees will be $3.00 for males and spayed females. Unspayed females will be $5.00. The licenses purchased will be good and continue in force and effect for the life of the animal.

The ordinance also provides fines and penalties for violation of the ordinance.

The council passed this new ordinance because of the many complaints from local residents regarding dogs roaming at large.

Snow, Ice Make Travel Difficult This Week

A combination of snow and ice made travel difficult across much of the region this week, and also caused a flurry of minor traffic accidents as the area endured the first really hazardous driving weather of the young winter season.

Snow began falling in the higher elevations Thursday night, and continued intermittently throughout the day on Friday. Winds picked up speed Friday and by evening had drifted across the highways enough to make driving on some of the country roads difficult.

The skies cleared Saturday and Sunday and the temperatures climbed into the high 30's and low 40's during the daytime. Temperatures began dropping Sunday afternoon and reached down below the 20's during the night.

Snow started to fall Monday afternoon and continued until after midnight, dumping three inches in Genesee and the higher places and over two inches in Juliaetta and Kendrick. Travel was extremely hazardous Tuesday morning until the temperatures rose enough to turn the snow and ice into a huge pool of slush.

Educational TV Service Soon Available For Juliaetta Elementary School

Business transacted at the regular Trustee meeting of Joint School District No. 283 Wednesday night, Dec. 9th, was reported as follows:

Lloyd Craig appeared before the Board and discussed road hazards on bus routes within the district, which the trustees urged him to correct for the safety of the children.

Bills totaling $4,746.95 were approved for payment. Some of the larger bills were: Mrs. Ted Groseclose, for substitute work $201.00; Northwest Oxygen for shop supplies $245.22; Mobil Oil Corp. for bulk gasoline $504.00; Washington Water Power $826.00; City of Juliaetta $150.00 for water and garbage hauling; Abrams Hardware $823.39 for maintenance.

Delinquent School Lunch charges came under discussion and the Superintendent was given orders to try and collect said bills before taking legal action in the immediate future.

Trustees Newman, Parks and Renfrow reported on progress of construction of an 8 ft by 8 ft building to house a TV translator at Juliaetta, so educational TV programs can be made available for all elementary students. These men have been donating their time and equipment for this very worthwhile project and programs will soon be beamed to students from the University of Idaho — Station KVID.

Supt. Don Blakeley informed the Trustees that all District 2 Administrators will meet at Kendrick in February for their annual crab feed dinner and business session.

The Trustees approved the application of Delores Polunsky to serve as "Cook's Helper" in the Juliaetta School Lunch program. She replaces Mrs. Hilliard, who recently resigned because of family illness.

Supt. Don A. Blakeley read the State Dept. of Education evaluation of the Home Ec. department, headed by Sharon Hoogland, which was made possible by a recent visit of Helen Wilson from Boise. She rated the department, facilities, equipment and teacher very good.

Trustees Newman, Renfrow and Parks told of professional negotiations talks with Latah county trustees and superintendents at meetings held recently at Moscow and Genesee. These meetings were attended by Representative George Brocke, Sr., and State Board of Education member Elvon Hampton.

Supt. Blakeley reviewed the District policy on drinking and asked for clarification on some points. The Board and Superintendent were unanimous in favoring enforcement of the no drinking policy henceforth.

Lloyd Craig, district highway supervisor and the Superintendent reviewed school dismissal procedures in event of blizzards, which is covered by another release in the last week's issue of the Gazette.

Federal programs were discussed by the Superintendent and the Trustees approved a $100,000 grant for Libraries totaling $42,500.

Vendors Order Supplies

One-hundred thirty-four Idaho Fish and Game license vendors have ordered new supplies and qualified otherwise by obtaining new bonds and clearing old accounts. They have automatically been sent 1971 fishing regulations, as well as new forms and vending supplies. All forms have been changed this year because vending commissions have been revised. The standard commission of 5 percent prevails except no commission may be less than 15 cents on any transaction or more than $5.00. These fees affect salmon and steelhead cards, nonresident big game licenses, nonresident bird licenses, all deer tags and one-day fish permits.

Springtime Gobbler Surplus

Department biologists are taking a good look at the feasibility of a spring gobbler hunt on some of the state's introduced turkey flocks, particularly near the original release sites in the lower Salmon River drainage, if these exotic birds continue to flourish. This exotic species, Merriam's wild turkeys was introduced from Colorado in a series of transplant operations beginning January 1961. Altogether a total of 107 birds have been planted on various ranges in Idaho since that date.

Sex identification, which is necessary during a spring gobbler hunting season, is easy and positive on these birds when hunters call them up within shotgun range. Only males respond to the challenge of a hunter. Gobbler's heads turn blood red in the springtime, making identification sure and easy. Spurs on toms in their second year grow out noticeably, and they start their ceremonial strutting to attract hens. Only males have long beards.

Nellie Flubs Again!

The date for the Friendship Club meeting with Mrs. Leslie Heimgartner is this Thursday, not Dec. 7th as stated in last week's issue! Looks like they'd better start the New Year right, doesn't it! Like a better reporter?

"Anyhow" the quilt top, pieced long ago by our Elsie, and Grandma Zumhove, was sent by air mail, to Lewiston, on Monday, after being set together by Mrs. Bob Heimgartner, at Yakima!

Our good news for the week is that our little Mrs. Newt Heath is happily home again with her dog and birds, and reports she is "re-covering nicely!" She returned from St. Joseph's Hospital on Thursday, and is being well cared for by her loved ones.

Sunday dinner guests were son Gordon and 3 of his boys; and grandson Joe Heath, who were assisting with sorting cattle.

Callers during the day included Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Schraufnagel, Lewiston; Mrs. Henry Reil; and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Heath, Nez Perce.

Late in the afternoon, briefly, the four younger children of Gordon Heath, came, after having spent the day up at Uncle Eugene's home, so as not to disturb Grandma! True thoughtfulness! And did they surprise Grandma!

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Steigers were Sunday callers at the Albert Heimgartner home, returning from the afternoon wedding of a neighbor's son, at Lewiston.

For the first time the entire Arne Zumhove family of Lewiston were overnight Saturday guests in Arne's old home, with the Leslie Heimgartners. Their children especially enjoyed the thrill of the farm!

Mr. and Mrs. David Straw and son, also of Lewiston, were Sunday guests and the entire group enjoyed Sunday dinner at the Walter Zumhove home!

Some members of the Helena Brown family visited her on Sunday. We are sorry to be unable to report more accurately.

Emma Weichman and Herman are mailing Xmas cards with a Lenore address this season, so we know they are now settled at Bedrock Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Steigers attended the funeral of Orvil Vance Coffland, held at the Little Chapel of Flowers in Lewiston Orchards, on Thursday, Dec. 10th.

Orvil, the youngest brother of the late George Coffland, brother-in-law of Mrs. Steigers, had been a close friend since the age of 8, he attended his first year of school at Happy Ridge as a pupil of the then "Louie" Brown, later Mrs. George Coffland, in the Culesac area.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steigers, of Puyallup, Wn. unexpectedly arrived on Saturday eve at the E. Steigers home, to collect a recently repaired violin, and bringing a violin shaped tie slide brooch he had made as a result of his ardent Rock-hound hobby! It was Henry's 72 birthday!

The group was joined at Sunday dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Coffland and daughter Susan of Joel; the Ken Steigers family; and Mrs. Hunt Hatch and sons Bryce and Milo, Kamiah. Later, Mr. Hatch again enroute home from Bankok, arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lathrop, Ferdinand, were afternoon and evening guests to greet the Henry Steigers family, oldtime friends at Anatone, Wn.

The arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Steigers for the evening of violin playing and tape recording rounded out a happy day.

After spending the night with the Alvin Steigers family, Henry and Susy returned to Puyallup early in the week.

The Clotis Hoisington, Roy Heimgartner, Wayne Heimgartner and Glen Stevens families all reported "no news" except "getting ready for Xmas!"

Marion Stevens said the grandchildren spent the weekend there, while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Fliger did Xmas shopping for Santa in Spokane.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Heimgartner visited in Cheney, and attended the graduation exercises of son Larry, on Friday, when he received his Bachelor of Arts degree, in Education! Congratulations, Larry!

They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Custer, in Clarkston on Sunday p.m.

We have slush ice along our river banks!

In 1935, when social security began, 33 million workers were covered. Today, 94 million workers are covered by the program.

Home Cookin' . .

In gathering the memory column for this week, I found some recipes that are not only timely, but ones that very few of the younger generation have ever made, or most likely even tasted.

Three recipes for making the famous German cookies, and I know you'll enjoy trying them. A friend of mine who makes these delicious little goodies every year says they are not only time consuming to make, but it also takes a little patience. (what's that?)

From the files of the Genesee News Dec. 17, 1920, P. C. McCreary, publisher

Wherever German people congregate their famous Christmas cookies, known as "pfeffernuesse" ("pepper nuts") are prime favorites. Here are three recipes for making the cakes.

Pfeffernuesse (white)—

Four whole eggs, four yolks, one pound sugar. Beat three-quarters of an hour and add one-half pound almonds (blanched and grated), two ounces citron (cut fine), two ounces orange peel (cut fine), one teaspoon cinnamon (powdered), one teaspoon cloves, (powdered), one pound flour. Mix well, cut out pieces size of walnut and bake on a buttered and dusted pan in moderate oven.

Pfeffernuesse (brown)—

One pint white syrup, seven ounces sugar, seven ounces butter. Boil together, stirring continually. Skim and put aside to cool. Mix two pounds of flour, two teaspoonsful baking powder, one tablespoon Jamaica rum (if there is no objection to its use), three eggs, one dram powdered cloves, one dram powdered cardamoms, add the sirup, mix well, dust with flour and let stand 14 days. Roll out one-third inch thick, cut off small balls. Bake on buttered tin in medium oven 15 to 20 minutes.

Pfeffernuesse—

One-half pound flour, one-half pound sugar, grated rind of one lemon, two drams powdered cinnamon, one dram powdered ginger, one dram powdered white pepper, three eggs (beaten). Mix well, roll out one-third inch thick, cut out small cakes and bake in medium oven.

And for a dessert that sounds different, yet delicious, here's one from the files of Mrs. John Moore, former resident. Thanks Cheryl, for remembering our column and wanting to see it continue. We still miss you!

PINEAPPLE BUBBLE CAKE

1 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 c. plus 2/3 c. sugar
1 1/2 teaspoon soda
2 eggs
1 cup crushed pineapple (drained)
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup canned milk
1/2 cup oleo
1/2 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1/2 teaspoon almond flavoring

Sift flour. 1 1/2 cups sugar and soda together. Beat eggs; add pineapple and juice. Stir in flour mixture, blend well. Pour into ungreased 13x2x2 pan. Bake at 325 degrees for 30 min. Blend milk, oleo, flavorings and remaining sugar; bring to a boil. Pour mixture over hot cake. Sprinkle with coconut if desired.

SPEED KILLS

BOISE—It has been said that the only possible way to build a road upon which no one will be killed in a traffic crash is to make it so bumpy and unmanageable that driving above 10 miles per hour is just about impossible.

In an article for "The Virginia Roadbuilder," Virginia Safety Division Director John T. Hanna said, "Our expressway-type roads bear high speed traffic but because of safety features, controlled access and no pedestrians, mileage death rates are lower than on conventional roads. However, when a crash does occur it is more likely to be fatal because of higher speeds."

There is a mistaken school of thought which contends that speed does not kill and that the dangers of speed are over-emphasized in traffic safety promotion.

"While it is true that speed does not kill," Hanna went on to say, "and cannot kill, force of impact kills and speed is the only medium for building up that force." A driver might evade or circumvent a man-made law but a law of nature such as force of impact, cannot be tampered with.

Force of impact varies as the square of the speed, inexorably creating deadliness at a stepped-up rate. This means that if one increases his speed from 20 miles per hour to 40 and strikes something, he will hit four times, not twice, as hard as he would have at 20. If he triples his speed to 60, he would hit nine times as hard.

Stopping distances also increase heavily with added speed. Under normal conditions, an automobile moving at 20 mph can be stopped in about 40 feet. At 40 mph this distance increases to about 125 instead of 80.

Marker Elk Harvest

Of 91 elk that were live-trapped and color-marked this year on the North Fork of the Clearwater River, including 17 re-traps from other years, just under 8 per cent were shot and reported by hunters this fall. One of the animals had carried a radio transmitter since early summer, one of ten elk outfitted with transmitters on the North Fork of the Clearwater.

Aerial trackers, equipped with a monitoring receiver set, have picked up radio signals or beeps from the elk or other animals, confirming that they still roam the area near the traps. In other words, one out of ten elk carrying transmitters have been reported shot by hunters this fall, and signals from the others have been picked up through the telemetry devices.

Everyone who observes marked animals is urged to report the location and color of the ear patches and/or neck bands. The department does not need the tags or other markers, but does want to know when and where the animal was sighted, or bagged, what color its markings were, and what serial numbers it carried.

Teleservice At Lewiston Social Security Office

"Teleservice?"

To Mrs. Edmonson, Mrs. Frost and Mrs. Peterson, it's not only a new word, but a new and better way to do their job at the social security office. With Teleservice, a person can apply for social security benefits by phone, without taking a step outside his home or office.

The new system saves time for people filing applications.

The personnel in the Lewiston office, are sold on Teleservice. "When an applicant calls first, we can tell him what proofs he will need to support his claim and anticipate any problems," they report.

"In most cases, all the information needed for the application can be taken down during the telephone conversation. Then we send the application to the claimant. He signs it, attaches any necessary proofs, and returns it to us by mail. There are fewer delays in processing the claim, and the claimant usually gets his first check sooner.

"If you're planning to retire soon or file an application for social security disability, survivors, or Medicare benefits, call first. Chances are that a phone call is all that will be needed for you to start getting benefits."

The Lewiston Social Security office is listed in the telephone directory under "Social Security" or "Medicare."

One way to succeed without trying. Wait for tomorrow.
